

HARRIS IS WINNER BY GREAT MAJORITY; RUSSELL-CARSWELL RUNOVER CERTAIN

Ramspeck and Humphries Win in Local Races

WM. M'RAE, STILL, AND ECKFORD LEAD FOR LEGISLATURE

Russell Carries County
by Piling Up Large Leads Over Rivers and Secretary Carswell.

MATTHEWS BEATS NASH IN DEKALB

Harris Takes Both Fulton and DeKalb by Large Majorities in All Sections.

BY HERMAN D. HANCOCK.

While the fifth Georgia congressional district Wednesday was returning Congressman Robert Ramspeck with a large majority to the house of representatives, Fulton voters returned John D. Humphries to the Fulton superior bench. Luther Still, incumbent; William G. McRae, Jr., incumbent; Matthews polled 2,675 votes while Nash had 2,132; James Venable received 214, while W. H. Yarborough received 167.

Figures Incomplete.
Ramspeck continued to pile up his majorities in every precinct as returns from Fulton, DeKalb, Rockdale, Douglas and Campbell came in. They were incomplete, however, but gave Ramspeck 4,118 in Fulton and DeKalb as against 1,772 for Allen M. Pierce, his opponent. In DeKalb Ramspeck got 1,744 while Pierce got 474. In Fulton Ramspeck had 2,374 against 1,298 for Pierce.

Still had a total of 3,903 in 32 of the 39 Fulton county precincts, against 2,034 for Don K. Johnston, 1,347 for Wood, and 1,053 for M. G. Hicks.

McRae led with 2,380, while Jesse B. Simmons had 2,220; Johnny J. Jones, 2,105 and Ezra E. Phillips, who retired in favor of McRae, but whose name appeared on the ballot, got 153.

Eckford's vote on the face of late returns remained at 2,550, while Virgil Adams had 2,407, Bond Almond 2,000 and Swift Tyler, Jr., 1,742. Figures in the legislative races were based on the 32 precincts which had reported.

William J. Harris carried Fulton county with a grand total of 8,197 in 39 of the 39 precincts reporting, while his opponent, former Governor John M. Stilton, had 3,156. In DeKalb Harris had 3,250 and Stilton got 897. All the DeKalb precincts were in.

Richard R. Russell, Jr., held his lead after 34 of the 39 Fulton boxes had reported, with a total of 3,549, while John N. Holder received 2,519. Ed Rivers, 2,387; George Carswell, 1,963, and James A. Perry, 829.

In DeKalb, with returns complete, Russell also led with 1,213; Holder, 1,019; Rivers, 927; Carswell, 741, and Perry, 390.

In the secretary of state race in Fulton county, Carl N. Guess and Nat H. Ballard were running a close race with the issue in doubt as the last few large precincts remained missing this morning. In DeKalb county Guess was leading Ballard by a substantial majority. John Wilson, secretary to Governor Hardman, appeared to be in third place in both Fulton and DeKalb counties.

Judge Edgar E. Pomeroy and Virgil B. Moore were renominated for four-year terms to the Fulton county superior court bench without opposition, and in DeKalb John Wesley Weekes, former member of the legislature, was nominated without opposition as senator from the 34th state senatorial district.

Guess, Phillips.
Frank Guess and D. P. Phillips were renominated without opposition, as were as judge and solicitor, respectively, of the city court of DeKalb.

Congressman Ramspeck Wednesday night issued the following statement: "I am very grateful for the mag-

In Gubernatorial Runover

RICHARD B. RUSSELL, JR. GEORGE H. CARSWELL.

COTTON 'CO-OP' PAYS $500,000

Georgia Growers Receive
Settlement for 1928-29
Deliveries.

Sale of approximately 105,000 bales of 1928 and 1929 cotton to the recently-formed Cotton Stabilization Corporation enabled the Georgia Cotton Growers' Cooperative Association Wednesday to mail 10,000 checks to members for a total of $500,000 in final settlement of deliveries they made for the two crop years named. Announcement of the distribution of the half million dollars to Georgia growers was made by J. E. Conwell, president and general manager of the association, upon receipt of a telegram from the federal farm board announcing the transfer of $501,848.21 to the association's depository.

While advances were made to members by the association on deliveries of cotton made in 1928 and 1929, President Conwell called attention to a statement accompanying the checks to the fact that the final settlement now being made represents a price of approximately 6 cents in excess of the prevailing market.

The sale of cotton by the co-operative was made several weeks ago to the Cotton Stabilization Corporation co-operating with the federal farm board, and involved approximately 90,000 bales of 1929 cotton and more than 15,000 bales of 1928 unsold cotton. Following the sales agreement reached between the cooperative and the federal farm board, the large amount of work involved in the actual moving over of the spot cotton to the Cotton Stabilization Corporation, and then the making up of settlements with all members, has been carried on by the co-operative, the same having been completed within the last few days.

Transaction Completed.
After the completion of this work, the whole transaction was completed Wednesday by the federal farm board paying to the association for payments to its members the balance necessary in order to make settlement on the basis agreed upon. Notice of the same was sent to the association Wednesday by the federal farm board in the following telegram:

"We have today transferred to your depository banks at Atlanta the sum of $501,848.21 as part of settlement which Cotton Stabilization Corporation is making with Georgia Co-operative Association for its purchases of your cotton. This sum will enable you to make final settlement with your members on their 1928 and 1929 cotton."

As to the price members will receive on their cotton under the terms of the settlement, President Conwell stated:

"Our members will receive 15.35c basis middling white 7-8 inch after all carrying and overhead charges have been taken off on their 1929 seasonal pool cotton. The members will receive the same price and same settlement on their 1928 seasonal pool cotton. On the approximately 10,000 bales of 1928 and 1929 optional pool cotton, we have gotten the same price, or 15.35c basis middling, white 7-8 inch, for our members, less association charges and overhead expenses."

It was further pointed out in the statement that the members, in delivering their cotton during the past season, drew 6 to 8 cents a pound on untenderable grades and up to

PRINCIPAL STATE CHIEFS RETAINED, REPORTS INDICATE

Wilson Leading for Secretary of State—Talmadge, Speer, Napier,
Stanley, Duggan Ahead.

John Wilson was leading a field of eight candidates for secretary of state in the state-wide democratic primary Wednesday on the face of incomplete returns at an early hour Thursday morning. Nat H. Ballard held second place in the race, with 54 county unit votes as compared to Wilson's 84. Wilson was ahead in 33 counties, compared to 18 counties which reported Ballard leading.

This contest featured a dozen or more races for statewide offices. In almost all instances the incumbent was leading in each of these races, with the exception of commissioner of pensions, in which John J. Hunt, on the incomplete returns, had secured 164 county unit votes to 30 in the column of his opponent, R. DeT. Lawrence, the incumbent.

Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture; W. J. Speer, state treasurer; George Napier, attorney general; W. B. Harrison, comptroller general; Hal M. Stanley, commissioner of commerce and labor; M. L. Duggan, state superintendent of education, were all leading their opponents by good margins.

S. C. Atkinson Leading.
For associate justice of the supreme court, Samuel C. Atkinson led in 62 counties, with 150 unit votes, while his opponent, Robert S. Blackburn, was ahead in eight counties with 22 unit votes.

Returns from 66 counties in the race for judge of the court of appeals gave Nash R. Broyles, the incumbent, 108 unit votes in 44 counties, compared with 54 unit votes in 22 counties for his opponent, Joseph Quilman.

For the place on the public service commission, Calvin W. Parker, incumbent, was leading in 30 counties with 74 unit votes, while Guy C. Stone had 10 counties in his column with 26 unit votes.

For prison commissioner, 73 counties gave G. A. Jones, incumbent, 57 counties giving him 52 county unit votes; James J. Plynt was leading in eight counties with 18 unit votes; Carl N. Guess led in two counties with 10 unit votes; J. M. Pittner was the leader in four counties with 10 votes; A. R. Henslee led in two counties with 4 unit votes, while the eighth candidate, D. Talmadge, had no unit votes to his credit on the face of these returns.

Speer Carries 74 Counties.
William J. Speer, state treasurer, had 74 counties in his column with a unit vote of 192, compared to five counties with a unit vote of 16 for his opponent, L. P. Pattillo.

George H. Napier, attorney general, according to returns from 79 counties, 14 complete, was ahead in 64 counties with 162 unit votes, while his opponent, Dorey Davis, led in 15 counties with 38 unit votes.

In two of the three congressional districts the incumbents had long leads over their opponents, while returns from the third contested race for congress were too meager to indicate the results.

In the fifth district Congressman Robert C. W. Ramspeck had long leads in Fulton, DeKalb and Rockdale counties over his opponent, Allen M. Pierce, of Atlanta. From the eleventh district came reports that Congressman W. C. Lanford was leading in eight out of nine counties, while his opponent was Dr. A. W. Wilkins.

In the ninth district Congressman Thomas M. Bell, dean of the Georgia delegation, was running slightly behind his opponent, Judge John Woods, on incomplete returns from two counties.

Rains Hamper Reports.
Bad rain and electrical storms in several sections of the state made gathering of reports slower than in any primary in Georgia in many years. With the exceptionally large number of candidates, which necessarily slowed the tabulation of ballots, this made the reports early Thursday morning more incomplete than they have been at the same hour in a primary or election in this state in several decades.

While this condition may result in final returns changing some counties from the column of one candidate to that of another, the reports were considered sufficiently complete to give an accurate indication of the final outcome in practically all races for the statewide offices.

Harris Wins Renomination

U. S. SENATOR WILLIAM J. HARRIS.

Roosevelt Urges Dry Law Repeal

Triplets Named in Honor Of Trio of Candidates
DUBLIN, Ga., Sept. 10.—(UN)—Three of the five candidates for governor, regardless of success or defeat at the polls today, will find their names recorded for the next generation.

Three boys, born today to Mrs. Felton Lowery, were named George Carswell, Ed Rivers and Dick Russell, in honor of Mrs. Lowery's three favorite candidates.

'KIDNAPED' MAN COMES TO COURT

Missing Louisianan Returns and Clears Long of Any Guilt.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 10.—(AP)—With dramatic suddenness the mystery surrounding the disappearance of Samuel Irby and James Terrell was exploded in federal district court today when Irby walked into the courtroom and said he didn't know what all of the tumult was about.

In the presence of Governor Huey P. Long, democratic nominee for the United States senate, who had been accused of having the men kidnapped to prevent their filing suits against him in the closing days of his campaign, Irby said he and Terrell had been down on Grand Isle, off the Louisiana coast, since they left Shreveport last Thursday, and had not been mistreated.

An application for a writ of habeas corpus had been filed in the federal court demanding the delivery of Terrell and Irby in open court. Through counsel, Irby asked that the case be dismissed and a statement was presented to the court as signed by the men saying they had not been held and that Terrell was then on his way to his home in El Dorado, Ark.

Irby testified that he was arrested in a Shreveport hotel, where witnesses had said that he and Terrell had been dragged out handcuffed by state officers and kept in seclusion because he had asked the officers to take him in custody until after the election was over and all "this notoriety had passed over."

The day before going to Shreveport, Irby had testified at a private hearing in the state district court at Baton Rouge about the administration of affairs in the state highway department. The hearing had attracted wide interest but the testimony never was made public.

Governor Long said on the fed-

Unofficial Results In Governor's Race

COUNTIES.	Holder	Russell	Carswell	Perry	Rivers
Appling
Atkinson
Bacon
Baker
Baldwin
Banks
Barrow
Bartow
Ben Hill
Berrien
Bibb
Brantley
Brooks
Brumby
Butts
Bleckley
Bulloch
Burke
Calhoun
Camden
Candler
Carroll
Catoosa
Charlton
Chatham
Chattooga
Chattahoochee
Cherokee
Clarke
Clay
Clayton
Clinch
Cobb
Coffee
Colquitt
Columbia
Cook
Coweta
Crawford
Crisp
Dade
Dawson
DeKalb
Dodge
Dooley
Dougherty
Douglas
Early
Echols
Effingham
Elbert
Emmanuel
Evans
Fannin
Fayette
Floyd
Fulton
Giles
Glascock
Glynn
Grady
Greene
Gwinnett
Habersham
Hall
Hancock
Harrison
Harris
Hart
Heard
Henry Houston
Irwins
Jackson
Jasper
Jeff Davis
Jefferson
Jenkins
Johnson
Jones
Lamar
Lanier
Laurens
Liberty
Lincoln
Long Lowndes
Lumpkin
Macon
Madison
Marion
McClintock
McDuffie
Meriwether
Miller
Mitchell
Monroe
Montgomery
Oglethorpe
Opelika
Paulding
Peach
Pemphix
Pike
Polk
Pulaski
Putnam
Quitman
Rabun
Randolph
Richmond
Rockdale
Seminole Schley
Shenandoah
Spalding
Stephens
Stewart
Sumter
Talbot
Taliaferro
Tattall
Taylor
Terrell
Thomas
Tift
Toombs
Towns
Treutlen
Troup
Turner
Twiggs
Union
Walker
Walton
Ware
Warren
Washington
Wayne
Webster
Wheeler
White
Whitfield
Wilcox
Wilkes
Wilkinson
Worth
Totals	78	126	126	4	80

RIVERS IS THIRD, HOLDER FOURTH IN HEATED RACE

Russell and Carswell,
Leading Field, Each Pile
Up Total of 126 County
Unit Votes.

SLATON CARRIES ONLY TWO COUNTIES

U. S. Senator Has Commanding Lead in 145 of 147 Counties; Rains
Hamper Reporting.

A second primary to select Georgia's next governor loomed as a certainty early Thursday as reports from 161 counties, many of them, however, incomplete, showed Richard B. Russell, Jr., and George H. Carswell running neck and neck in the field of five candidates. E. D. Rivers stood third in the race with John H. Holder and James A. Perry following in the order given.

United States Senator William J. Harris won an overwhelming victory over his opponent, former Governor John M. Stilton. Harris swept the state in all sections, the latest returns from 147 of the 161 counties in the state giving him a commanding lead in all except two counties. This gave Senator Harris 383 county unit votes to four for Stilton, who was leading in only two counties; Evans and Lumpkin.

Figures for Race.
The figures in the governorship race, indicated by the incomplete returns show the following county units for the five candidates:
George H. Carswell, 126 county unit votes.
Richard B. Russell, Jr., 126 county unit votes.
E. D. Rivers, 80 county unit votes.
John N. Holder, 78 county unit votes.
James A. Perry, 4 county unit votes.
The large vote received by George H. Carswell undoubtedly shows that decided backing was given to his plan for the rehabilitation of the state's finances by the reallocation of the automobile license tag tax from the highway department for use in paying the state's back due indebtedness.

Since Richard B. Russell, who, it is indicated, will be in the runover with Carswell, has bitterly opposed the plan, it will undoubtedly be the chief issue between them in that race.

Political observers in Atlanta Wednesday night were of the opinion that

Continued on Page 3, Column 5

The Weather OCCASIONAL SHOWERS.

WASHINGTON—Forecast:
Georgia—Occasional showers Thursday and Friday.

Weather forecast for all cotton states may be found on market pages.

Local Weather Report.

Highest temperature 80
Lowest temperature 71
Mean temperature 76
Normal temperature 74
Rainfall in past 12 hours, inches 0.00
Deficiency since 1st of mo., ins. (0.00)
Deficiency since Jan. 1, ins. (12.36)
Total rainfall since Jan. 1, ins. (23.33)

Dry temperature 71
Wet bulb 69
Relative humidity 90

Reports of Weather Bureau Stations.

STATIONS AND STATE OF WEATHER	Temperature (12 hrs.)	Rain (12 hrs.)
ATLANTA	78	0.00
Augusta, Ga.	78	0.00
Birmingham, Ala.	72	0.00
Boston, Mass.	64	0.00
Buffalo, N. Y.	64	0.00
Charleston, S. C.	78	0.00
Chicago, Ill.	68	0.00
Cincinnati, Ohio	74	0.00
Cleveland, Ohio	74	0.00
Dallas, Texas	80	0.00
Des Moines, Iowa	70	0.00
Denver, Colo.	74	0.00
Detroit, Mich.	70	0.00
Galveston, Texas	84	0.00
Hartford, Conn.	70	0.00
Harrisburg, Pa.	70	0.00
Indianapolis, Ind.	74	0.00
Jacksonville, Fla.	78	0.00
Kansas City, Mo.	74	0.00
Memphis, Tenn.	80	0.00
Mobile, Ala.	78	0.00
Montgomery, Ala.	78	0.00
New Orleans, La.	84	0.00
New York, N. Y.	66	0.00
North Platte, Neb.	74	0.00
Omaha, Neb.	74	0.00
Philadelphia, Pa.	70	0.00</

ARGENTINA PLEDGES FRIENDSHIP TO U. S.

New President Repudiates Nationalistic Policies of Deposed Irigoyen.

(Copyright, 1930, for The Constitution by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)
BY JOSE EVARISTO URIBURU,
President Provisional Government of Argentina.

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 10.—The provisional government of Argentina desires to renew the cordial diplomatic relations with all the peoples of the world and to demonstrate the very friendly sentiments the people of Argentina hold for the United States as soon as an opportunity occurs to do so. We wish to dissipate the unfortunate impression left by the lukewarm attitude adopted in some cases by the former government.

The foregoing statement from Provisional President Urriburu is in response to a cable sent by The Constitution and the North American Newspaper Alliance today, asking him to outline the foreign policy of his government, especially in regard to the United States.

While it is brief, the significance of the reply is unmistakable. The former president, Dr. Hipolito Irigoyen, pursued a different policy in dealing with the United States and all other American republics. He stubbornly refused to observe the amenities between civilized countries by failing to appoint ambassadors and ministers and blocked all efforts to secure unanimous action by Pan-American countries in actually beneficial enterprises.

Many leading Argentines opposed Irigoyen's policies, believing them detrimental to the prestige of their country. It is thought in the Argentine that it was Irigoyen's insistence on these personal views that alienated his own party and proved his downfall.

KELLOGG PLEASSED BY URIBURU STAND.
HOT SPRINGS, Va., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Frank B. Kellogg, former secretary of state whose administration was marked by a keen interest in the Pan-American Union, regards the proposed policy of the provisional president of the Argentine toward the Pan-American Union and the United States as "of great importance not only to Argentina, but to all of the members of the union."

Mr. Kellogg was informed of President Urriburu's proposed policy this morning at this resort, where he is sojourning with Mrs. Kellogg for a month of golf. He issued the following statement:

"I have been informed by the Associated Press that Urriburu, the new president of the Argentine, proposed to make a closer relationship with the United States and the Pan-American Union the keynote of his administration."

"I am very glad to hear this. I am sure the United States has always been anxious for the most intimate and frank relations with the Argentine whose great position among the nations is by our people fully appreciated."

"I am also glad to hear that the Argentine proposes to take part in all of the activities of the Pan-American Union. This is very important not only to the Argentine but to the members of the union and I am sure the attitude of the new president will be greatly appreciated."

"I do not, of course, pretend to speak for the government of the United States, but simply give my personal views as my relations with the Argentine were always very pleasant."

Mr. Kellogg would not comment on a statement by the New York Times that he would accept nomination by the American committee as the successor to Chief Justice Hughes on the World Court.

Beer Making Urged
To Give More Jobs

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 10.—(AP)—The executive committee of the American Federation of Labor has taken under consideration the request of the United Brewery Workers that the council recommend modification of the Volstead act, to permit manufacture of beer containing 2.34 per cent alcohol as a means of relieving unemployment.

William Green, president of the federation, on behalf of the council, expressed satisfaction at news from Washington that immigration would be curtailed temporarily while unemployment is acute. It was revealed that the American Federation of Labor was taking steps to avert trouble in the cotton mill at Danville, Va. According to Mr. Green, the mill owners violated an agreement and reduced wages, refused to deal collectively with the employees and showed discrimination in laying off workers. He declared the federation was endeavoring to bring the workers and owners together to settle their differences.

L. & N. Offers To Cut
Planting Seed Rates

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 10.—The Louisville & Nashville railroad today offered to haul seed for planting eye turnips and kale in the drought areas of Alabama, Tennessee and Kentucky at half the regular rates.

Reduced rates on feed for stock already have been granted by a number of carriers to aid sufferers from the drought. The L. & N. offer, made by A. R. Smith, vice president, in a letter to Maurice R. Reddy, assistant director of the American Red Cross, said the road would haul the seed from any point or origin on its lines or from connecting lines when shipped by or in behalf of the Red Cross to its county representatives in the drought areas of the three states.

Man, Woman Held
On Narcotic Charges

Harry and Alice Bergerson, described by narcotics agents as addicts, were Wednesday held under bonds of $700 and $300, respectively, on charges of violating the Harrison narcotic law. A small quantity of narcotics at their residence, 60 Simpson street, Tuesday night.

the way up the river, when the natives would congregate on the bank, he would wait until the time was ripe and then cut loose with the trumpet. This gave a sportive touch to a serious affair.

The natives also were attracted by the sound of high-powered rifles. These rifles, according to the explorer, shoot dum-dum bullets, striking the natives dum-dum.

Love shot 32 ex-snakes on the journey and shot black monkeys. These monkeys, he said, look like comic paper Irishmen. They have galligallans, or beads growing under their chins. He also bagged three coon snakes and a blow-gun. In demonstrating the blow-gun in his apartment today, he succeeded in breaking three glasses.

Love wore a brown wool suit—the same he wore when he interviewed Edgar Wallace and the Japanese parachute inventor—all through the jungle. People down there, he said, are like California. If you wear white pants and roll your sleeves up, you're considered a traitor.

Old razor blades are the greatest articles of trade in Ecuador, said Love. He can buy snake skins, blow-guns, food, drink, and, yes, even agents, for two or three old blades.

Love will write a book about his experiences in the jungles. It may or may not be a burlesque on other explorers.

"The Guayas river," he said, "is a funny old place; they lay you on your back and throw spears in your face."

Officers Doing Best
To Alleviate Tragedy

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Herman Eller, who rode a freight into town six weeks ago seeking work and didn't find it, is going to ride home to Cheyenne, Wyo., in a passenger train—up in front in the baggage car—in a box—dead.

The police force of suburban Brookfield is paying for the last ride of Herman Eller. There are only eight policemen in Brookfield, counting the chief, but they're paying it, and they are only sorry that Herman Eller can't be riding further back in the train.

Last Saturday Eller, 26 years old, got a letter from his wife in Cheyenne. It said the authorities were going to put her and her family in the poorhouse in a week. It said that rather than that she would kill herself and the children.

After reading the letter, Eller thrust it in his pocket and hurried to the railroad yards. He caught a freight, anxious to get back home and prevent the tragedy that hung over his family.

He slipped from the rods and was crushed. They found his body by the tracks.

Yesterday Chief O'Connor discovered the letter in the latter's coat. He wired $20 to Mrs. Eller out there in Cheyenne. He passed the hat.

And today Herman Eller is going back home.

Ironing Board Serves
To Avert Shooting

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(AP)—An ironing board and the ingenuity of a rookie policeman last night saved the life of Annie Jennings, 25-year-old nurse, after she had spent two hours imprisoned by a crazed suitor.

Squads of police stood baffled outside the house of Howard F. Carson, the demented youth who at the point of a pistol dragged the girl to his upstairs room and threatened to shoot her unless she promised to marry him. Any move to capture him, they feared, would result in instant death for the girl. Carson's parents pleaded with them not to shoot their son through a window—the only solution that appeared.

Finally Patrolman Earl Baker, noticing the short distance between the Carson house and an adjoining laid an ironing board on the rails of the upstairs porch and tipped it across the yard so the youth before he could carry out his threat.

INDEPENDENTS URGE HIGHER GAS PRICES

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Herbert R. MacMillan, president of the California Oil and Gas Association and head of the MacMillan Petroleum Company, in an open letter to Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur, yesterday, said unless the retail gasoline price was raised in California independent producers and refiners would be forced to break agreements to curtail oil production.

The letter to Secretary Wilbur included a copy of one mailed to the Standard Oil Company of California price setter in this district for both crude oil and gasoline.

MacMillan said when the state-wide curtailment agreement was made Standard increased the price of crude oil and refiners curtailed their operations, with a consequent reduction of income.

Traders Love Returns Intact
From Perilous Expedition

BY H. ALLEN SMITH,
United News Staff Correspondent.
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(UN)—Sam Lovey who left the United States three months ago to explore in the jungles of South America, returned to New York Tuesday with many a strange tale to tell, as was expected.

Love, with his wife and 30-foot motor cruiser arrived aboard the Grace liner, Santa Elisa. The only live creature he brought back from the wilds of Ecuador, except his wife, was an ariet, an ariet is a bird, resembling a stork.

Mr. and Mrs. Love went through the hazards of the Guayas river in Ecuador without receiving so much as a scratch. The only live creature he brought back from the wilds of Ecuador, except his wife, was an ariet, an ariet is a bird, resembling a stork.

Mr. and Mrs. Love went through the hazards of the Guayas river in Ecuador without receiving so much as a scratch. The only live creature he brought back from the wilds of Ecuador, except his wife, was an ariet, an ariet is a bird, resembling a stork.

Mr. and Mrs. Love went through the hazards of the Guayas river in Ecuador without receiving so much as a scratch. The only live creature he brought back from the wilds of Ecuador, except his wife, was an ariet, an ariet is a bird, resembling a stork.

Mr. and Mrs. Love went through the hazards of the Guayas river in Ecuador without receiving so much as a scratch. The only live creature he brought back from the wilds of Ecuador, except his wife, was an ariet, an ariet is a bird, resembling a stork.

Mr. and Mrs. Love went through the hazards of the Guayas river in Ecuador without receiving so much as a scratch. The only live creature he brought back from the wilds of Ecuador, except his wife, was an ariet, an ariet is a bird, resembling a stork.

Mr. and Mrs. Love went through the hazards of the Guayas river in Ecuador without receiving so much as a scratch. The only live creature he brought back from the wilds of Ecuador, except his wife, was an ariet, an ariet is a bird, resembling a stork.

Mr. and Mrs. Love went through the hazards of the Guayas river in Ecuador without receiving so much as a scratch. The only live creature he brought back from the wilds of Ecuador, except his wife, was an ariet, an ariet is a bird, resembling a stork.

Mr. and Mrs. Love went through the hazards of the Guayas river in Ecuador without receiving so much as a scratch. The only live creature he brought back from the wilds of Ecuador, except his wife, was an ariet, an ariet is a bird, resembling a stork.

Mr. and Mrs. Love went through the hazards of the Guayas river in Ecuador without receiving so much as a scratch. The only live creature he brought back from the wilds of Ecuador, except his wife, was an ariet, an ariet is a bird, resembling a stork.

Mr. and Mrs. Love went through the hazards of the Guayas river in Ecuador without receiving so much as a scratch. The only live creature he brought back from the wilds of Ecuador, except his wife, was an ariet, an ariet is a bird, resembling a stork.

Mr. and Mrs. Love went through the hazards of the Guayas river in Ecuador without receiving so much as a scratch. The only live creature he brought back from the wilds of Ecuador, except his wife, was an ariet, an ariet is a bird, resembling a stork.

Mr. and Mrs. Love went through the hazards of the Guayas river in Ecuador without receiving so much as a scratch. The only live creature he brought back from the wilds of Ecuador, except his wife, was an ariet, an ariet is a bird, resembling a stork.

Mr. and Mrs. Love went through the hazards of the Guayas river in Ecuador without receiving so much as a scratch. The only live creature he brought back from the wilds of Ecuador, except his wife, was an ariet, an ariet is a bird, resembling a stork.

Mr. and Mrs. Love went through the hazards of the Guayas river in Ecuador without receiving so much as a scratch. The only live creature he brought back from the wilds of Ecuador, except his wife, was an ariet, an ariet is a bird, resembling a stork.

Mr. and Mrs. Love went through the hazards of the Guayas river in Ecuador without receiving so much as a scratch. The only live creature he brought back from the wilds of Ecuador, except his wife, was an ariet, an ariet is a bird, resembling a stork.

Mr. and Mrs. Love went through the hazards of the Guayas river in Ecuador without receiving so much as a scratch. The only live creature he brought back from the wilds of Ecuador, except his wife, was an ariet, an ariet is a bird, resembling a stork.

Mr. and Mrs. Love went through the hazards of the Guayas river in Ecuador without receiving so much as a scratch. The only live creature he brought back from the wilds of Ecuador, except his wife, was an ariet, an ariet is a bird, resembling a stork.

Revolutionary Government
Borrows $18,500,000
From Banks.

BY A. W. FOLGER,
United News Staff Correspondent.
BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 10.—(UN)—The revolutionary government, riding the crest of almost fanatic popular acclaim, floated a short loan with ease today as the initial move toward meeting the critical financial and political problems facing the disturbed nation.

Every one of the 27 banks in Buenos Aires participated in oversubscribing a loan of 50,000,000 paper pesos ($18,500,000) asked by the new cabinet. The banks subscribed $5,000,000 pesos ($2,430,000) altogether.

The subscription was made through the Banco Provincia, and it was announced more money would be offered, if requested by the government.

The loan was for 180 days, bearing five per cent interest. It was believed this popular demonstration of confidence in General Jose Evaristo Urriburu, provisional president, and his ministers who seized power from the unrelenting Irigoyen regime last Saturday, would go far to stabilize Argentina's credit at home and abroad.

The second pressing problem, political in nature, concerned the disposition of Hipolito Irigoyen, deposed president. General Urriburu and his associates intimated they had no desire to hold the elderly erstwhile chief executive, and that they would like to dispose of him in a manner which would prevent his posing as a martyr.

The new cabinet members, considering this somewhat ticklish question, decided to keep Irigoyen in the country. General Urriburu and his associates intimated they had no desire to hold the elderly erstwhile chief executive, and that they would like to dispose of him in a manner which would prevent his posing as a martyr.

The solution was sought at conference during the day.

They reiterated it was essential that the aging statesman be prevented from being held up to the masses as a national martyr—that otherwise the political calm of the country might again be disturbed.

Irigoyen had been permitted to remain in the country, and he was taken to a hospital, retaining in her tent at the fair grounds, Chief Standing Deer and his squaw.

The automobile, driven by R. L. Burgess, turned over twice before catching fire. The chief's wife was seriously injured but had not been taken to a hospital, retaining in her tent at the fair grounds, Chief Standing Deer and his squaw.

Two other Indians, Cain Ross and Will French, received cuts about the face.

Lloyd Running Wolf, one of the players in the ball game, was seriously injured when thrown from the shoulders of one of the players.

Morris Harris, of Ball Play, cut Foster Millaps, of Tellico Plains, in the face during an argument at Tellico Plains Tuesday. His recovery is expected.

FOUR INDIANS HURT
IN AUTOMOBILE CRASH

TELlico PLAINS, Tenn., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Four Indians, here to take part in the annual Indian fair being held at Tellico Plains, were injured when an automobile in which they were riding turned over and was burned at Coker creek yesterday.

Among those hurt were Chief Standing Deer and his squaw.

The automobile, driven by R. L. Burgess, turned over twice before catching fire. The chief's wife was seriously injured but had not been taken to a hospital, retaining in her tent at the fair grounds, Chief Standing Deer and his squaw.

Two other Indians, Cain Ross and Will French, received cuts about the face.

Lloyd Running Wolf, one of the players in the ball game, was seriously injured when thrown from the shoulders of one of the players.

Zeppelin Pays Visit
To Russian Capital

MOSCOW, Sept. 10.—(AP)—The Graf Zeppelin, landing here at noon today paid her first official visit to the soviet capital and was greeted with red flags flying and bands playing proletarian airs.

After a brief visit she left for Germany again.

The dirigible, which had her round-the-world flight last summer sailed across the entire U. S. S. R. from east to west, appeared over Moscow earlier than expected. Her progress was speeded by tail wind and the 27-hour flight from Friedrichshafen, Germany.

After circling low over the city and twirling up over the ancient Kremlin in tribute to the chiefs of the red republic, the Graf came down on October field. About 100,000 holders of special tickets had been waiting for her since early morning.

A detachment of 250 red soldiers held down the dirigible while Dr. Hugo Eckener descended and was greeted by high Russian air officials. Mail was dropped and more taken aboard.

The big guard of soldiers had difficulty in keeping the great crowd from rushing the Graf.

After an exchange of greetings and courtesies, Dr. Eckener climbed on board again. The Graf rose, once more circled over Moscow, and set the downward for the return flight to Friedrichshafen.

National Bank Tax
Action Is Deferred

Application of a ruling of the tax committee of council assessing national banks located in Atlanta on the market value of their stock instead of the book value as carried by the institutions themselves, will be deferred until the next regular meeting of the committee Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 9.

This ruling was made Wednesday afternoon by the committee following a lengthy hearing at which officials of the banks and a group of attorneys appeared to oppose the ruling not to enforce the ruling which would place an extra assessment of about $225,000 a year on the affected firms.

After hearing the arguments, the committee voted to defer action until the next meeting.

Members of the committee also voted to rescind a ruling made at the last meeting, at which the license fee for pressing clubs, agents and dry cleaners was changed. A check-up showed that the change would actually reduce the borough's revenue. Under the most recent recommendation which the committee will file Monday in council, the old ordinance governing license fees for these establishments will be placed again into effect.

18 Arrests Presage
Elections in Poland

WARSAW, Sept. 10.—(AP)—A shouting crowd milled in the streets today as Marshal Joseph Pilsudski, prime minister, minister of war, and "strong man" of Poland, began a political struggle with the opposition party in the chamber of deputies.

The first round was taken by Marshal Pilsudski, who caused the incarceration of former Premier Witos and 17 former deputies in parliament. Political observers said this coup tended to paralyze the opposition's campaign in the elections set for November 16.

At first the opposition was stunned by the blow but they recovered speedily. They first protested to the minister of justice that the arrests were illegal, inasmuch as the law permits such only by order of the court. The minister, however, replied that he was sorry but could do nothing because the authorities had gone over his head in the matter.

Failing in this move, members of the opposition began public protests in Warsaw's streets. Small crowds paraded, singing radical songs and shouting "down with Pilsudski." Preparations were started for a big demonstration to be staged next Saturday.

City Club To Hear
John K. Ottley, Jr.

John K. Ottley, Jr., local representative of Eastern Air Transport, Inc., will be the principal speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the City Club to be held in parlor H on the third floor of the Piedmont hotel at 12:30 o'clock today. Mr. Ottley will speak on the subject, "Air Transportation."

ARGENTINA FLOATS
LARGE LOAN EASILY

Revolutionary Government
Borrows $18,500,000
From Banks.

BY A. W. FOLGER,
United News Staff Correspondent.
BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 10.—(UN)—The revolutionary government, riding the crest of almost fanatic popular acclaim, floated a short loan with ease today as the initial move toward meeting the critical financial and political problems facing the disturbed nation.

Every one of the 27 banks in Buenos Aires participated in oversubscribing a loan of 50,000,000 paper pesos ($18,500,000) asked by the new cabinet. The banks subscribed $5,000,000 pesos ($2,430,000) altogether.

The subscription was made through the Banco Provincia, and it was announced more money would be offered, if requested by the government.

The loan was for 180 days, bearing five per cent interest. It was believed this popular demonstration of confidence in General Jose Evaristo Urriburu, provisional president, and his ministers who seized power from the unrelenting Irigoyen regime last Saturday, would go far to stabilize Argentina's credit at home and abroad.

The second pressing problem, political in nature, concerned the disposition of Hipolito Irigoyen, deposed president. General Urriburu and his associates intimated they had no desire to hold the elderly erstwhile chief executive, and that they would like to dispose of him in a manner which would prevent his posing as a martyr.

The new cabinet members, considering this somewhat ticklish question, decided to keep Irigoyen in the country. General Urriburu and his associates intimated they had no desire to hold the elderly erstwhile chief executive, and that they would like to dispose of him in a manner which would prevent his posing as a martyr.

The solution was sought at conference during the day.

They reiterated it was essential that the aging statesman be prevented from being held up to the masses as a national martyr—that otherwise the political calm of the country might again be disturbed.

Irigoyen had been permitted to remain in the country, and he was taken to a hospital, retaining in her tent at the fair grounds, Chief Standing Deer and his squaw.

Two other Indians, Cain Ross and Will French, received cuts about the face.

Lloyd Running Wolf, one of the players in the ball game, was seriously injured when thrown from the shoulders of one of the players.

Morris Harris, of Ball Play, cut Foster Millaps, of Tellico Plains, in the face during an argument at Tellico Plains Tuesday. His recovery is expected.

FOUR INDIANS HURT
IN AUTOMOBILE CRASH

TELlico PLAINS, Tenn., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Four Indians, here to take part in the annual Indian fair being held at Tellico Plains, were injured when an automobile in which they were riding turned over and was burned at Coker creek yesterday.

Among those hurt were Chief Standing Deer and his squaw.

The automobile, driven by R. L. Burgess, turned over twice before catching fire. The chief's wife was seriously injured but had not been taken to a hospital, retaining in her tent at the fair grounds, Chief Standing Deer and his squaw.

Two other Indians, Cain Ross and Will French, received cuts about the face.

Lloyd Running Wolf, one of the players in the ball game, was seriously injured when thrown from the shoulders of one of the players.

Blast Kills Two.

PORT COLLINS, Col., Sept. 10.—(AP)—The blade of a steam shovel exploded dynamite buried on a mountain inside near Chambers Lake yesterday, killing Julius Nelson and C. H. Larson, the operators. Two men were injured. Workers believed the explosive had been set by a road crew.

MOTHERS WIN!
CHILDREN CHEER!

Young Folks Get Roughage "Vegetable Effect" In Luscious New Cereal

Mothers, supplementing vegetables with "the new, delicious cereal" (roughage) vegetable effect," now win battles at the table that they have lost for years. Little folks applaud! No more grilling, fuss or trouble! Winning flavor makes results assured. If not, entire purchase price refunded by your grocer.

HEINZ new, delicious RICE FLAKES are the answer. Contain vegetable cellulose (same as best vegetables do) which increases in bulk four to six times after eating, forming one of the mildest, gentlest yet most effective types of natural bulk and roughage known to science. Eight years spent by experts in perfecting it. Ask your physician.

Try it with your family. Serve (twice daily) for one week to start the benefits: once daily thereafter to maintain them. Not a bran food. Any normal person can eat HEINZ Rice Flakes daily for a lifetime with only good results. Health habits of both children and adults definitely improved in seven days!

Patented by HEINZ of "57" fame, this unique advantage comes in HEINZ CEREALS ALONE! Be sure, therefore, that you get HEINZ Rice Flakes.

Order your first package now from your grocer (guaranteed, remember). Send post card to us for free booklet, "Children's Future Told in Foods." Tells why adults need them too. Address H. J. Heinz Company, makers of the famous 57 Varieties, Pittsburgh, (Dept. R-8), sole makers of this new triumph in foods.

HEINZ RICE FLAKES
with "Vegetable Effect"

The Winner
Today is
ROGERS

Everybody voted for this home concern—for nearly everybody loves to trade in their clean, attractive stores.

A Big Coffee Value!
Rogers' Santos
COFFEE
Lb. 25c

Big Bread Value!
Rogers'
PONCY
Loaf 7c

Nut Margarin—
Libby's Extra Good
Apple Butter No. 2
Can 19c

Rose Brand
Macaroni Or Reg. Size
Spaghetti Pkg. 5c

Echo-Dr.
Ginger Ale 3 Bottles
Plus Deposit 22c

Springbrook
BUTTER Lb. 43c

Pride of Bedford
String Beans No. 2
Can 10c

Rosedale Delicious
Apple Butter No. 2
Can 10c

For Salads, Sandwiches, Hash, Etc.
Pimentos 4-Oz. Can 8c; 7-Oz. Can 12c

Gelfand's Mayonnaise Large Jar 35c
Med. Jar 19c Small Jar 9c

Gold Dust 3 Pkgs. For 10c

Those better
BEANS with PORK

THIS MIGHT WELL BE EXTENDED SOME

EVANSTON, Ill., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Out here it is a legal sin to teach to play the violin. Under the circumstances, Sergeant Gene Ruland decided yesterday to arrest three violin teachers, their names being John Lindgren, Carl Norton and Walter Faccini.

The sergeant, who spends his time studying up on the old laws, found that in 1875 an ordinance was passed making it unlawful to teach the playing of the violin without a license.

"The law has never been repealed," the sergeant said, "so I only did my duty."

Excursion
Montgomery, Mobile,
Pensacola, New Orleans
AND
Mississippi Gulf Coast
Resorts
Saturday, Sept. 20th

Mobile, Ala. $ 8.00 $15.00
Pensacola, Fla. 8.00 15.00
Pascagoula, Miss. 10.00 15.00
Ocean Springs, Miss. 10.75 15.00
Biloxi, Miss. 10.75 15.00
Gulfport, Miss. 11.50 15.00
Palm Beach, Fla. 12.00 15.00
Bay St. Louis, Miss. 12.25 15.00
New Orleans, La. 12.50 15.00
Montgomery, Ala. $3.50

Good 3

Business Recovery Seen By Well-Known Statistician

Roger W. Babson Tells Conference of Businessmen Price Levels Near an Upturn.

WELLESLEY, Mass., Sept. 10.—A prediction that business will show decided improvement during the coming fall months was made here today by Roger W. Babson, widely known statistician and analyst.

While Mr. Babson refused to make any "long range" predictions of another "boom" period he was positive in his assertion that price levels had drawn very near, if they had not reached rock bottom levels and that a decided upturn was certain to occur within a relatively few weeks.

Though refusing to discuss the outlook for 1931, he told the seventeenth annual national business conference that "the tremendous drop registered by the Babsonchart since last September must soon strike bottom if it has not already done so," and he was confident there would be a definite business pick-up the coming autumn.

"A year ago today, the financial writers stated that all parts of the country were optimistic except Babson Park, which had the 'blues,' Babson said. "Today I should say that most parts of the country have the 'blues,' while Babson Park is optimistic. In making this statement, I am referring only to our general outlook on the immediate situation, without making any long term forecasts one way or the other."

Babson declared that "with the healthy spirit prevailing a year ago, a decline was inevitable, but with the humble spirit existing today, a turn for the better is sure to come."

"At first glance," he continued, "statistics show very poorly at the present time. The subjects, which I gave you a year ago as our barometers of business, then showed for the first seven or eight months of 1929 as follows: Thirty-five subjects showed improvement over the preceding year; 11 subjects showed declines."

"The predominance of optimistic statistics was very favorable. These naturally led the new generation to believe that they were living in a new world, under new conditions, and with new standards. Hence, their mistake in throwing the cycle theory into the scrap heap and recommending common stocks as the most stable and profitable investment."

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—(P)—James (Red) Forsythe, whose photograph has been tentatively identified as that of the man who slew Jake Lingle, Tribune reporter, June 9, has opened negotiations with the state's attorney's office for his surrender.

Forsythe, speaking through an attorney laid down four conditions under which he would give himself up. He must have assurance he will not be mauled by police in an effort to force a confession from him; he must be interviewed only in the presence of his attorney; he must be either booked for murder or given his freedom and a clear bill of health within 24 hours; and he must not be turned over to Judge John H. Lyle, who a year ago sentenced him to a year in jail for gun toting—a sentence Forsythe never served.

The state's attorney has not agreed to accept Forsythe's terms, but has taken steps to accomplish his arrest independently.

Reform School Inmate Guarded After Murder

BOONVILLE, Mo., Sept. 10.—(P) Tony Vinski, 22, of St. Louis, inmate of the state reformatory here, today was in the Missouri penitentiary after having kidnapped and killed C. E. Chrane, for 18 years superintendent of Boonville schools, late yesterday.

Vinski was taken to the prison because officials feared mob violence. Vinski, a houseboy in the home of the reformatory superintendent, Colonel Theodore Ziske, stole a revolver from a locker, slipped away from the reformatory, came upon Chrane in his car and forced Chrane to drive across the Missouri river. After shooting Chrane he threw the body into a field and drove on, only to ditch the car two miles away. A truck driver captured him after a struggle. Vinski was intoxicated. He was serving for robbery.

YOUNG GEORGIANS WIN SAFETY ESSAY HONORS

Awards Made by Highway Education Board.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(P)—Forty pupils and five teachers in public schools of five southern states today were awarded state prizes in the highway education board's annual safety essay and safety lesson contests.

The announcement covered Georgia with 7 prize winning pupils; Alabama 12; Kentucky 9; Florida 6; and Arkansas 6. One teacher from each state was awarded an honor certificate for her lesson on highway safety and the lesson entered in a national competition for a cash prize. The first prize winning essay in each state also was entered in national competition.

Winners in the state contests announced today were: Alabama—Best essay, Myrtle Cline (223 East Seventh street); Bessemer; second, Jean Maas (Arsenal place); Selma; third, James Fitzgerald, Margaret Hacker, Marvin Mitchell, Lillie Mae Powell, Mildred Rush, Harry Harris Wier, and Edna Brasher, all of Birmingham; Jennie R. Young, Selma; Allison Alford, Dothan; and Jesse Wilson, Florence.

Winning teacher, Miss Eleanor Jones Young 410 Mabry street; Selma.

Arkansas—Best essay, Laurence Ruff (208 North Division street); Morrilton; second, Joseph Kordemeier, Morrilton; third, Lula B. Scruggs, Grady; Virginia Barnes, Hamburg; Great E. Moore, Siloam Springs, and John R. Sanders, Blytheville. Winning teacher, Mrs. J. O. Kitchens, Hamburg.

Florida—Best essay, Elizabeth Harrison (622 East Broward Boulevard); Ft. Lauderdale; second, Dorothy Stillwell (648 Idlewild drive); Ft. Lauderdale; third, Alice Wisner, Ft. Lauderdale; Winton King, Brandon; Jackson Lamb, Ft. Lauderdale; and George Hammock (Route A) Clearwater. Winning teacher, Miss Sally F. Hailey (122 South Links avenue) Sarasota.

Georgia—Best essay, James Wilder, Brinson; second, James A. Johnson, Jr., Manchester; third, Charlotte Paxson, Manchester; Bennie Mathis, Clinch; Estelle Browning, Brinson; Virginia Webb, Carrollton, and A. Gene McLarty, Manchester. Winning teacher, Miss Jane Sessions, of Tennille, who teaches at Springfield.

Kentucky—Best essay, Aune Eekles, Horse Cave; second, Katherine S. Gardner (2726 South Fifth street); Louisville; third, Edith West, Somerset; Frieda N. Eversole, and Grace Goldstein, Louisville; Myron Hood, Ludlow; Samuel Vowels, Waverly; Margaret Molohan, Reed, and Dorothy Floyd, Ludlow. Winning teacher, Miss Mozella Troutman, Louisville.

Court Order Delays Slot Machine Fight

An order temporarily restraining city police or the city clerk's office from interfering with lawful operation of slot machines owned by James Brown was signed Wednesday by Judge Virlyn B. Moore, of Fulton superior court, and assigned for a hearing Saturday.

Brown, through a petition filed by his attorney, J. Joe Turner, Jr., charges there is a conspiracy to protect machines operated by an alleged syndicate and to prevent the plaintiff from operating slot machines. He alleges City Clerk J. Henson Tatum has refused to issue a license for his machines, and he has applied for a mandamus to compel issuance of the license. A police court case was made against him after he applied for the mandamus, and the case is still pending. Brown alleges.

The petition charges collusion and conspiracy between certain alleged syndicate, which it is charged operated slot machines on a large scale, and members of the license inspection staff by which, it is charged, the petitioner was persecuted and merchants who permitted his machines to operate in their place, it being alleged that these machines were not "protected" by the syndicate's label or tag.

HIGH COURT TO PASS ON WORLD WAR CASES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(P)—Twelve years after the armistice, the supreme court will have before it for settlement this fall a large number of controversies growing out of the World War, several of them international in character.

The mounting docket of cases awaiting disposal after the court reconvenes October 6, include requests for settlement of war contracts, and the requisitioning of ships, the disposition of alien property, as well as the interpretation of laws affecting veterans.

Russian corporations are asking the highest tribunal to decide whether there is a right to sue the United States for ships which, under construction for them in this country, were requisitioned by the government during the World War.

Italians also are demanding compensation for vessels taken by the government, while firms using water power at Niagara Falls seek to collect from the government money claimed to have been paid when prevented from running their establishments during the period of war preparation.

German claims for property seized during the war continue to come to the court, as well as suits by German owners for royalties collected on their patents during the hostilities.

An effort will be made to have the court decide whether war risk insurance is liable for the debts of veterans, and determine the authority of federal courts to act in insurance matters pending before the veterans' bureau. The authority of the director of the bureau to reduce permanent disability ratings after the passage of the emergency officers' retirement act in 1928 also is questioned.

Cases involving Indians also are before the court. One which has attracted much attention is that of Jackson Barnett, a Creek Indian, who at the age of 78 married a white woman and gave away over $1,000,000. The government, having succeeded in recovering the money, now is attempting to prevent the payment of approximately $215,000 out of his funds as attorney's fees.

Two Are Indicted On Check Charges

As the result of the passing of an alleged worthless check and the failure of a student of a local business college to report for classes, indictments were returned Tuesday against Lelloy D. Ross and Mrs. Shirley T. Hudson, of Washington street, addresses, charging them with passing three counterfeit checks and forgery of a fourth.

The two were arrested early Monday morning by City Detectives F. C. Foster and E. W. Blair, assisted by Sterling Gresham and E. B. Clark, operatives of the Stores Mutual Protective Association. According to police, Mrs. Hudson is alleged to have given a check for $200 to the head of a local business college asking him to hold it in trust, as it had been given to her by her father. She stated she needed $60, according to the school official, as he gave her his personal check for that amount.

When she did not report for her classes and he found the check to be worthless, police were notified. Ross is charged with having written the checks and Mrs. Hudson with passing them. They were jointly indicted as follows: Felony, counterfeit check for $15 cashed at Rich's; felony, counterfeit check for $15 cashed at High's; felony, counterfeit check for $15 cashed at Georgia Music Company; and forgery, forged check for $15 cashed at Davison-Paxon & Company. Both were being held Wednesday on failure to make heavy bonds.

Kurds Suffer Losses In Clash With Turks

ANGORA, Turkey, Sept. 10.—(P)—An announcement was tonight said fighting between Turkish forces and the Kurds on Mount Ararat continued, with heavy losses on the side of the Kurds.

The report said the Kurds left hundreds of dead on the field and that the Turkish soldiers were rounding up scattered bands.

The Turks lost 40 killed and some wounded.

John K. Gewinner Notifies Public He Is Not "Black Shirt"

John K. Gewinner, well known and highly esteemed businessman of Atlanta, wishes it understood that he is not the Gewinner identified with the "Black Shirt" organization.

Mr. Gewinner wants the public to understand this and to that end he requests the Atlanta newspapers to publish the following communication:

"Editor: Constitution. Frequent mention has been made in the columns of the Atlanta newspapers of the activities of Holt J. Gewinner in behalf of the so-called 'Black Shirts' organization, and in connection with other matters more or less connected with the state and federal courts.

"As the name is rather an unusual one, I take this opportunity of letting the public know that I am not the Gewinner mentioned in these reports.

"My business and social life here in Atlanta is an open record to all who know me, and to them this statement is not necessary, but to those who do not know me personally, and who may confuse me with the Gewinner above mentioned, I wish to make it plain that I am an entirely different party without any connection whatsoever, or any sympathy with the activities of the other Gewinner, and this applies to my two sons, John K., Jr., and George H. Gewinner.

"JNO. K. GEWINNER."

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 10, 1930.

VIRGINIA IDENTIFIES CORPSE OF WOMAN

Philadelphian Is Held for Murder of Young Wife.

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 10.—(P)—A body of a young white woman found in the woods on Davis island, Princess Anne county today, by hunters, was identified early tonight by police as that of Mrs. Mabel E. Carter, aged 23, wife of Clyde D. Carter, also known as Solomon Carter, of 727 West Moyamensing avenue, Philadelphia.

Carter was arrested by county and city police on a charge of murder. The couple had been staying with Carter's father on a houseboat near where the body was found.

When first placed under arrest, according to Detective Leon Nowitzky of the Norfolk police department, Carter denied any knowledge of his wife's death. Later, under questioning, according to the detective, Carter said his wife had been accidentally shot about 5 o'clock last Thursday afternoon while en route with him in an automobile from the houseboat to Norfolk, where Mrs. Carter was to take a boat or train for home.

An examination of the body by the Princess Anne county coroner, Dr. Robert Woodhouse, showed the woman had been shot either once or twice with a shotgun, the lead or loads taking effect in the left side of her breast, and three ribs were broken. The body also showed signs of an attempt to destroy it by burning, according to the police.

Carter was brought to the Norfolk city jail after his arrest, and later taken to a hospital as the police believed he had taken poison in an effort to end his life.

According to Detective Nowitzky, Carter said after he and his wife left the houseboat, in an automobile for Norfolk, where Mrs. Carter was to board a boat for New York, he got out of the car for some reason while passing through the woods. While on the ground he sighted a squirrel and asked his wife to hand him a shotgun he had in the car, he told the detective. In some unexplained manner, he said, the weapon was discharged and the load of shot struck Mrs. Carter. The husband said he did not remember what happened after that, and said he had no idea how the body got to the place in the woods where it was found.

found. He denied he had placed it there or sought to burn it.

The Carters are said to have two small children at the Philadelphia address.

Hurley Hears Traditional Cry Of River Travel

BY C. P. WILLIAMSON.

ABOARD U. S. S. MISSISSIPPI, on Mississippi River. Below Thebes, Ill., Sept. 10.—(P)—Guided by the happy river song of soundings with the lead line and its "marks" and "twains" from which the famous writer took his pen name, the Mississippi sped southward today carrying Secretary Hurley and his party on an inspection of the river.

Contrasted with the singing out by boatmen of the river channel's depth at low water, a radio set on the upper deck brought to the secretary messages urging him to visit cities and towns all along the river on his trip to New Orleans. Almost constantly on deck to watch the countryside and army engineers and workers on the river, the secretary today for the first time listened to the songs of the river boatmen as they called out the channel depths in the unusual "mark" method used only on the Father of Waters.

Delayed by a prolonged stop not included in the plans of army engineers, the Mississippi crept through the night with a secret light seeking out landmarks on the bank in order not to lose any more time than necessary on the schedule which will place the secretary and his party in New Orleans September 15.

The stop was made at Grand Tower upon orders of the secretary when the notes of a steam calliope on the river showboat "Cotton Blossom" reached the Mississippi. The secretary and his party witnessed a special performance on the showboat, the first to be encountered on the river.

Upon the advice of Major General Lyttel Brown, chief of army engineers, the secretary invited Harry Jacobs, of the state of Louisiana board of engineers, to explain to him the "Louisiana plan" of flood control. Mr. Hurley planned to receive Jacobs aboard the Mississippi later this week.

Approval of the secretary's action in maintaining the present wage scales for workers on government projects along the Mississippi and tributaries was voiced today by John P. Frey, of the American Federation of Labor, in a telegram to the secretary.

Fletcher Denies G. O. P. Can Win in Florida

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(P)—Senator Fletcher, of Florida, said today in a statement through the democratic national committee that the republicans could not hold Florida because they had never had the state.

Replying to a statement through the women's division of the republican national committee by Mrs. Clara C. Grace, the national committeewoman for Florida, in which she expressed hope they might hold their gains in the state, Fletcher said:

"In the latest registration throughout the state, the republican votes do not exceed 20 per cent of the total vote in the state. They have nominated but very few candidates; these few know they have not the ghost of a chance of being elected. In only one congressional district have they proposed a candidate—a mere gesture. Florida is thoroughly and overwhelmingly democratic."

Basquette's Husband Is Granted Divorce

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 10.—(P)—Lina Basquette, film beauty, and J. P. Everell Marley, were divorced here today.

Marley, a former cameraman, complained of his wife's jealousy. They separated some time ago. Recently when the actress was recovering from an attempted suicide, she told Marley to get a divorce. The suit followed.

Thelma Todd, actress, testified that as recently as last May Miss Basquette threatened to slap Marley's face at a ball because he nodded to a woman acquaintance.

Miss Basquette's first husband was the late Sam Warner, of Warner Brothers, motion picture producers.

COMMERCIAL ART CLASSES

Beginning September 24th, will be offered at Oglethorpe University under the instruction of Fritz P. Zimmer, noted German sculptor. Open to the general public as well as Oglethorpe students. For information call the University.—(Adv.)

Now $885 and up
World's Largest Selling Eight HUDSON
Great
8
ESSEX
70 mile an hour
SUPER-SIX
$650 and up

All Prices F. O. B. Factory, Detroit

HUDSON-ESSEX DEALERS EVERYWHERE

FRONT PAGE NEWS

The announcement of a million dollar building is front page news. The announcement of sixteen million dollar buildings would command streamer headlines in every Georgia newspaper. For sixteen million dollars of construction means work for many men, and income for many families. It is big news.

Georgia Power Company is spending in Georgia sixteen million dollars this year on new construction alone. This is the bill for just one year's work. It does not include the similar amounts for the same purpose which must be spent each year in the future, nor the amounts that have been spent each year in the past—to bring good electric service to the people of this state.

Nor is that building program, which goes steadily forward year by year, the only way in which Georgia Power Company adds to the prosperity of Georgia. As dependable power is brought to more and more communities, industry follows—bringing new payrolls and more jobs. As industry is electrified, each worker can accomplish more in less time, and his earnings grow.

Thus the business of supplying electricity to more than 400 Georgia communities is very directly a business of increasing the happiness and prosperity of Georgia's workers.

GEORGIA
POWER COMPANY

A CITIZEN WHEREVER WE SERVE

LOWER PRICES
BIGGER VALUES
IN
HART SCHAFFNER
& MARX
FALL CLOTHES

Good Taste
In Clothes

---A Service that costs
you nothing here

Getting the costs down is the keynote of most businesses this year---both wholesale and retail.

Hart Schaffner & Marx, always aggressive leaders, are giving us more at wholesale, and we are straining every effort to pass on to you even more than the wholesale saving.

But neither we nor the makers will sacrifice good taste in style, in workmanship, in pattern, simply to meet a price. We insist on good taste in the selection and in the selling of everything in our store, and we lower the costs, too.

ZACHRY

87 Peachtree

nificant loyalty and support of my numerous friends throughout the district. This is their victory, and I shall devote my entire energy towards keeping the faith which they so generously have demonstrated they have in me. I have made many friendships which will ever be treasured as the most valuable of my entire life, and I promise again my efforts to obtain those things to which this district, the greatest in the south, is entitled, and my personal services to the entire constituency.

John J. Hunt was sweeping Fulton county in his race for pension commissioner against the incumbent, Colonel L. deT. Lawrence. In DeKalb county, likewise, Hunt was far in the lead. In these two counties Hunt was carrying practically every precinct.

Colonel George M. Napier, the attorney-general, in his race for reelection against Dorsey Davis, was in the lead with voters, though in one majority as 22 Fulton and 17 DeKalb precincts reported.

A commanding lead which Colonel William J. Speer has held from the beginning of the count in Fulton and DeKalb counties was increased as the returns kept coming in, his majority being about three to one with scattering boxes yet to come in.

For prison commissioner, the race between G. A. Johns and Hill C. Tuggle in Fulton and DeKalb was close with 20 Fulton and 10 DeKalb boxes yet to report.

Calvin W. Parker was leading Guy C. Stone early this morning in Fulton and carrying practically every precinct in DeKalb by from fair to large majorities.

For associate justice of the Georgia supreme court, Justice Samuel C. Atkinson was in the lead in both DeKalb and Fulton counties, over Robert B. Blackburn.

Judge Nash R. Broyles, incumbent, was leading Joe Quillian for the court of appeals place in Fulton and by about two to one majority in the DeKalb districts.

GEORGIA COTTON CO-OP MEMBERS PAID $500,000

Continued from First Page.

15.35 cents basis midding, white 7-8 inch in tenderable cotton, midding settlement, the association is bringing up the advance or payment on all tenderable cotton to all members to 15.35 cents basis midding, white 7-8 inch, as well as making additional payments to those members who delivered cotton of good staple, and on which full payments were not made during delivery season. In 1928, the association advanced approximately 12 cents a pound to its members on their cotton and the advance, or payment, all of this cotton is being raised to 15.35 cents basis midding white 7-8 inch in accordance with the sale made by the cooperative.

Mr. Conwell, in commenting on the settlement being made, stated further: "We feel we have made a very satisfactory sale of our members' cotton, in view of the fact that the net price received by the member is approximately 6 cents a pound more than the prevailing price. Besides our cotton, as well as the cotton of all the other co-operatives that is being turned over to the farm board and the Cotton Stabilization Corporation, is not being sold and thrown on the market, but is remaining in our warehouses and compresses in this state and at other points throughout the south, since it is our policy not to sell such large quantities of cotton at a time when prices are so far below the cost of production."

Membership Gaining

Continuing, Mr. Conwell stated: "Our deliveries and new members being received daily are far in excess of what we have ever received at the same period of the year. During the last week or ten days, we have been receiving approximately 2,500 bales of cotton a day, and members in middle and north Georgia have just begun to gin and ship cotton. We are advancing in the seasonal pool 90 per cent of the present market value of cotton, and this, coupled with the growing interest on the part of farmers and business men in the necessity of organizing for the proper merchandising of their cotton, accounts largely for the increase in deliveries now being received by the cooperative, as well as for so many of our farmers joining the association who heretofore have not been members.

Each member of the association is being mailed with his check a final settlement statement showing the weight, grade, color, staple and price received on each bale of his cotton, as well as a full explanation of the same in a letter which reads in part as follows:

No Deductions. "As you will note by studying your statement, you are being paid 15.35 cents net and nothing is being deducted from that amount for storage, insurance, interest and overhead expenses of the association. So, as a matter of fact, you are receiving for your cotton 15.35 cents, or considerably more when association expenses are taken into consideration. Besides, when members delivered cotton of good staple they are receiving staple premiums over and above 15.35 cents, which is for midding cotton—that is only 7-8 inch.

Last year was the first year that the federal farm board operated and helped cotton growers. The farm board loaned us enough money, after we had secured primary loans from banks, so that we could make a liberal advance on cotton during last season. We continued to make this advance on cotton as delivered until the latter part of April. While we were making this advance last season the price of cotton declined and continued to do so until today it is selling for a disastrous price to cotton growers and below the cost of production. In order to handle the cotton that was delivered last season to the federal farm board, in cooperation with the cooperative, the Cotton Stabilization Corporation took over our cotton that we had on hand at the end of last season, and this has enabled us to make settlement with all members.

Huge Quantity. "The work of making this settlement in this state has involved the proposition of handling accounts for thousands of members and involved more than 100,000 bales of cotton. The Federal farm board and the Cotton Stabilization Corporation also have had the same problem with all of the other cotton co-operatives in the cotton belt. It has taken some time longer than we thought it would take at first to work out all the details and to get the settlement statements made out and the checks prepared for mailing to all members. I am glad to state that the farm board at this time is co-operating with us in a very satisfactory manner. We are able now, as you probably know, to make an advance of 90 per cent of the present market value of cotton by reason of the fact that we have the different cotton co-operatives organized and because of the assistance being given by the federal farm board. This advance applies to seasonal pool cotton and will remain in effect until a change of conditions justifies a change in the advance.

"As stated above, the farm board has started out this season to help cotton growers by loaning them money organized and to enable us to realize a fairer price for the same than it is now bringing. I believe that the farm board will take at least as much if not a little more interest in this problem that is so important to our cotton producers, as the farmers and businessmen in the south take in the question.

Gain Greatest Benefit. "The cotton must be organized so that it can be merchandised and handled in a businesslike manner if our farmers are to expect to get the full benefit of the service that can be rendered by the federal farm board. Last season a very large number of our members realized this and it was due to a great extent to their co-operation that your association received approximately 120,000 bales of cotton, or twice the amount that was received during the previous season. I am glad to see this same spirit among our members exhibiting itself more and more at this time than ever before.

"During the last few weeks at meetings and with members personally, I have had an opportunity to go over our final settlement with a very large number of our members. I am glad to say that I would like to say in this connection that our association is on the soundest basis that it has ever been. I have had eight years' experience now in handling cotton. During the last few months we have built an overhauled sales organization—that is the American Cotton Co-operative Association—with the assistance and advice of the federal farm board and we are better prepared to handle cotton than ever before."

AMERICA RETAINS POLO SUPREMACY
Continued from First Page.

long, hard-hitting, back-handed, from off side, with the ball frequently swinging from one end of the field to the other at a clip that kept the crowd dizzy.

The British defense held up as well as it could, but when at last the American attack hit its fastest pace and Pelley suddenly turned into a Daniel Boone using a rifle, there was nothing to be done about it. He scored six of the last eight goals and that tells you something of the shattering accuracy of his aim, although on several occasions the brilliant supporting work of Hitchcock, Hopping and Guest gave him chances that he rarely missed. In fact the entire play of the American side was of the highest order, hitting with a blaze that has yet to be equalled in any international match.

In the battle through the first four periods was one of the fiercest that polo has ever seen. Both sides rode themselves out, taking any desperate chance that might be needed to meet the situation fairly.

The first wild charge of the British and the big crowd in an uproar. With Lacey and Roark leading the attack, they broke through the United States defense with a crash to take an early lead.

There followed the spectacular comeback of the American side in the second period. Captain Hitchcock's team was trailing by two goals when they in turn put on a counter-attack the British could not hold at bay.

Just after Hitchcock had scored the first goal of the afternoon, only a few moments after the game had started, Roark came back with a great shot from 40 yards away, and then Lacey, riding like the wind and hitting like a Cobb, added more. Here was a different team—a team that had the trick could possibly be turned.

A great lateral, diagonal wallop of 80 yards by Hitchcock added the second American goal in the second

Leaders in Races for State House Offices in State Primary

JOHN WILSON

CAPTAIN W. J. SPEER

W. B. HARRISON

GEORGE NAPIER

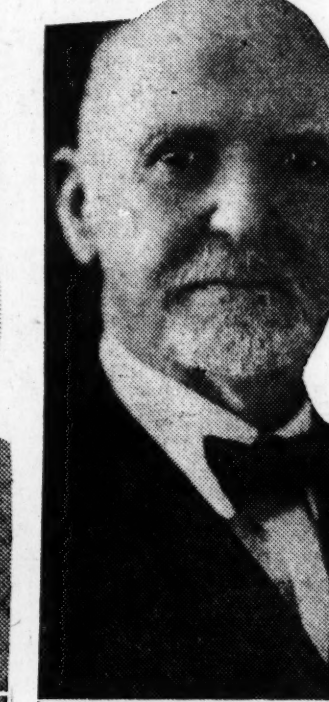

EUGENE TALMADGE

JUDGE SAMUEL C. ATKINSON

HAL M. STANLEY

JUDGE JOHN J. HUNT

JUDGE G. A. JOHNS

DR. M. L. DUGGAN

On the face of partial returns from Wednesday's statewide democratic primary, the state's leaders in the various races for state house offices. Several races were close and final returns may alter the result. Indicated winners, however, are John Wilson, secretary of state; Captain W. J. Speer, state treasurer; W. B. Harrison, comptroller-general; George Napier, attorney general; Eugene Talmadge, commissioner of agriculture; Dr. M. L. Duggan, superintendent of education; Hal M. Stanley, commissioner of commerce and labor; Judge John J. Hunt, pension commissioner; Judge G. A. Johns, prison commissioner; Judge Samuel C. Atkinson, associate justice, supreme court. Judge Nash R. Broyles was apparently re-elected chief justice of the court of appeals, and Calvin W. Parker is leading for the public service commission.

last few months we have built an overhauled sales organization—that is the American Cotton Co-operative Association—with the assistance and advice of the federal farm board and we are better prepared to handle cotton than ever before."

AMERICA RETAINS POLO SUPREMACY
Continued from First Page.

long, hard-hitting, back-handed, from off side, with the ball frequently swinging from one end of the field to the other at a clip that kept the crowd dizzy.

The British defense held up as well as it could, but when at last the American attack hit its fastest pace and Pelley suddenly turned into a Daniel Boone using a rifle, there was nothing to be done about it. He scored six of the last eight goals and that tells you something of the shattering accuracy of his aim, although on several occasions the brilliant supporting work of Hitchcock, Hopping and Guest gave him chances that he rarely missed. In fact the entire play of the American side was of the highest order, hitting with a blaze that has yet to be equalled in any international match.

In the battle through the first four periods was one of the fiercest that polo has ever seen. Both sides rode themselves out, taking any desperate chance that might be needed to meet the situation fairly.

The first wild charge of the British and the big crowd in an uproar. With Lacey and Roark leading the attack, they broke through the United States defense with a crash to take an early lead.

There followed the spectacular comeback of the American side in the second period. Captain Hitchcock's team was trailing by two goals when they in turn put on a counter-attack the British could not hold at bay.

Just after Hitchcock had scored the first goal of the afternoon, only a few moments after the game had started, Roark came back with a great shot from 40 yards away, and then Lacey, riding like the wind and hitting like a Cobb, added more. Here was a different team—a team that had the trick could possibly be turned.

A great lateral, diagonal wallop of 80 yards by Hitchcock added the second American goal in the second period, and then Pelley came through to tie the count, 3 and 3.

By this time the 40,000 spectators were in a froth. The excitement increased in the third period when Great Britain carried the ball 300 yards across the field and Gerald Baiding drove it between the posts to take the lead again. Right after this the brilliant Lacey captured the ball, fed it along and then scored on a fine shot.

So here the Americans were trailing again. Once more they were two goals behind, facing an offense that more than matched their own for hard riding, accurate hitting and fury of attack. But the deficit did not last long. Hopping got his chance from a good, husky wallop and then followed this up to score from 10 yards.

A few minutes later the American side had the ball near the British goal in one of the wildest scrambles of the day.

Guinness hit out with only a foot spare, but Pelley sent it back and Hitchcock just flicked it over, the ball coming from the post and over by only a foot.

This tied it up, and then Guest scored later to put the United States ahead at the end of the fourth period by 6 to 5.

For the third time the British counter-attacked to start the fifth period, and Pelley and Hopping, riding with Baiding and Lacey sending the ball into scoring zones. And now the British were leading again, leading for the third time and it remained to be seen whether or not the American team could meet this new challenge of skill and courage. The answer was not delayed many minutes.

Starting the sixth period, Pelley was riding Maravilla. Hopping was on Mistriro, Hitchcock rode the famous Katrina and Guest was on Sunbeam. Here were the pick of the stable. Here were the mounts for the big thrust—the winning charge.

And within a few seconds Hopping had scored. Pelley had followed with a high, lofted shot and the United States was in front again—in front after another gallant comeback that from now on was to keep moving in the direction of victory.

There was nothing on a horse that had the stuff left to check this last stampede of men, mallets and ponies. When the sixth period ended, the United States was leading 10 to 7 and the last British chance had slipped away with the setting sun into autumn space.

The British still kept up a hard fight, giving all that each man had. But two mighty wallops by Hitchcock, fine team play by Hopping and Guest and two more uncannily accurate volleys by Pelley killed the last British chance. Roark scored and brought the count up to 10-8, but a moment later an amazing back-handed smash by Pelley opened up the gap again.

In the final period the United States attack jumped to even higher

'Dick' Russell, Jr., Served As Speaker Two Terms

A young lawyer who began practice at Winder, Ga., in 1919, later became county attorney of Barrow county, and then its representative in the state legislature, Richard Brevard Russell, Jr., was the youngest candidate for governor in the primary election, November 2, 1927, the son of Richard Brevard Russell, chief justice of the Georgia supreme court.

He is a practicing attorney at Winder, and has been in the law since he was 18. He was mentioned by some of the candidates in the race. To this he replied: "When the people of Georgia elect a governor, they are electing a man to lead them. I am not a candidate for governor, but I am a candidate for the office of attorney general. I am a candidate for the office of attorney general, and I am a candidate for the office of attorney general."

He said he would, if elected, "end the discrimination against the schools and the Confederate veterans in the order of payment of appropriations, which practice was established as a custom but which is unwarranted by law."

Textbooks to school children at actual cost, a revision of the tax system, adequate support for all schools, reorganization and simplification of government, and hard-surfaced roads to every county in the state were other planks in his platform.

Blackwood's lead over Johnson went over the 1,000 mark Wednesday as unofficial returns were tabulated from all but eight of the state's precincts. The vote stood: Blackwood 118,944; Johnson 117,216.

The retirement of Senator Blease will be nothing new to the fiery Blackwood, though he has held practically every public office in the state.

His Graduates Everywhere. "The vote stood in the third period when Great Britain carried the ball 300 yards across the field and Gerald Baiding drove it between the posts to take the lead again. Right after this the brilliant Lacey captured the ball, fed it along and then scored on a fine shot."

So here the Americans were trailing again. Once more they were two goals behind, facing an offense that more than matched their own for hard riding, accurate hitting and fury of attack. But the deficit did not last long. Hopping got his chance from a good, husky wallop and then followed this up to score from 10 yards.

A few minutes later the American side had the ball near the British goal in one of the wildest scrambles of the day.

Guinness hit out with only a foot spare, but Pelley sent it back and Hitchcock just flicked it over, the ball coming from the post and over by only a foot.

This tied it up, and then Guest scored later to put the United States ahead at the end of the fourth period by 6 to 5.

For the third time the British counter-attacked to start the fifth period, and Pelley and Hopping, riding with Baiding and Lacey sending the ball into scoring zones. And now the British were leading again, leading for the third time and it remained to be seen whether or not the American team could meet this new challenge of skill and courage. The answer was not delayed many minutes.

Starting the sixth period, Pelley was riding Maravilla. Hopping was on Mistriro, Hitchcock rode the famous Katrina and Guest was on Sunbeam. Here were the pick of the stable. Here were the mounts for the big thrust—the winning charge.

And within a few seconds Hopping had scored. Pelley had followed with a high, lofted shot and the United States was in front again—in front after another gallant comeback that from now on was to keep moving in the direction of victory.

There was nothing on a horse that had the stuff left to check this last stampede of men, mallets and ponies. When the sixth period ended, the United States was leading 10 to 7 and the last British chance had slipped away with the setting sun into autumn space.

The British still kept up a hard fight, giving all that each man had. But two mighty wallops by Hitchcock, fine team play by Hopping and Guest and two more uncannily accurate volleys by Pelley killed the last British chance. Roark scored and brought the count up to 10-8, but a moment later an amazing back-handed smash by Pelley opened up the gap again.

In the final period the United States attack jumped to even higher

Tuesday Elections Retire Senators Blease, Ransdell

James F. Byrnes Succeeds Carolinian—Huey Long Gains Impressive Victory in Louisiana.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. With two southern democratic senators lost in the primary shuffle of Tuesday, interest centered today upon the identity of the candidates to be elected Wednesday for the general election in November.

Senator Coleman L. Blease gave way to James F. Byrnes as the democratic nominee from South Carolina, while Senator Joseph E. Ransdell was bowing to the virile Governor Huey P. Long in Louisiana. In Georgia, Senator William J. Harris was renominated over former Governor John M. Slaton. In all three states the democratic nomination assures election.

In the two republican primaries of Tuesday, in which the senatorial incumbents sought renomination, they were successful. Henry W. Keyes being unopposed in New Hampshire and James Couzens doubling his former Governor Chase S. Osborn in Michigan. George H. Shaw, former chairman of the state republican committee, was designated in Colorado as his party's candidate to succeed Senator Lawrence C. Phipps, who will retire next March.

While the senatorial and eleven of their house colleagues were being renominated in Michigan, Representative Grant M. Hudson and Louis C. Cramton, both staunch republicans, were defeated. Hudson was defeated by a wet, Seymour H. Person, and Cramton's race with Jesse C. Wolcott, a Port Huron attorney, was so close the result was in doubt, but Wolcott appeared the winner by about 150 votes.

In Washington, the veteran chairman of the house immigration committee, Albert Johnson, appeared certain of renomination, and Representative Lindley H. Hadley had a slender lead over Payson Peterson for the republican nomination. Amidst the cheering of their colleagues, John F. Miller, a dry, however, had yielded a considerable lead to a wet, Ralph A. Horr. The other two Washington incumbents, John W. Summers, republican, and Samuel B. Hill, democrat, were unopposed for their party's nomination.

BLASE LOSES LONG HELD SEAT. COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 10.—(AP) Coleman Livingston Blease, for 40 years a storm center in South Carolina politics, Wednesday had apparently lost his seat in the United States senate to James F. Byrnes, Spartanburg attorney, whom he defeated six years ago.

Although practically complete unofficial returns indicated he had been defeated by 5,000 votes, Senator Blease refused to concede victory to Byrnes.

"I will have nothing to say until the official tabulation is made," said Blease. Blease's total was 115,044 to 119,585 for Byrnes.

With the senatorial race practically settled, chief interest centered on the gubernatorial contest between two Spartanburg attorneys, with Ibra C. Blackwood, a Democrat, and John M. Johnson, a Republican.

Blackwood's lead over Johnson went over the 1,000 mark Wednesday as unofficial returns were tabulated from all but eight of the state's precincts. The vote stood: Blackwood 118,944; Johnson 117,216.

The retirement of Senator Blease will be nothing new to the fiery Blackwood, though he has held practically every public office in the state.

His Graduates Everywhere. "The vote stood in the third period when Great Britain carried the ball 300 yards across the field and Gerald Baiding drove it between the posts to take the lead again. Right after this the brilliant Lacey captured the ball, fed it along and then scored on a fine shot."

So here the Americans were trailing again. Once more they were two goals behind, facing an offense that more than matched their own for hard riding, accurate hitting and fury of attack. But the deficit did not last long. Hopping got his chance from a good, husky wallop and then followed this up to score from 10 yards.

A few minutes later the American side had the ball near the British goal in one of the wildest scrambles of the day.

Guinness hit out with only a foot spare, but Pelley sent it back and Hitchcock just flicked it over, the ball coming from the post and over by only a foot.

This tied it up, and then Guest scored later to put the United States ahead at the end of the fourth period by 6 to 5.

For the third time the British counter-attacked to start the fifth period, and Pelley and Hopping, riding with Baiding and Lacey sending the ball into scoring zones. And now the British were leading again, leading for the third time and it remained to be seen whether or not the American team could meet this new challenge of skill and courage. The answer was not delayed many minutes.

Starting the sixth period, Pelley was riding Maravilla. Hopping was on Mistriro, Hitchcock rode the famous Katrina and Guest was on Sunbeam. Here were the pick of the stable. Here were the mounts for the big thrust—the winning charge.

And within a few seconds Hopping had scored. Pelley had followed with a high, lofted shot and the United States was in front again—in front after another gallant comeback that from now on was to keep moving in the direction of victory.

There was nothing on a horse that had the stuff left to check this last stampede of men, mallets and ponies. When the sixth period ended, the United States was leading 10 to 7 and the last British chance had slipped away with the setting sun into autumn space.

The British still kept up a hard fight, giving all that each man had. But two mighty wallops by Hitchcock, fine team play by Hopping and Guest and two more uncannily accurate volleys by Pelley killed the last British chance. Roark scored and brought the count up to 10-8, but a moment later an amazing back-handed smash by Pelley opened up the gap again.

In the final period the United States attack jumped to even higher

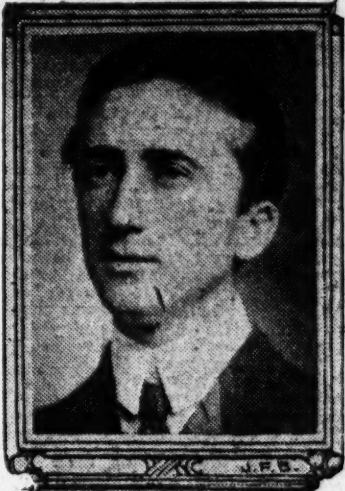

Insolvency Charged To Mal S. Daugherty
COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 10.—(AP) An involuntary petition in bankruptcy against Mal S. Daugherty, former Washington Court House banker and brother of former United States Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty, will be filed in federal court here tomorrow by Attorney-General Gilbert B. Bennett, of Ohio, in behalf of State Superintendent of Banks O. C. Gray, it was announced tonight.

Two Griffin Slayers Rushed to Atlanta
Threatened by a mob which was reported to have been forming in Spalding county, where they were held in jail charged with the shooting last Saturday night of Bill Joe Ellis, 60, prominent farmer, Lon and Ira Reid, negroes, were rushed to Atlanta late Wednesday and placed in Fulton county jail for safe keeping.

Ira Reid, alias Williams, Spalding county officer, was arrested during the shooting last Saturday night, and during Wednesday was said to have confessed that he and Lon Reid did the shooting. News of the alleged confession leaked out and a mob was forming when the officers took the prisoners from the jail and secreted them until they got an automobile to bring them to Atlanta. When the crowd reached the Spalding jail the officers were told that the negroes were not there, and the mob disbanded when a heavy downpour of rain fell.

The farmer, police said, was lured to his home Saturday night and there faced by a negro gunman, who shot him.

Carolina Winner

Former Congressman James F. Byrnes, who Tuesday won the South Carolina senatorial nomination from the veteran Senator Cole Blease.

gift of South Carolina democrats, from county representative through the governor's chair to the senate, he has lost as many battles as he has won during his lengthy political career.

LONG WINS IN LOUISIANA. NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 10.—(AP) Governor Huey P. Long swept into the democratic nomination for the United States senate over Senator Joseph E. Ransdell by a majority of approximately 35,000 votes.

On returns from all precincts except 144 scattered over the state, the governor led the senator by 34,638, the vote standing: Long, 141,262; Ransdell, 86,624.

Complete returns from 39 of the 64 parishes of 1,279 precincts out of the total of 1,423 showed a total vote cast of 247,888.

The total unofficial vote of the city of New Orleans gave Senator Ransdell a majority of 5,072, the vote being: Ransdell, 48,014; Long, 37,942.

Returns from the precincts outside of New Orleans, widely scattered with the exception of 20 missing precincts in Caddo parish, gave Long a majority of 30,716, the vote standing: Long, 103,320; Ransdell, 68,610.

Apparently Long carried with him to victory the three candidates he supported for the national house of representatives. Long carried 54 of the 64 parishes and every congressional district except one, the sixth, in the middle of the state in which Baton Rouge is located.

The basis of these returns the Long wave appeared to have removed from congress, J. Zack Spearling, of the second district, and James O'Connor, of the first. Paul Maloney, a New Orleans businessman and a Long leader, held a lead over Spearling.

In the first district J. O. Fernandez, a state senator who stands high in the councils of the Long faction, was leading Representative O'Connor. Representative Numa Montet was renominated in the third district over Clarence J. Bourg. Montet was supported by Long.

WET LEADS IN MICHIGAN. DETROIT, Sept. 10.—(AP)—State Senator Seymour H. Person, a wet, took a lead over Representative Grant M. Hudson, in their race for the republican congressional nomination in the sixth district Wednesday as returns from 441 of the 690 precincts gave Person 55,762 votes and Hudson 40,288.

Returns from 83 precincts in Wayne county (Detroit metropolitan area), wiped out a lead which Hudson had held in earlier tabulations from outside precincts. Person had claimed his greatest strength in the Detroit area, in which 405 of the district's precincts are located.

Hudson's candidacy was strongly endorsed by the Michigan Anti-Saloon League, of which the representative formerly was superintendent. Wet sentiment centered on Person.

The district is the largest in population in the United States, having approximately 1,300,000 inhabitants. Two other candidates trailed far behind Person and Hudson.

Senator James Couzens, Michigan's senior member of the upper house of congress, won an easy victory in Tuesday's republican primary, taking the nomination which is equivalent to election.

Couzens' opponent, former Governor Chase S. Osborn, who based his campaign on the senator's party irregularity, conceded defeat.

Complete unofficial returns from the seventh Michigan congressional district show that Representative Louis C. Cramton, republican, was defeated by a margin of 150 votes by Jesse Wolcott, Port Huron attorney. The vote was: Cramton, 25,525; Wolcott, 26,450.

ONE MAN WINS TWO NOMINATIONS.

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 10.—(AP) Albert W. Noone, 54-year-old manufacturer of Peterboro, N. H., furnished an unprecedented problem in New Hampshire politics today by winning the democratic nomination for the United States senate and the governorship in yesterday's primary. He will yield neither of the honors, he said.

Complete returns were not tabulated tonight, but there appeared little chance that Noone would not oppose former Governor John G. Winant, the republican gubernatorial nominee, and United States Senator Henry W. Keyes in the November election. In 289 of the 294 districts Noone received 3,617 votes against 3,389 for Keyes.

Frederick E. Small, of Rochester, for the gubernatorial nomination. For senator, Noone got 3,423 votes in 263 districts against 2,704 for Amos N. Blandin, of Bath.

"I will stay in the field," Noone said, "because when I entered I intended to win both places. I want to go to the United States senate because I am a druggist, and I believe I can do much good in Washington and am convinced that my nomination is undeniable proof that the voters of this state are not satisfied with the prohibition laws and the methods under which they are enforced."

"If I am elected to the offices of governor and United States senator I do not intend to qualify as the latter until I have had a chance to serve in the governor's chair and put into effect some of my economic theories in legislation. For one thing I intend to turn back into the state treasury my pay check as chief executive."

Attempts have already been made to induce Noone to withdraw from one of the two offices. These attempts are futile. I can and will hold them until the election unless incidents develop that persuade me that some other course will be for the benefit of the people of New Hampshire."

ARIZONA DEMOCRATS NAME G. W. P. HUNT.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Sept. 10.—(AP)—George W. P. Hunt mounted the Arizona democratic gubernatorial saddle today for the eighth time.

In yesterday's primary, he won by a plurality of more than 5,000 votes over Frank H. Lyman, the right to contest the November election with Governor John C. Phipps, republican.

Returns from 301 complete and 80 incomplete precincts out of 502 in the state, gave Hunt 19,548; Lyman, 14,625; Fred C. Colver, 1,977, and Andrew Betway, 5,088.

Enrolling For Business Training From Many Parts of The Country At The Southern Business College

JOHN F. KELLAM, 69,
PASSES AT RESIDENCE

Veteran City Employee Succumbs to Sudden Illness.

John F. Kellam, 69, chief clerk of the city construction department at city hall for more than 42 years, died suddenly at his home, 983 St. Charles avenue, late Wednesday night after an illness of one day.

Though in declining health for two or three years, Mr. Kellam's sudden attack Wednesday morning was unexpected and his death came as a shock to his wide circle of friends in Atlanta and throughout the state. He was not a native of Atlanta, but had lived here since the last year of the Civil War. He was born at Hawkinsville, and when his parents removed to Atlanta from that place, resided on Hayden street.

For more than 22 years he has been connected with the office of the city construction department, and at the time of his death was chief clerk. He is survived by his widow, three sons, Arnie Raymond Kellam, John F. Kellam, Jr., and Robert J. Kellam, all of Atlanta; two daughters, Mrs. E. W. Sartain, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Mrs. Howison Mahone, of Atlanta; one brother, Eldredge P. Kellam, of Atlanta; and two sisters, Mrs. Edward White, Jr., and Mrs. R. H. Comer, both of Atlanta.

The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Avery and Lowndes Company. Services will be conducted at 11 o'clock Friday morning from the residence. Dr. L. R. Christie will officiate and interment will be in Oakland cemetery.

Chiang Moves
To Crush Rebels

SHANGHAI, Sept. 10.—(P)—Hurting 400,000 troops against the northern war lord's forces in Hanoi province, the nationalist government today began a great offensive to end the rebellion which has menaced its existence since May.

Forty divisions of soldiers began converging toward Chengchow, rebel base. Moving northward along the railroad from Hankow, the nationalists hammered their way to within 100 miles of the strategic point.

Thousands of other government troops trudged westward toward Chengchow along the Haichow-Tungkuang railroad, crippled by weeks of floods. Wallowing in mud and splashing through water, the troops made little progress west of Kweichow.

Having driven the rebels through Shantung province to southern Chihli, President Chiang Kai-shek drew heavily from his Shantung forces for the big drive in Hanoi.

The troops moving to the new battle ground forced farmers into their tanks, compelled women to cook meals, confiscated hundreds of work animals and carts. Entering villages, the soldiers drove out the peasants and occupied their houses.

Freed of military restraint, bandit armies looted hundreds of villages throughout Hanoi, killing those who dared oppose them. Their crops ruined by floods, their property taken by contending factions in civil war, farmers turned robbers.

Government soldiers quartered themselves in foreign missions along the Haichow-Tungkuang railway, commandeering buildings of the Canadian church mission at Kweichow and Kai-feng and the American Southern Baptist mission at Kweichow.

Fulton Legislative Winners

WILLIAM McRAE.

GEORGE ECKFORD.

George H. Carswell Has Had Successful Public CareerJacksonville Widow
Weds in California

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 10.—(P)—Announcement was made here tonight of the wedding of Mrs. John A. Cunningham, of Jacksonville, Fla., to Colonel William Eric Fowler, of Los Angeles. The ceremony was a quiet one at Trinity Episcopal church, Orange, Cal.

A romance extending from the youth of both parties is culminated. Mrs. Cunningham is the widow of John A. Cunningham, pioneer businessman and financier of Jacksonville. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Arthur Pickett, of Jacksonville, having been born and educated in that city.

Colonel Fowler is a prominent figure in the social, civic and political life of Southern California. Although practically retired from business, he is active in management of the Los Angeles Grand Opera Association, president of the Tennis Patrons' Association, chairman of the Los Angeles county republican central committee and active in club circles.

He came to Los Angeles from Washington, D. C., following an active career in investment, banking and building circles there. One of the land marks of his ventures there is the Martinique hotel. He served in Spanish-American and World wars. The couple will winter in Florida.

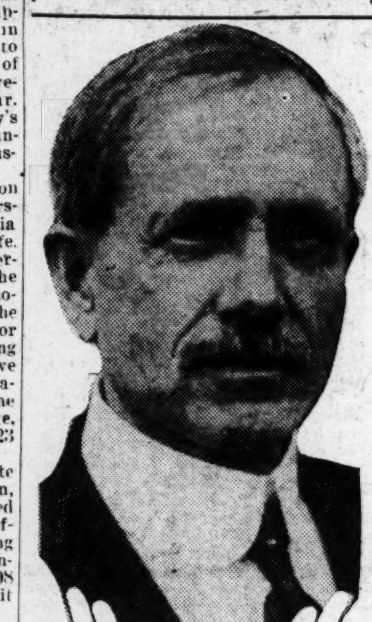

Is trying to grow coconuts inside out so you won't wash your thumb when breaking them with a hammer.

Is marketing an anti-skid soap that you can step on in the bathroom without taking a flop.

And in his spare time is trying to figure out whether a what-you-may-call-it is more like a doodad than a thingamabob is like a gadget.

Says it's all right to have a capital idea if you have the capital. Remembers when the fellow who invented the zipper didn't have a shoestring to his name.—The Pathfinder.

Returned to Bench

JOHN D. HUMPHRIES.
Judge Fulton County Superior Court.

A career as lawyer, county solicitor, legislator, a campaign for the governorship in 1926, and his appointment as secretary of state in 1928 and his subsequent election to that office preceded the entry of George Henry Carswell into the five-cornered race for governor this year. He led the candidates in Wednesday's voting and will now enter a runoff with Richard B. Russell, Jr., who was in second place.

Born in Irwinton, in Wilcox county, October 21, 1874, Mr. Carswell has made that little south Georgia town his residence all of his life.

Graduating as a lawyer from Mercer University at Macon in 1900, he returned to Irwinton to become solicitor of the county court in the same year. He served as solicitor for more than two years, resigning to go to Atlanta as representative of Wilcox county in the legislature. He served eight years in the house and six years in the senate, being president of the senate in 1923 and 1924.

He was appointed secretary of state March, 1928, by Governor Hardman, to succeed S. G. McLeod, who died in office. He was elected to the office in September, 1928, receiving 100,833 popular votes and 308 county unit votes, compared to 73,608 popular votes and 94 county unit votes for his closest opponent.

In addresses during the campaign just ended, Mr. Carswell said, "The three most important subjects to be dealt with in Georgia today are education, taxes and roads." He said he favored free textbooks to school children as soon as state finances permit, said the state's income "should be ample to pay the past due indebtedness of the state without decreasing appropriations and without further need of increase in taxes, and said that "within the last 10 years $100,000,000 have been spent in connection with road building in Georgia, and yet we are still riding in dust and miring in mud and there are more than 60 counties in the state that have not a piece of paving."

Mr. Carswell said that money to be available in 1930 and 1931 would be sufficient to build roads in every county of the state "if judiciously spent."

Mr. Carswell advocated the allotment of one year's revenue from the license tag sales, about $5,000,000, to the payment of the state's debt. He said this could be done without impairing the road-building program of the state and at an actual saving of money to Georgia. He described this plan as the only logical one presented for the solution of the state's financial problems, and emphasized that it was an emergency measure, and that one year's tag sales revenue only was to be used.

Italian Quits
League Meeting

BY P. I. LIPSEY.
Associated Press Correspondent.
GENEVA, Sept. 10.—(P)—The League of Nations assembly celebrated the opening of its eleventh annual session today with accustomed formality, but the spotlight of real popular interest played upon an empty chair.

This chair was abandoned by Dino Grandi, Il Duce's foreign minister, and its emptiness created something of a sensation among delegates and international observers.

On the eve of a definite explanation by Foreign Minister Briand, of France, of his "United States of Europe" plan, which is scheduled to deliver tomorrow before the assembly, Signor Grandi suddenly cancelled all his engagements and returned to Rome.

His automobile sped away from Geneva just an hour before the assembly session was opened by Cesar Zuzumeta, of Venezuela, president of the league council and ex-officio temporary chairman of the assembly.

His departure came as a surprise despite the fact that Italian quarters had already indicated he would not remain long in Geneva. The Italians insisted tonight there was nothing strange in the absence of their chief, and added he had left because he had business demanding his attention in Rome.

None the less, Signor Grandi had been listed as the chief Italian delegate to the assembly, and the field of speculation was wide when he failed to appear.

He gave no explanation himself but delegated his powers to Senator Scialoja. Only late last night he cancelled an engagement for this afternoon to discuss the Franco-German question in the Saar basin with M. Briand and Dr. Julius Curtius, German foreign minister. Today he cancelled others.

Delegates asked each other if Signor Grandi's precipitate leave taking of his colleagues had any connection with slow progress of the negotiations between France and Italy over their naval differences, left pending by the London naval conference. There was nothing to support the suggestion yesterday of Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson, of Great Britain, that these negotiations might shortly reach a stage where a statement could be issued to the public.

All the explanations offered failed to satisfy the prevailing curiosity. Signor Grandi merely came to the council and called it a day. Meanwhile, the election of Nicholas Titulescu, genial Rumanian minister to London, to the presidency of the assembly, cleared the decks for M. Briand's long-awaited declaration upon his hopes and plans for the future of the European federation idea.

It was understood tonight that M. Briand will offer a resolution containing suggestions for a form of European collaboration within the framework of the league. The resolution will be debated later in one of the assembly's standing committees.

Sir Robert Borden, first delegate of Canada, will be immediately followed by the French foreign minister.

Today's assembly session was occupied with the organization of committees and similar preliminaries.

'KIDNAPED' MAN
COMES TO COURT

Continued from First Page.

eral witness stand today that in the dead of the night after he had learned from election returns that he had been nominated to the senate he had driven in his automobile out into the country and met Irby and Terrell and had seen them sign the statement which the lawyer presented to the court.

In the statement the men were quoted as saying they wished the whole case dismissed as they never had been in custody and the statement that they planned to sue Governor Long were "absurd." Irby said that he had seen Terrell this morning just before he left on a train for Arkansas. He declared he had also seen Terrell sign the statement and presented a note he said Terrell had told him to give to Jack Terrell, his brother, but Jack said he could not say positively that the note was written in his brother's handwriting.

The governor said he copied the telegram from note paper brought to him by someone who said it had been written by Terrell. He said he thought it had been brought by Deputy Sheriff Arthur Sartis, of Jefferson parish, but that since Sartis testified he did not bring it, it must have been someone else.

Irby said he came to New Orleans from Grand Isle Sunday night and spoke over the radio from Governor Long's quarters in the Roosevelt hotel and then returned to the island that time Irby told the radio audience that Governor Long was the best friend he had in the world and that he had not been kidnapped.

Attending to the testimony Judge Wayne G. Borah dismissed the application for "lack of evidence."

MOTHER WORRIES ABOUT SON.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 10.—(P)—Mrs. C. C. Norman, mother of the son of the Associated Press over long distance telephone at 12:15 p. m. Wednesday, that she had not seen her son, James Terrell, since September 2. She said she had not heard from him directly since Wednesday, September 3, when he talked to her over the telephone in Shreveport saying he was feeling fine.

HARRIS DEFEATS
GOVERNOR SLATON

Continued from First Page.

Holder's advocacy of short term notes to meet the state's past due debts was largely responsible for his failure to be one of the two high men. He had been severely criticised by the other candidates on the ground that this plan amounted practically to a bond issue.

Rains Slow Reports.

With a longer list of candidates than ever before, which necessarily retarded the tabulation of votes, and with heavy rains and electrical storms in some sections of the state interfering with the reports from many counties, there were a number of precincts missing as the total of counties was made up and it was conceded that still later returns may change the standing of the counties to some extent.

The popular vote, according to the partial tabulations received by the Associated Press Wednesday night was as follows:

Carswell 28,822
Russell 29,789
Holder 22,709
Rivers 20,067
Perry 3,243

These figures probably fall considerably short of the total vote cast in Wednesday's statewide primary and the complete returns may cause a number of switches in the counties indicated as having gone for the various candidates Wednesday night. It is entirely improbable, however, that these switches would cause any material change in the standing of the candidates. Either Carswell or Russell might be first or second and either Rivers or Holder might be third or fourth but there is no possibility of either of the latter two going up to the first or second place and thereby entering the run-off primary.

According to Wednesday night's incomplete figures the counties going for the various candidates were as follows:

Tabulation of Counties.
To Carswell—Baldwin, Bibb, Blackley, Bulloch, Burke, Butts, Calhoun, Camden, Candler, Chattahoochee, Clarke, Clay, Crawford, Crisp, Decatur, Dodge, Dougherty, Early, Effingham, Emanuel, Glynn, Hancock, Hart, Irwin, Jasper, Jenkins, Jones, Lee, McIntosh, Mitchell, Muscogee, Pulaski, Putnam, Quitman, Richmond, Stewart, Sumter, Terrell, Toombs, Turner, Twiggs, Upson, Washington, Wheeler, Wilkinson and Worth.

To Holder—Banks, Chatham, Colquitt, Columbia, Coweta, Dade, DeKalb, Evans, Fannin, Fayette, Forsyth, Franklin, Gilmer, Jackson, Jefferson, Johnson, Long, Lumpkin, Meriwether, Miller, Murray, Paulding, Pickens, Rockdale, Screven, Spalding, Telfair, Thomas, Towns, Union, Walker and Wilcox.

To Perry—Gwinnett.

To Rivers—Appling, Atkinson, Bacon, Baker, Ben Hill, Berrien, Brantley, Brooks, Charlton, Clayton, Clinch, Coffee, Cook, Dooley, Douglas, Echols, Grady, Hall, Hardee, Jeff Davis, LeFlore, Laurens, Lowndes, McDuffie, Polk, Seminole, Taylor, Telfair, Tift, Ware, Wayne, Webster, White, Whitfield.

To Russell—Barrow, Bartow, Bryan, Campbell, Carroll, Cass, Chatam, Cherokee, Cobb, DeKalb, Elbert, Floyd, Fulton, Glascock, Gordon, Greene, Habersham, Hart, Heard, Henry, Lamar, Liberty, Lincoln, Macon, Madison, Marion, Milton, Monroe, Montgomery, Morgan, Newton, Oglethorpe, Peach, Pender, Pike, Rabun, Randolph, Stephens, Talbot, Tattnall, Thomas, Treutlen, Troup, Walton, Warren and Wilkes.

One of the outstanding features of the primary was the number of counties carried in south Georgia by Russell, a north Georgia man and the equally considerable number of counties carried in north Georgia by E. D. Rivers, a resident of south Georgia. Holder's chief support was received in north Georgia, of which he is a resident. Mr. Carswell carried most of his counties in south and central Georgia, his home territory.

Ends Hot Campaign.

The primary marked the close of some of the most heated campaigns in the history of the state. The race for the governorship largely centered attention, with the main issue revolving around the necessity for some revision of the state's financial system and a solution of the state debt which is imperatively calling for settlement.

The inclement weather kept many voters away from the polls in various sections of the state and it was expected Wednesday night that the total popular vote would fall behind that of recent primaries.

The campaign, in its early stages, was marked by almost complete apathy on the part of the voters, who were not aroused until the state debt problems came to the fore during the closing weeks of the governor's race.

Mother Nature is sure enough giving the farm board pointers on crop reduction.—The Pathfinder.

Wins Renomination

Continued from First Page.

With the summer season rapidly nearing its end, William Segur, the man who creates the lifelike figures for the waxworks, discussed his business today almost with tears in his eyes.

The public doesn't take to murder cases as of old, said Segur, a smallish man who wears his spectacles on his forehead. And the public is "too dumb" to get the little or the big, when he and his wife attempt a real serious work of art.

The Snyder-Gray case is depicted in three groups. Group 1 shows Judd Gray and Ruth Snyder in a restaurant, drinking liquor, and Gray handing Mrs. Snyder the sash. In Scene 2, which one views through the window of the bedroom, Gray is shown in the act of killing Snyder in bed, while Mrs. Snyder stands by, grinning and with a coil of picture wire in her hand. In the final scene Mrs. Snyder is shown in the electric chair.

The Hall-Mills exhibit and the hanging of Gerald Chapman have been taken out of the waxworks. People don't remember them any more, says Segur.

The St. Valentine's Day massacre, the Loeb-Leopold case, the Rothstein murder and even the shooting of Alfred (Jack) Lingle are now on exhibit, according to the man who set them up.

"We used to have a group showing General Lee's death, but it was taken down, Segur, who has been in the wax-

Public Forgets Quickly
Criminal Heroes of Today

VALENTINE MASSACRE, CHAPMAN SCENES GO BEGGING

BY H. ALLEN SMITH.
United News Staff Correspondent.
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(UN)—The American public has forgotten the hanging of Gerald Chapman, the St. Valentine's Day massacre, the Loeb-Leopold case, the Hall-Mills case and even the shooting of Arnold Rothstein, but the celebrated Snyder-Gray murder still lures them by the thousands to the Eden Musee, Coney Island's leading waxworks.

With the summer season rapidly nearing its end, William Segur, the man who creates the lifelike figures for the waxworks, discussed his business today almost with tears in his eyes.

The public doesn't take to murder cases as of old, said Segur, a smallish man who wears his spectacles on his forehead. And the public is "too dumb" to get the little or the big, when he and his wife attempt a real serious work of art.

The Snyder-Gray case is depicted in three groups. Group 1 shows Judd Gray and Ruth Snyder in a restaurant, drinking liquor, and Gray handing Mrs. Snyder the sash. In Scene 2, which one views through the window of the bedroom, Gray is shown in the act of killing Snyder in bed, while Mrs. Snyder stands by, grinning and with a coil of picture wire in her hand. In the final scene Mrs. Snyder is shown in the electric chair.

The Hall-Mills exhibit and the hanging of Gerald Chapman have been taken out of the waxworks. People don't remember them any more, says Segur.

The St. Valentine's Day massacre, the Loeb-Leopold case, the Rothstein murder and even the shooting of Alfred (Jack) Lingle are now on exhibit, according to the man who set them up.

"We used to have a group showing General Lee's death, but it was taken down, Segur, who has been in the wax-works business for 30 years. "It was a good piece of work and looked real enough. Yet I overheard some fellow explaining to members of his party that it was the signing of the Brest-Litovsk treaty between Russia and Poland."

Segur also explained that one of the exhibits portrays the murder of Marat by Charlotte Corday, who stabbed him while he sat in an old-fashioned brass bathtub. The original bathtub, which comes from the Wanamaker collection, is used in this scene, Segur said, but the people just don't fall for it.

They look at it and pass on, unable to recall having read the testimony in the Marat murder case. He already has a Lindbergh in the place, the flying colonel being placed next to Anna Held. The Lindbergh doesn't look very real, however. The statue looks more like Stanislaus Zbyszko.

SHAMELESS MEN
FEEL "PRETTIES."

Various masculine irrepressibles have been giving the feminine city government of Yellville, Ark., plenty of trouble.

As a remonstrance against the "prettiest rule," the city pound has been cut repeatedly, liberating animals which had been impounded.

One of the first measures adopted by the women after they won in a city election was an ordinance prohibiting stock from running at large.

WHO SAID
MANGOOSE?

The hero of Burgess Hill, England, is an alley cat who killed a snake three feet long and proudly dragged it in its mouth down the main street of the town, disrupting traffic as it went.

Davison's Cannot Be Undersold!

True Every Day, Regardless of Special Sales Elsewhere.

We buy with Macy's, New York—the world's largest department store purchasing power. The results in substantial savings are yours.

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA—affiliated with MACY'S, New York

Reduced!
Women's SHOES

More than half of these 640 pairs of shoes were sent down from our second floor department—many within the last few days. Many are adapted for late summer and fall wear.

$1.79
195 Pairs
Formerly $3.95 to $5.95

$2.79
245 Pairs
Formerly $4.95 to $8.50

$3.79
200 Pairs
Formerly $5.95 to $12.50

DAVISON-PAXON'S
BASEMENT

Furniture
1/2 PRICE

The opportunity to share in the wonderful values we offer becomes less each day. All Furniture just HALF of Original Selling Price—Don't delay—See these Savings for yourself, as we are positively going out of business and the stock is rapidly being exhausted.

WILEY JONES
FURNITURE SHOPPE

671 Peachtree Across Street from Fox Theater

REVOLUTIONS BRING PROBLEMS FOR U. S.

State Department May Be Forced To Depart From Tradition.

BY LOUIS JAY HEATH.
United News Staff Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(U.N.)—Establishment of new governments through revolutions in Bolivia, Peru and Argentina has confronted the United States with a severe test of its previous recognition policy toward Latin American governments.

To meet it, the state department has directed its history experts to make a searching study of precedents and past developments in relations between this country and its southern neighbors, to guide its action.

Extreme caution against committing this government in any of these cases was shown by refusal of all officials to comment on the situation, or to give any indication as to whether the past recognition policy will be followed.

The department has even been reluctant to divulge the nature of official dispatches from its South American diplomatic agents, particularly since the Argentine revolt.

Secretary Simpson has the usual principles of international law and particular circumstances of each case would determine whether the United States would recognize any new government.

The recognition policy of this country in some cases would guide other nations in extending recognition.

A dispatch from Paris indicated today that France would wait on United States action.

In the past, theoretically, United States recognition has been based on three factors:

1. The new government must have the support of a substantial proportion of the country's population.
2. It must have a constitutional basis.
3. Definite pledges must be given for observance of international obligations, particularly those to the United States.

The new military governments of Bolivia, Peru and Argentina have hastened to pledge respect for their international obligations.

The Argentine situation appears too cloudy from here for any judgment at the present time as to how many of the people oppose the Paraguayan regime will support the new government. The present comparative calmness of the populace under the new government indicates that both Bolivia would indicate popular support and a political coalition decision for a single political state in Bolivia's upcoming elections indicates that both these countries may fulfill the first requisite.

Whether or not a constitutional basis of government can be attained in legal ways other than by the election method is a question for speculation.

It is understood that there is no likelihood of withdrawing United States diplomats from their posts in these countries, the general feeling being that the new governments are in strong hands, which with proper management will move rapidly forward to complete permanent government.

The recognition question is important because of the great United States investments, particularly in Argentina, which are regarded as being in the hands of conservative men, whose attitude toward the United States would be much more cordial than that of the deposed President Irigoren, who refused to send an ambassador to this country.

SARGON AGAIN TRIUMPHANT IN UNUSUAL CASE

Mrs. Hayes Had Taken Many Treatments Without Benefit—Gains Thirteen Pounds.

"I'm so enthusiastic over my new health and strength, and my thirteen pounds gain in weight, that I feel like stopping people on the streets to tell them about this wonderful Sargon."

MRS. NELLIE HAYES.

"treatment," recently stated Mrs. Nellie Hayes, 47 Whipple Ave., Egan Park. Mrs. Hayes is an active member of the Baptist church, and the mother of seven children.

"In December, 1928, I had a terrible attack of flu, which left me in such a weak, nervous condition that I was afraid to be left alone. I was easily excited, and became so hysterical at times I'd cry continuously for hours. I never got restful sleep. My stomach gave me a great deal of trouble. I had no appetite, and got so every mouthful I ate bloated me distressingly, and caused so much gas pressure around my heart I could hardly catch my breath. I had frequent bilious spells, and was constantly taking strong medicines for my liver and constipation. My skin was covered with brown spots, the whites of my eyes were yellowish, and my tongue coated. My strength was about exhausted, and I'd taken so much medicine without benefit that I was disgusted and discouraged.

"But I want to emphasize the fact that three bottles of Sargon and one bottle of Sargon Pills completely ended every trouble I had. I am today a well woman, due entirely to Sargon, and I'll be glad to talk to any one about this marvelous medicine."

The Sargon Man is at Jacob's Main Store, 48 N. Broad St., Grant Bldg., where he is meeting the public and explaining the merits of this remarkable new medicine. Sargon may be obtained at all Jacob's Drug Stores throughout Atlanta.—(adv.)

ECONOMY

THE LARGEST SELLING ASPIRIN IN THE WORLD FOR

10 AS PURE AS MONEY CAN BUY

12 TABLETS 30c 24 TABLETS 50c 48 TABLETS 80c

St. Joseph's Pure ASPIRIN

Disturbances in Your Kidneys and Bladder

should be checked at once. It's dangerous to neglect these warning signs. Night rising, back aches, burning pains can usually be quickly relieved by using Santal Midy (used all over the world for nearly a century). Get some from your druggist at once.

Santal Midy

Politics "Just a Sideline" For Ruth Hanna's Woman Foe

BY WILLIAM F. McDERMOTT.
CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—(U.N.A.)—Politics is only a sideline to the main job of keeping house, rearing a family and improving society in the life of Mrs. Lottie Holman O'Neill, who has just thrown a monkey wrench into the Illinois senatorial race by announcing her independent candidacy on a strictly dry platform.

The action is the sensation of the day, giving old war horses a dizzy sensation as they contemplate a split in the Republican and Democratic ranks on the dry issue. It threatens as well a lineup and as strange bedfellows as they contemplate a split in the Republican and Democratic ranks on the dry issue.

Mrs. O'Neill has been contentedly going about with her sweeping and dusting, entertaining her club friends and doing her "family marketing," while the reminiscence about the four sessions of the state legislature in which she served as a representative. Last spring she was a candidate for state senator but defeat in the primary kept her from the contest.

Everything seemed to be sitting pretty, with a regular old-fashioned party fight in the campaign for United States senator before Mrs. O'Neill entered the fray. James Hamilton Lewis, a veteran of the senate and a past master of the political oratory, was astride the democratic mule on a dripping wet platform. The republican elephant carried Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, daughter of the famous Mark Hanna, and congresswoman-at-large from Illinois. The republican state convention decision to abide by the coming state referendum on the prohibition issue and Mrs. McCormick's commitment to go along with it in her senatorial service set the first of political revolution.

Dry Support.

Now the drys in both parties are flocking to Mrs. O'Neill—at least most of them are—and there is trouble all along the line. Political prophets don't know which way to turn and each one guesses three ways as to the election victory. Meanwhile Mrs. O'Neill, the first woman ever to sit in the Illinois legislature, after having let go her campaign bomb, pursues the even tenor of her household ways.

"I don't like politics," she says, "but I'm in this fight for I'm a dry and I'm for the home. Before I entered the drys had no chance to express themselves as between the republican and democratic candidates. Now they have. I'm a dry and will vote that way no matter how this so-called referendum may turn out."

Illinois won't have a Lady Astor

Working at Home.

"The housewife politician, the object of this great celebration, was at her home today, discharging her household duties in a pink-checked, gingham house-dress. No militant feminist is Lottie O'Neill.

"I would rather it had been some other woman and so would my husband," she said. "I didn't file my candidacy until two hours before closing time, hoping some other woman would file, but I and several other staunch supporters were resolved a woman should run. A woman should be in the legislature to work for the things that affect the home."

When Mrs. O'Neill reached Springfield as the state's first woman legislator, she was escorted by more than 1,000 women from all parts of the state. She walked down a flag-draped aisle to her seat in the legislative hall. She was described as a "quietly efficient woman in plain dark blue suit and blue silk hat," and as "neither offensively feminine nor disturbingly masculine."

"She removed her hat, smoothed her hair and inconspicuously sat back, a spectator at her own induction." The women spectators shouted and cheered and the men of the house outdid themselves in flattery, but she sat serene through it all.

Her record in the legislature has been substantial and constructive, but not spectacular. Her work has been mostly in the field of education and welfare. For four sessions she exposed the 8-hour day for working women, but was defeated each time. Mrs. O'Neill was active in one of the filibusters against the efforts of Governor Len Small and Mayor William Hale Thompson, of Chicago, to dominate completely all legislation during the final fortnight of the 1927 session.

In the last session she wanted the chairmanship of the education committee and when it was denied her she refused to accept the chairmanship of any one of five other committees. Her position as an ultra-dry was said to have made her miss the place she coveted.

Earlier Troubles.

The contest between Mrs. O'Neill and Mrs. McCormick will be doubly exciting because of a rumormongering between the two last January when Mrs. O'Neill resigned as vice president of the Illinois Republican Women's Club and called the "rank and file of republican women" to align themselves against the "bossism of Mark Hanna's daughter."

Mrs. O'Neill asserted she had been fettered by Mrs. McCormick's action against her. One of Mrs. O'Neill's last acts at the special legislative session in May was to introduce a resolution condemning heavy campaign expenditures in primaries.

But personal feeling isn't the senatorial issue now, she says.

"Any one who says my candidacy has anything to do with personal feeling between Mrs. McCormick and myself doesn't know what he is talking about," said Mrs. O'Neill today. "This is a matter of conscience with me. I feel it is my duty to run—so I'm doing it."

"Prohibition hasn't been given a fair chance and neither has Mr. Hoover as president. Neither has had the support from Illinois republicans to which they are entitled. I haven't any great sums of money to help elect me, but I'll be elected anyway."

While Mrs. O'Neill and Mrs. McCormick offer Illinois the unique spectacle of two women rivals battling for the United States senate, James Hamilton Lewis and the democrats stand off at the side and laugh—but they are not sleeping any too well nights.

SiLo-Lethal Chamber Claims Lives of Five

Gas Generated by Cornstalks Kills Five Dakotans.

HEBRON, N. D., Sept. 10.—(U.N.)—Poisonous fumes, which turned a silo into a turret of death, had claimed five members of the Tony Neidhardt family today.

The victims were Tony Neidhardt, Hebron farmer, and four of his children, two sons and two daughters, who died in a vain attempt to save their father from the methane gas vapors. George, 24, was taken unconscious from the silo yesterday, but died while physicians were attempting to save his life.

Fred, 20; Margaret, 20; and Freda, 18, and their father, 50 years old, were drowned in the brine of the silo pit after being overcome by the gas. The bodies were recovered by a cousin, John Neidhardt.

Oliver Bohle, town marshal, nearly lost his life in an effort to rescue the victims, but was saved after he had collapsed in the silo by his son, Waldo, 16, who entered the death pit twice to tie a rope around his father's unconscious form. A group outside then drew Bohle to safety.

No inquest will be held, the coroner said, as the deaths were obviously caused by methane or marsh gas generated in cornstalks. The gases were released when Neidhardt stirred the refuse as he was cleaning out the pit.

His two sons entered the pit to succor their father as Neidhardt collapsed and the two daughters met the same fate in attempting to save the three.

His widow and two daughters survive Neidhardt.

Forgery Complicates Missing Jurist Case

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(U.N.)—The month-old mystery of the disappearance of Joseph Force Crater, justice of the New York supreme court, took a new twist today with the assertion that the indorsement on a check for $3,000 drawn by the jurist just before he vanished is a forgery.

The check as supposed to have been cashed for Justice Crater by Joseph Mara, his confidential secretary and the son of a Tammany district leader. Mara denied positively today that his purported indorsement on the check was his signature.

The $3,000 check was one of several which the check book stubs of Justice Crater indicated he had drawn within a day or two before he dropped from sight on August 6.

Mara said he cashed but two checks for the justice—one for $500 and one for $2,150—and that he knew nothing about the $3,000 check with his indorsement.

Von Gronau Sails For German Port

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(U.N.)—Captain Wolfgang Von Gronau, who with his three German companions recently flew the Atlantic, tonight embarked on his trip on a passenger steamer. He stowed his old flying boat aboard the liner Hamburg, for a midnight sailing for Germany. Before boarding the liner he had lunch with Colonel and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh.

Bolivian Revolt Is Nipped in Bud

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Sept. 10.—(U.N.)—A threatened revolution, which had its beginning in the aviation school, was put down here yesterday by the military junta now ruling Bolivia.

The government claims the manifestation was not of a major nature.

OKLA. FARMER KILLS 172 RATS IN ONE NIGHT

K-R-O (Kills Rats Only), writes Mr. Hulbert, Okla., brought this remarkable result. K-R-O is the original product made from quail, an ingredient recommended by U. S. Government as sure death to rats, mice and even baby chicks. You can depend on K-R-O (Kills Rats Only), which has become America's leading rat exterminator in just a few years. Sold by all druggists on a money-back guarantee.—(adv.)

LAST CHEAP EXCURSION—SATURDAY, SEPT. 20TH

Wrightsville Beach, N. C. ... $12.00 Round Trip—Good 10 Days
Myrtle Beach, S. C. ... $12.00 Round Trip—Good 10 Days
Charleston, S. C. ... $12.00 Round Trip—Good 10 Days
Savannah, Ga. ... $12.00 Round Trip—Good 10 Days
Augusta, Ga. ... $12.00 Round Trip—Good 10 Days

Walnut 3666 GEORGIA RAILROAD Walnut 2726

IF EVER THERE WAS A TIME TO FENCE THIS IS IT!

PHONE MAIN 3000 WEST LUMBER CO

316 Peters St., S. W. 1491 Piedmont Ave., N. E. and at Scottdale

Only 75c

for expert, reliable hat cleaning. Your old felt is cleaned through and through, shaped right—to look like new!

Decatur DEarborn 3-1-6-2

Excelsior WALnut 2-4-5-4

Guthman WALnut 8-6-6-1

May's HElock 5-3-0-0

Piedmont WALnut 7-6-5-1

Trio JACKson 1-6-0-0

Troy-Peerless WALnut 5-1-0-7

American MAin 1-0-1-6

Capital City WALnut 7-1-2-1

Discovery of Body Described in Court

KINSTON, N. C., Sept. 10.—(U.N.)—The story of James C. Casey, 53, was found in a woods near here July 3 shot to death, his automobile burned and his body charred, was related today in the trial of Herman Casey, 45, on a charge of murder of the Suffolk (Va.) lumberman.

The details were given by Raymond Jarman, deputy coroner of Lenoir county, Jarman said he was called to the scene and made the investigation leading to identity of Causey.

He identified keys, rings and spectacles found in the automobile's ruins and testified they were Causey's. He said Causey, a truck driver, was at the scene and told him he had seen the automobile after the day before.

"I didn't bother about it because I thought it was somebody burning their car for the insurance," he quoted Casey as telling him.

R. L. Woodard, Jr., of Goldsboro, a business associate of Causey, testified he had spent the morning of July 3 with him. He said Causey had intended to go to Sedgwick Country Club, near Greensboro, the next afternoon to judge a horse show.

Woodard told of coming to Kinston to see Causey on the morning of July 3 and of learning later there that his friend had been slain.

The jury, selected yesterday, is composed of ten farmers, one carpenter and a filling station proprietor. Approximately 100 witnesses have been summoned for the trial.

Casey was arrested a few days after Causey's body was found and has been held without bond since. Police said Milton Wood, farmboy arrested at the same time, told them that Casey robbed Causey, shot him and set the automobile afire.

G. O. P. Is Blamed For Depression

EASTERN POINT, Conn., Sept. 10.—(U.N.)—Full responsibility for the nation's economic ills was placed upon the republican party by Homer S. Cummings, former chairman of the democratic national committee, in the "keynote" address at the democratic state convention here tonight.

Mr. Cummings, in reviewing nine years of republican rule, which he found "tainted with corruption," attacked the party in power for failure to redeem campaign pledges, for an unsound and unjustifiable tariff law and urged a sweeping change of regime.

The new tariff law, he asserted, "has increased the burden upon the back of the taxpayer; it has impaired the purchasing power of the farmer; it has dealt industry a staggering blow at a period when it could least endure it; and has produced ominous reverberations in every country with which we had built up a friendly relationship and a favorable trade balance."

Georgia Pecan Crop To Eclipse Last Year's

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(U.N.)—Production of pecans this year was forecast today by the department of agriculture to be about 30,400,000 pounds, compared with 28,000,000 last year and about 30,000,000 in 1928.

Crop prospects are much more than last year in the western native pecan belt, the department said, but much better in the eastern belt where improved types mainly are grown.

Production in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Illinois and Missouri, producing mainly wild nuts, promises to be about 57 per cent as great as last year. In the Carolinas, Georgia, Florida and Alabama, producing mainly improved nuts, production will be 25 per cent greater than last year. In Mississippi and Louisiana, producing both improved and wild types, production promises to be increased about 70 per cent.

A Personal Service

Each suit, each hat and frock gets a personal dry cleaning service at these plants. Just as if it were the only article we had to clean. It gets close study and painstaking care of experts. Fresh cleansing-fluid is used lavishly on it—hundreds of gallons! Deft CLOTHES ARTISTS take out dust and soil till it is immaculately clean. Then they press it fine and smooth—every inch of it—inside and out.

It's an exquisite service—a surprising amount of fine work at a low price. Only our large volume of business makes possible this fine dry cleaning at prices so low.

Only 75c

for expert, reliable hat cleaning. Your old felt is cleaned through and through, shaped right—to look like new!

Decatur DEarborn 3-1-6-2

Excelsior WALnut 2-4-5-4

Guthman WALnut 8-6-6-1

May's HElock 5-3-0-0

Piedmont WALnut 7-6-5-1

Trio JACKson 1-6-0-0

Troy-Peerless WALnut 5-1-0-7

American MAin 1-0-1-6

Capital City WALnut 7-1-2-1

Ragsdale Lauds Captain Fain For Tact in Handling Crowd

As a result of the tactful manner in which he dispersed a crowd of several hundred persons from the vicinity of Grady hospital, where a negro murder suspect lay, wounded Tuesday night, Captain Grover C. Fain, of the night police watch, Wednesday was in receipt of a commendatory letter from Mayor L. N. Ragsdale, who Wednesday afternoon extended his official congratulations.

Mayor Ragsdale also addressed a communication to Chief of Police James L. Beavers, in which he likewise took official cognizance of the chief's personal action during the incident, as well as that of members of the police department who removed the suspect to safety while Captain Fain succeeded in dispersing the mob in an orderly manner.

Public realization of the level-headed measures used by the captain of the night watch brought forth a widespread response on the part of civic and business leaders, who Wednesday expressed to Captain Fain their appreciation of his tact and congratulated him on the coolness and diplomacy with which he acted.

The popular police captain received many telephone messages at his house during the day, emanating from virtually every walk of social and civic life of the city, and met them all with the modest assurance that he had only acted "as any other officer on the force would have done."

Those who communicated to Captain Fain their admiration of his method of handling the emergency, it was understood, made it clear that they were not unmindful of the outraged feeling that motivated the crowd as the result of what officers termed a murderous assault on the victim of the holdup, who was shot down on a lonely spot of his route Monday night. It was this sympathetic understanding on the part of the captain, it was pointed out, that worked largely to influence the peaceable breaking up of its ranks Tuesday night.

CAPTAIN GROVER C. FAIR.

Letter to Fain.
Mayor Ragsdale's letter, dated Wednesday, was as follows:
"Captain Grover Fain,
"Police Headquarters,
"Atlanta, Georgia.
"Dear Sir:

"From what I notice in the papers of the part you played in the protection of prisoners who were in Grady hospital and the jail last night, I wish to extend my hearty congratulations to you.
"These prisoners, charged with this very heinous crime, appeared to be in some danger, but I am indeed glad that the matter was handled in a way that reflects credit on our police force.
"With best wishes, I am
"Very truly,
"L. N. RAGSDALE,
"Mayor."

Letter to Beavers.
To Chief Beavers, the mayor wrote as follows:
"Chief of Police J. L. Beavers,
"Police Headquarters,
"Atlanta, Georgia.
"I want to congratulate you and the officers who took part in the removal and protection of the negro prisoners charged with the murder of one of our street car employees.
"From what I could learn from time to time, it appeared that we were liable to have some trouble and if this should have happened it would naturally have reflected very badly for our city.
"I am indeed glad that the matter was handled in a way that no harm can come to our city from this very sad occurrence.
"I am quite sure that the police force of Atlanta try at all times to perform any duties required of them to the very best of their ability and I believe that our force will measure up to the force of any city the size of Atlanta in the whole country.
"Very truly,
"L. N. RAGSDALE, Mayor."

The incident referred to occurred during Captain Fain's watch Tuesday night. Without warning, according to police reports, a large crowd of several hundred unidentified men thronged near the negro clinic of the city hospital, and a special watch which had been placed there requested that Captain Fain himself take personal charge. After telephoning Chief Beavers, Captain Fain, with a reserve detachment, rushed to the vicinity where, after several minutes of persuasive talk, couched in a humorous vein, he succeeded in influencing the men to disband in an orderly manner.

G. M. A. WILL OPEN FALL SESSION TODAY

Georgia Military academy this morning begins the thirty-first fall session. Colonel J. C. Woodward, founder and the only president in the institution's history, announced Wednesday.

Six outstanding educators have been added to the faculty, including Dr. Castellanos, who is to have charge of the Spanish department. He is a graduate of an American university and has for many years been associated with Candler college, Havana, Cuba, it was stated.

The school's Jersey herd has been brought up to 30 registered cows, Colonel Woodward stating that the herd is one of the major factors in the good health of the school in the past.

A football game against the United States Naval academy plebe team this year is one of the highlights of the athletic program. The new coaches have been added to the coaching staff in Coach Hudson, of the Robert E. Lee high school, of Miami, and formerly assistant of the University of Florida, and Coach Butts, of the Rugby academy, New Orleans, La.

North Avenue School To Open This Morning

Good old school songs sung by dozens of enthusiastic young alumnae will enliven the exercises marking the formal opening of the new year at North Avenue Presbyterian school at 9 o'clock this morning.

Alumnae of the class of 1930 will be on hand in large numbers, and those of other recent classes are coming from Agnes Scott, Sophie Newcomb, Randolph-Macon and other colleges to join in the ceremonies.

Dr. Stuart Oglesby, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, will deliver the principal address at the exercises, which will be held in the gymnasium to accommodate the large crowd expected. There will be talks by the principal, Miss Thyrza S. Askew, and by the chairman of the trustees, Dr. Marlin McH. Hull.

Three new members of the faculty, all well known educators with bachelor of arts degrees and distinguished records as teachers, will meet the students in a group for the first time. They are Mrs. Sidney Kennedy, instructor in French, Miss Sarah Tata, assistant in the English department, and Mrs. C. E. Vaughn, in charge of the kindergarten.

Thursday brings the inauguration of the twenty-first year of the North Avenue Presbyterian school, which started in 1909 in the Sunday school room of the North Avenue Presbyterian church. From two grades it has grown to a nationally known institution which takes care of 13 years of school life. From kindergarten through high school.

The opening of the senior high school took place September 4. The school reports a gratifying attendance in all departments. Parents desiring to enroll their daughters in the boarding school should make application immediately.

"a word to the wise"--you'll find it at High's

Today---Wise Shoppers' Day

Bountiful Bargains await all Wise Shoppers today at High's! Don't miss them—they're great! The Wise Old Owl winks at costs for Thursday!

Peggy Hart Will Shop for You
Write or phone . . .
Peggy Hart will save you trouble and worry!
WAI. 8681

Boys' $1.25 and $1.50 Regulation Blouses

English broadcloth and madras blouses of fine quality in fast colors. With collar and long sleeves. Sizes 6 and 7 years only. Special!
79¢
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Boys' All-Wool Smart English Shorts

All-wool English shorts full lined with belts to match in blue cheviot and fancy tweeds. Sizes 5 to 12 years. For smart wear!
$1.49
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Tots' Wash Suits 2 to 6 years

Fall wash suits of broadcloth with long sleeves. Neat vests of white. Hand work.
$1.00
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Tots' Smart Rompers Infants' to 2 years

Fine broadcloth rompers that are effective with hand work. In dainty colors.
$1.00
HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

Girls' Rayon Undies 2 to 14 years

Well reinforced rayon bloomers and combinations with lace trims. Serviceable and made to fit.
79¢
HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

New Reducing Girdles $3.50 Value

Soft and pliable silk rubber reducing girdles that mold to the figure perfectly.
$2.98
HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

$1 Fitted School Bags

Kiddies' school bags fitted with 5 pencils, 2 pen holders, 1 tablet and 1 ruler.
59¢
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Ironing Board Covers Regularly 50¢

Durable ironing board covers of unbleached muslin with laces.
29¢
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Shoe Bags Regularly 75¢

12 pocket style shoe bags in new gay cretonne patterns. Owl Day only.
44¢
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Chair Pads 25¢ Values

Cretonne chair pads that can also be used for auto seats and backs. Each 15¢
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Part-Wool Blankets Regularly $3.98!

70x80 part-wool black plaid double blankets. Warm and snug.
$2.98
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Bed Spreads $1.49 Values

81x105 Cotton wrinkled bed spreads. A wonderful value at this low price!
98¢
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Pullaway Sheets 72x99 and 81x90

Sturdy wearing sheets, free from starch or dressing. 42-inch pillow cases, 25¢ each. Sheets, each 93¢
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Silk Baby Bonnets Dainty and Sweet

Cunning little baby bonnets in white, flesh and blue in lovely styles for boys and girls.
$1.29
HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

Smart Wash Goods Regularly 25¢

Gay percales and tinter clothes for smart little tots. All colors, thoroughly washable, yard 17¢
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Fine Long Cloth 10-Yard Bolts

Fine quality white long cloth, for many home uses. Special! Bolt 98¢
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Men's Kerchiefs 10¢ Quality

Men's soft white cotton handkerchiefs. Only one dozen to a customer! Doz.
59¢
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Regular 45¢ Modest Napkins

Full sized, 12 in a box. Very absorbent and comfortable. A Wise Shopper's Special! Box 29¢
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Silk Blouses Regularly $3.00

Crepe de Chine and satin blouses in tailor-made and frilled styles. In white and eggshell.
$2.49
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

$3.50 Silk-Face Chiffon Velvet

Soft black chiffon velvet that fashion favors for fall and winter wear! Yard
$2.48
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Satin Crepes $1.94 Black

Such beautiful black satin crepe! You have never seen before at this price! Yd.
$1.28
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

$1.50 and $1.65 Dull Chiffon Hose

Lustrous-full-fashioned silk hose with picot tops to go with new fall outfits. All new shades. Pr.
$1
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Bed Lamps Regularly $2.98!

Dainty lamps of silk georgette colored in rose, orchid, maize, blue and green. Six-ft. cord and socket.
$1.98
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Cashmere Bouquet Soap 10¢ Size, 3 for Fragrant Cashmere Bouquet toilet soap, the fine facial. Special! Thursday only 19¢

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Jersey Brother-Sister Suits Sizes 2 to 6 years

All-wool French spun Jersey suits in smart 2-pc. styles. In red, blue, navy, green, brown and tan.
$1.98
HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

Girls' Printed Crepe Dresses

Lovely little printed crepe dresses with circular skirts and flares. Neat collar and cuffs in white.
$1.98
HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

Girls' Smart Raincoats

Prepare for rainy school days—these smart raincoats in an assortment of colors.
$2.89
HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

$1.69 Rayon Pajamas

2-Pc. pajamas in lovely styles and two-tone effects. For school-girls in sizes 15, 16 and 17.
$1.00
HIGH'S THIRD FLOOR

Linen 'Kerchiefs, 4 for Beautiful hand-made linen handkerchiefs with madeira and appliqued work. In white and colors.

$1.00
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Sale! Men's $1.95 and $2.50

"Marlboro" and "Arrow" Shirts
$1.44
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Men's $1.95 Pajamas

Fine quality broadcloth pajamas in coat styles, frog trimmed, middie and collar styles. All sizes.
$1.39
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Men's $1.50 Union Suits

"Kerry-Kut" and "Reis" union suits in athletic styles in fine broadcloth and madras. All sizes.
$1.00
HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Permanent Wave $3

There never has been a wave quite so lovely as a Victoire Permanent—ask your friends. Artistic merit and skillful technique produce the most beautiful wave it is possible to give, no matter what price you pay.
Maison Victoire, Inc.
Two Shops in Atlanta
113 1/2 ALABAMA ST.
Phone Jackson 6986
Cor. Whitehall and Alabama
181 1/2 PEACHTREE ST.
Phone JA. 9378-9379
Opposite Davison-Paxon's
And Shops All Over the Southland

"Listen to them crackle!"

YOUNG and old—everybody likes the delicious crispness of Kellogg's Rice Krispies. These toasted rice bubbles actually crackle out loud in milk or cream.

And what a flavor! What tempting goodness in every spoonful. Fine for you! Nourishing rice in easy-to-digest form.

Serve Rice Krispies for breakfast, for lunch. Extra delicious with fruits or honey added. Ideal for nursery suppers. Children love milk with Rice Krispies.

Use Rice Krispies in candies in place of nutmeats. Make macaroons. Sprinkle into soups. There never was a handier cereal.

Order from your grocer.

Oven-fresh in the red-and-green package with the inner-seal wax-tite wrapper. Served by hotels, restaurants. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Kellogg's
RICE KRISPIES

THE CONSTITUTION

CLARK HOWELL

Editor and General Manager, Clark Howell, Jr., Business Manager.

Entered at the Postoffice at Atlanta as second-class mail matter.

Telephone WA 6565.

Subscription Rates:

Daily and 1 Mo. 1 Mo. 6 Mos. 1 Yr.

Daily 10c 2.50 5.00 10.00

Single Copies—Daily, 5c; Sunday, 10c.

By Mail Outside—Daily, 15c

R. F. D. and small or non-deliverable orders for 1st, 2nd and 3rd class mail only.

Daily (without Sunday) 1 yr. $5.00

Daily and Sunday, 1 yr. $7.50

ATLANTA, GA., SEPT. 11, 1936.

J. R. HOLLIDAY, Constitution Building, advertising manager for all territory outside of Atlanta.

The Constitution is on sale in New York City by 2 p. m. the day after issue.

It can be had: Rotating's News Stand,

Broadway and Forty-third street (Times building corner); Shuts News Agency, at Bryant Park and Grand Central Depot.

The Constitution is not responsible for advertisements to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents. Receipts given for subscriptions are not in accordance with published rates are not authorized; also not responsible for subscription payments until received at office of publication.

Member of The Associated Press.

The Associated Press is exclusively responsible for use of publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

THE PURE—Unto the pure all things are pure; but unto them that are defiled and unbelieving is nothing pure, but even their mind and conscience is defiled.—Titus 1:15.

PRAYER—"Thou only canst inform the mind, And purify the heart."

TWO SOUTHERN SENATORS.

The results of the senatorial primaries in South Carolina and Louisiana on Tuesday offset each other in an impressive way. They illustrate peculiarly the uncertainty of political psychology.

In South Carolina the popular democratic vote has recalled Senator Cole Blease from the seat in the senate of the United States which he has occupied since March 4, 1925. They have chosen in his stead former Congressman Byrnes.

The replacement is that of an able, experienced and conservative legislator for one who has chosen to color his public career in state and national office with sensationalism,

a swashbuckling policy and trouble-breeding temperament. The senate and the nation will lose nothing to be deplored when Senator Blease returns to private life.

But South Carolina gains much by her Tuesday verdict. She returns to the standard of intelligence, statesmanship and patriotism that was set for her in her beginning by Pierce Butler and Ralph

Izard, and maintained for a century

by her Sumters, Galliards, Calhouns, Rhets, Prestons, Pinckneys and Hamptons. The vote of Tuesday represents a happy resurgence of the people of South Carolina to their former prestige of conservatism and pride.

In Louisiana the story is different. An able, discreet and devoted public servant, Senator Ransdell, is to be replaced by Governor Huey

P. Long, who has made an unsavory reputation for himself throughout the nation for lack of good sense, self-respect and regard for the character and influence of the noble old Pelican state. His political successes have been freakish to the eyes of all national observers. He exposes no element of statesmanship.

But the democratic electors of Louisiana have spoken and preferred him. They had the right to prefer him over the veteran who ple what he thinks of himself and his works. He is reputed to be quite an optimist.

COURAGE AND LAW WON.

Tuesday evening a deplorable and possibly tragic event was prevented here in Atlanta by the diplomacy and courage of Captain Grover Fain, of the city police force. An angry company of men, aroused to avenge

the brutal murder of a fellow worker, Motorman McWhorter, gathered at the colored clinic of Grady hospital, evidently designing to drag out the wounded desperado charged with the murder.

Captain Fain met them, commanding protective patrolmen, and persuaded the gathering to realize their obligation as law-abiding citizens and retire from their purpose to override the course of justice. With great tact he poured oil of humor upon the more rabid insurgents and finally, by a brave declaration that none of them could mistake, he warned them not to cross the deadline between law-observance and law defiance. They understood him and went away, leaving the law and its courageous captain in control of the situation.

One can easily sympathize with the feelings of outrage that moved the men who thought to defend their peaceful occupations by day and night from murderous bandit assaults upon them. And every one must commend them for listening to reason when spoken to with sympathy and courage by an officer of the law.

Justice in Georgia, especially in Atlanta, can be safely trusted to protect the people, or punish those who despoil them of property or life. We must all rest upon that trust. The mob spirit is always a lawless one and no work ever done by it has served the causes of order and justice.

The public of the city and state will applaud both the bravery and fidelity of Captain Fain and the good citizenship of the men who surrendered to his persuasion and authority.

GEORGIA FARMS INCREASING.

A bulletin from the bureau of census gives the figures showing increase and decrease of farms in the states of New Jersey, Delaware,

Maryland and Georgia. Why the bulletin figures are confined to those states is not explained, but probably they were the ones completed when the bulletin was compiled.

The main interest we find in the figures is in the fact that between 1925 and 1930 the numbers of farms decreased in all the states named except Georgia, and in this state they increased by 7,157, or

2.9 per cent. The total of farms in Georgia on April 1 of this year was 256,252 as compared with 249,-

095 on January 1, 1925.

In that same period of five and a quarter years the farms of New Jersey decreased by 5,108, or 17.2

per cent, and those of Maryland decreased by 5,688, or 11.6 per cent.

The total decrease in New Jersey for the decade, 1920-1930, was 17.3

per cent, that of Maryland was 17.5 per cent, and that of Georgia was 17.5 per cent, for between 1920 and 1930 the number of farms in Georgia fell from 310,732 to 256,252, showing a net loss in 10 years of 54,480.

But all of the gross loss, 61,637 was between 1920 and 1925, and since 1925 we have gained 7,157

and reduced the net, as above stated, to 54,480. So it will surprise a great many Georgians who have been deploring the decadence of farming in this state to learn that officially that there has been a reverse tide in the last five years.

Farming has been regaining its losses at the rate of 1,431 plus farms for each of those five years just past. The implication is confirmatory of what we have all along contended, that farming in Georgia is not only attractive, but can be

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

BY PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

Bathing

Costumes.

In Rome they are of the opinion that it is time to bring some order in the chaos of the feminine bathing costumes. The problem is being complicated as it is ancient. Different civilizations have solved it in different ways. But there is no unanimity in the matter, and so the question of the bathing costume bobs up as regularly as summer fashions spring. If the ladies would use their revealing costumes to go into the water, giving the indiscrete telescope users only a mere flash of that spectacle which was put to flight by Audran, if they would only make use of the costume, the ladies, nobody could say a word. But they are actually turning their bathing costumes into walking-out clothes.

They promenade in the parks and along the board walks and even enter the cafes and refreshment stations along the outer boulevards of the more fashionable resorts. And if they are only promading, of course, must strike

all sorts of artistic poses in the bargains. What would happen, one wonder if some of those bathing beauties accoured the way they are, started to do their shopping in our main streets in their beach costumes? The shops would soon run out of stock.

There is little doubt about it. Still this is not only not tolerated but highly appreciated by the season's tourists.

There are two systems of modesty, one for the town and another for the beach? The problem becomes more intricate the longer one considers it. Perhaps in our feverish age of law-making, some country could devise a special beach for amateurs of the plastic arts, where the rules could be relaxed a little. Art for art's sake, so to speak. But then, we may be sure nobody would care to visit the non-artistic beaches.

A Growing

Movement.

The Flemish question, which is a matter of international importance for the simple reason that it is a threat to the existence of the Belgian state, which in turn is an important element in the European balance of power, this question has suddenly assumed a religious character. Every year the Flemings make a pilgrimage to the Yser, where a hundred thousand of their brethren who died in the war lie buried. Before going to the battlegrounds mass is celebrated in the market place of Ypres. Last year there were close to 200,000 pilgrims led by their parish priests from all over the country. Thirty special trains were necessary to convey the multitude to and from Ypres. This annual demonstration is growing each year in size and also in political importance.

It cannot be denied that it has assumed a distinctly anti-Belgian character. A few weeks ago the Belgian bishops gave out a joint pastoral letter in which occurred the exhortation to Flemings and Walloons alike that they should not let themselves be led by a joint letter protesting against the designation of Belgium as their fatherland. To this the bishops have in turn replied with the announcement that no priest will be permitted to celebrate mass on the Yser, and so the square this year on the occasion of the pilgrimage. Last year, it should be added, there were thousands of priests in the procession. And so the chaos deepens all the time.

Feminine

Courage.

None of the women who were executed as spies in France in the course of the Great War showed the least fear when they faced the firing squad.

The women who were executed in Londra, of St. Lazare prison, who looked after the condemned spies, accompanied them in the last tragic trip from the prison to the execution field in Vincennes. Curiously enough, the Sister revealed, all the women spies entertained the notion that they would not really be executed. They

LOOKING AND LISTENING

BY SAM W. SMALL.

Interesting Things Throwing Light Upon

the School Book Trust Issue.

Much has been said in the primary campaign just ended, by candidates for governor, for superintendent of schools, and for the legislature, on the subject of the school book trust,

the matter, and so the question of the school book trust, at cost, contracting and selling them at cost and even at cost and even

1997, 1998, 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003, 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2018, 2019, 2020, 2021, 2022, 2023, 2024, 2025, 2026, 2027, 2028, 2029, 2030, 2031, 2032, 2033, 2034, 2035, 2036, 2037, 2038, 2039, 2040, 2041, 2042, 2043, 2044, 2045, 2046, 2047, 2048, 2049, 2050, 2051, 2052, 2053, 2054, 2055, 2056, 2057, 2058, 2059, 2060, 2061, 2062, 2063, 2064, 2065, 2066, 2067, 2068, 2069, 2070, 2071, 2072, 2073, 2074, 2075, 2076, 2077, 2078, 2079, 2080, 2081, 2082, 2083, 2084, 2085, 2086, 2087, 2088, 2089, 2090, 2091, 2092, 2093, 2094, 2095, 2096, 2097, 2098, 2099, 2100, 2101, 2102, 2103, 2104, 2105, 2106, 2107, 2108, 2109, 2110, 2111, 2112, 2113, 2114, 2115, 2116, 2117, 2118, 2119, 2120, 2121, 2122, 2123, 2124, 2125, 2126, 2127, 2128, 2129, 2130, 2131, 2132, 2133, 2134, 2135, 2136, 2137, 2138, 2139, 2140, 2141, 2142, 2143, 2144, 2145, 2146, 2147, 2148, 2149, 2150, 2151, 2152, 2153, 2154, 2155, 2156, 2157, 2158, 2159, 2160, 2161, 2162, 2163, 2164, 2165, 2166, 2167, 2168, 2169, 2170, 2171, 2172, 2173, 2174, 2175, 2176, 2177, 2178, 2179, 2180, 2181, 2182, 2183, 2184, 2185, 2186, 2187, 2188, 2189, 2190, 2191, 2192, 2193, 2194, 2195, 2196, 2197, 2198, 2199, 2200, 2201, 2202, 2203, 2204, 2205, 2206, 2207, 2208, 2209, 2210, 2211, 2212, 2213, 2214, 2215, 2216, 2217, 2218, 2219, 2220, 2221, 2222, 2223, 2224, 2225, 2226, 2227, 2228, 2229, 2230, 2231, 2232, 2233, 2234, 2235, 2236, 2237, 2238, 2239, 2240, 2241, 2242, 2243, 2244, 2245, 2246, 2247, 2248, 2249, 2250, 2251, 2252, 2253, 2254, 2255, 2256, 2257, 2258, 2259, 2260, 2261, 2262, 2263, 2264, 2265, 2266, 2267, 2268, 2269, 2270, 2271, 2272, 2273, 2274, 2275, 2276, 2277, 2278, 2279, 2280, 2281, 2282, 2283, 2284, 2285, 2286, 2287, 2288, 2289, 2290, 2291, 2292, 2293, 2294, 2295, 2296, 2297, 2298, 2299, 2300, 2301, 2302, 2303, 2304, 2305, 2306, 2307, 2308, 2309, 2310, 2311, 2312, 2313, 2314, 2315, 2316, 2317, 2318, 2319, 2320, 2321, 2322, 2323, 2324, 2325, 2326, 2327, 2328, 2329, 2330, 2331, 2332, 2333, 2334, 2335, 2336, 2337, 2338, 2339, 2340, 2341, 2342, 2343, 2344, 2345, 2346, 2347, 2348, 2349, 2350, 2351, 2352, 2353, 2354, 2355, 2356, 2357, 2358, 2359, 2360, 2361, 2362, 2363, 2364, 2365, 2366, 2367, 2368, 2369, 2370, 2371, 2372, 2373, 2374, 2375, 2376, 2377, 2378, 2379, 2380, 2381, 2382, 2383, 2384, 2385, 2386, 2387, 2388, 2389, 2390, 2391, 2392, 2393, 2394, 2395, 2396, 2397, 2398, 2399, 2400, 2401, 2402, 2403, 2404, 2405, 2406, 2407, 2408, 2409, 2410, 2411, 2412, 2413, 2414, 2415, 2416, 2417, 2418, 2419, 2420, 2421, 2422, 2423, 2424, 2425, 2426, 2427, 2428, 2429, 2430, 2431, 2432, 2433, 2434, 2435, 2436, 2437, 2438, 2439, 2440, 2441, 2442, 2443, 2444, 2445, 2446, 2447, 2448, 2449, 2450, 2451, 2452, 2453, 2454, 2455, 2456, 2457, 2458, 2459, 2460, 2461, 2462, 2463, 2464, 2465, 2466, 2467, 2468, 2469, 2470, 2471, 2472, 2473, 2474, 2475, 2476, 2477, 2478, 2479, 2480, 2481, 2482, 2483, 2484, 2485, 2486, 2487, 2488, 2489, 2490, 2491, 2492, 2493, 2494, 2495, 2496, 2497, 2498, 2499, 2500, 2501, 2502, 2503, 2504, 2505, 2506, 2507, 2508, 2509, 2510, 2511, 2512, 2513, 2514, 2515, 2516, 2517, 2518, 2519, 2520, 2521, 2522, 2523, 2524, 2525, 2526, 2527, 2528, 2529, 2530, 2531, 2532, 2533, 2534, 2535, 2536, 2537, 2538, 2539, 2540, 2541, 2542, 2543, 2544, 2545, 2546, 2547, 2548, 2549, 2550, 2551, 2552, 2553, 2554, 2555, 2556, 2557, 2558, 2559, 2560, 2561, 2562, 2563, 2564, 2565, 2566, 2567, 2568, 2569, 2570, 2571, 2572, 2573, 2574, 2575, 2576, 2577, 2578, 2579, 2580, 2581, 2582, 2583, 2584, 2585, 2586, 2587, 2588, 2589, 2590, 2591, 2592, 2593, 2594, 2595, 2596, 2597, 2598, 2599, 2600, 2601, 2602, 2603, 2604, 2605, 2606, 2607, 2608, 2609, 2610, 2611, 2612, 2613, 2614, 2615, 2616, 2617, 2618, 2619, 2620, 2621, 2622, 2623, 2624, 2625, 2626, 2627, 2628, 2629, 2630, 2631, 2632, 2633, 2634, 2635, 2636, 2637, 2638, 2639, 2640, 2641, 2642, 2643, 2644, 2645, 2646, 2647, 2648, 2649, 2650, 2651, 2652, 2653, 2654, 2655, 2656, 2657, 2658, 2659, 2660, 2661, 2662, 2663, 2664, 2665, 2666, 2667, 2668, 2669, 2670, 2671, 2672, 2673, 2674, 2675, 2676, 2677, 2678, 26

WRONG NEGRO SLAIN, SAYS DARIEN MAYOR

Willie Bryan Not One Sought in Attempted Robbery and Murder of Officer.

DARIEN, Ga., Sept. 10.—(P)—Mayor E. A. Young, of Darien, Wednesday issued a positive statement that Willie Bryan, the negro who died of gunshot wounds in the Savannah jail Tuesday, was not the man wanted as the companion of George Grant, another negro, who was lynched in the jail here Monday for the slaying of County Chief of Police Bob Freeman.

"We are convinced the negro taken to Savannah after he had been shot by deputies was not the negro with Grant when they attempted to rob the Darien bank and shot and wounded Special Officer Anderson," said the mayor's statement.

Continuing the mayor said: "Special Officer Anderson has given us evidence that eliminates the dead negro as a suspect. On the basis of Officer Anderson's assurance, I am wiring the police heads at Savannah, Brunswick and Jacksonville to keep a sharp lookout for Fred Bryant, the negro we want, who weighs over 200 pounds and is ginger-cake in color.

"I have nothing but praise for the Savannah military and my expression of their service will be of appreciation. They unselfishly gave their time to Darien in an hour of distress and the citizens appreciate it.

"The most lamentable part of the whole affair was the death of Chief of Police Bob Freeman, of Brunswick. He was a brave and fearless officer and went to his death in defense of law and order. Our sincere sympathy goes to his family."

The mayor said he was preparing a report to Adjutant General Parker as to the entire incident and the assistance given here by the military.

TWO NEGROES TO BE FREED.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 10.—(P)—Acting under instructions from Sheriff Poppell, of McIntosh county, two of the three negroes held in Chatham county jail in connection with the slaying of Acting Chief Bob Freeman, of Glynn county police in Darien last Monday, will be turned loose in the morning by authorities here and the third one, Fred Bryant, Sr., will be held for further investigation.

Fred Bryant, Jr., and James Bryant will be those freed. Colonel W. R. Neel, commander of the 11th field artillery, wired Sheriff Poppell today asking what disposition to make of the three men brought here night before last. The military officers, Sheriff Poppell wired back that Fred Bryant, Jr., and James Bryant should be given their freedom and the elder Fred Bryant, Sr., should be kept in custody here to await further orders.

The hunt for the second negro thought by Darien and McIntosh county officials to be implicated in the slaying of Freeman and wounding of two other police officials stopped in Darien today at noon, in so far as systematic search of swamps and outlying territory was concerned. Police officials in neighboring cities and towns were asked to keep a sharp lookout for the suspected missing man, who is described as dark ginger-cake color, about 200 pounds in weight, about 6 feet tall, and has a slight stoop.

Darien was quiet today, said both Sheriff Poppell and Chief T. C. McQuinn, of McIntosh county. There is no vestige of excitement left in the town along the Altamaha which earlier in the week was in the throes of the greatest fever. Both Sheriff Poppell and Special Officer Anderson, the latter shot three times, are fully convinced that the man Willie Bryant, who died here yesterday, was not one of the two negroes who slew Chief Freeman. Willie Bryant was shot in the chest twice while going away from officers after being taken to jail. He had turned to fire at the officers when the wounds were inflicted, thus presenting his chest to the posse.

There is doubt in the minds of Darien police that much of the stuff found in Willie Bryant's home was stolen, but there is now a probability

Athens Offers 9 Sites For Disabled Vets' Home

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 10.—Athens is offering nine different sites for the National Disabled Veterans' home which will be built in the southeast by the United States government.

The home will be built at a cost of $2,000,000, and the chamber of commerce here, assisted by other organizations and citizens, is making an active effort to obtain the new unit for this community.

Secretary C. D. Terrell, of the chamber of commerce, has prepared detailed information about Athens' health condition, water and electric supply, climate and other data about the community.

The first meeting will be held at the Brunswick First church at 10 o'clock Monday morning, September 15. The church and pastors present will be: Brunswick First, Rev. W. P. Blevins; Brunswick, McKendree, Rev. T. E. Davenport; Brunswick circuit, Rev. S. P. Clark; Honville, Rev. J. M. Patterson; White Oak, Rev. John Swain; Jesup, Rev. W. L. Wright; Odum, Rev. L. E. Pierce; Hinesville, Rev. J. D. McDowell; Ludowick, Rev. C. W. Jordan.

The second meeting will be at Waycross First church Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The churches and pastors present will be: Waycross First, Rev. J. M. Peacock; Waycross Trinity, Rev. W. A. Kelley; Holbrookville, Rev. S. P. Clark; Honville, Rev. J. M. Patterson; Folkston, Rev. C. L. Nease; Nahutta, Rev. R. F. Owen; Blackshear, Rev. Mack Anthony; Screven, Rev. J. D. McDowell; Wareboro, Rev. W. C. Rahn.

The third meeting will be at Douglas at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. The churches and pastors present will be: Douglas, Rev. T. B. Stanford; Broxton, Rev. O. C. Minglehoff; West Green, Rev. J. C. Hillis; Alma, Rev. F. B. Hooks; Alma circuit, Rev. C. R. Williams; Pearson, Rev. E. P. Ratliff; Willacochee, Rev. E. P. Ratliff.

The presiding elder, Rev. James R. Webb, will be in charge at each of the meetings. Bishop John M. Moore, recently assigned to the South Georgia conference, will be present at the Waycross and Douglas meetings and will address the church groups on the state of the church.

DISABLED VETERANS FORM NEW CHAPTER

HARTWELL, Ga., Sept. 10.—A chapter of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, known as the George B. Cason chapter, has been formed here with a membership of twenty. The chapter was organized here by W. R. ("Cap") Joyner, national deputy chief of staff, of Atlanta. Dr. W. E. McCurry was elected president, and Colonel John M. Morris, state executive committee man, has been elected secretary.

Members of the chapter are expected to join the Hartwell chapter in the organization of other chapters in adjoining counties.

PREMIUM LIST FIXED FOR HANCOCK FAIR

SPARTA, Ga., Sept. 10.—The premium list for the eleventh annual Hancock county fair will be published this week and delivered to the farmers of the county.

There is much interest in the fair this year, which will open on Monday, October 20, and last a full week. The J. J. Page exposition shows will furnish the midday attractions.

According to S. D. Truitt, county agent and manager of the fair, the exhibits this year will be larger and more varied than ever before.

Special place will be fixed up for the negroes of the county to exhibit their farm products, as has been the custom for several years past, and negotiations now point to much interest by the negro farmers in the fair.

That some of it might have been sent him by relatives living north. A spread found among the goods has been proved a gift from a resident of Darien.

SLAYER OF BROWNS NAMED IN CONFESSION

One of Three Men Fired Fatal Shots, Says Man Held as Suspect.

VALDOSTA, Ga., Sept. 10.—Owen Corbett, held as a material witness, Wednesday afternoon, made a confession which cleared up the part of the mystery surrounding the slayings of W. H. Browning and his wife near here on the night of August 21.

In his jail cell, Corbett told officers that he had been asked to take part in the killing, but declined, and said that Homer Padgett, another held as a witness, was implicated in the affair.

He then went to the jail in another county where Padgett was confined, and confronted him with Corbett's confession. Padgett then admitted that he stood across the highway when the fatal shots were fired, declaring that Travers Erwin, W. L. Cheny, father-in-law of Erwin, was the man named Allen Westberry, who was on the opposite side of the highway and that one of them shot Browning and his wife.

Allen Westberry is an uncle of Austin Westberry, who is held along with Padgett as a material witness. Erwin and Cheny were held for a time as witnesses and finally released. Cheny was charged with the slaying of the last man to have business with Browning, stopping at the filling station and paying him some money, after which he drove his truck about 220 yards down the highway and stopped.

He said a fire went bad and he was in it, and thought he was in danger of being killed. He did not hear the shots nor the cries of his Browning as she ran screaming into her bedroom. Her husband had been killed and she had been wounded.

Cheny further told the officers that he did not know of the murder until the following afternoon.

As soon as the confessions were obtained officers hurried to Valdosta and bench warrants were issued for Cheny, Westberry and Erwin and officers arrested them late Wednesday afternoon.

Officers suspecting who have been held so far in connection with the case have been in jails elsewhere, to prevent them from having communication with anyone.

BARNESVILLE COUNCIL NAMES CITY OFFICERS

BARNESVILLE, Ga., Sept. 10.—At a meeting of the city council of Barnesville, the following officers were elected to serve the ensuing year: Clerk and treasurer, E. L. Cook; night of police, Scott Revere; night of William, John M. Howard and H. W. Williams, superintendent of water department, W. Y. Andrews; electrician of waterworks station, J. A. Matthews; chief of fire department, W. B. Smith, Jr.; assistant chief of fire department, Joe H. Smith; engineer of fire department, P. D. Myers; city physician, Dr. C. H. Willis; city attorney, Colonel Claude C. Christopher. It was decided to hold an election on September 22 for the purpose of electing members of the city board of education to fill unexpired terms of B. M. Turner and W. T. Summers, resigned.

SUMTER FARMER WINS TON-LITTER CONTEST

MOULTRIE, Ga., Sept. 10.—A. H. Jennings, Sumter county farmer, won first prize in the annual ton-litter contest here. His litter embraced 12 hogs weighing 3,682 pounds at the age of six months. The hogs were sold to Swift & Co. for $427.32, which is in addition to $105 in prizes already won. The hogs cost $197 to feed and the estimate of production was $5.09 per cwt. A number of litter participants in the showing where the Jennings hogs were awarded first prize. H. A. Giffitt, county agent, accompanied the litter to Moultrie and assisted the owner in showing them.

NATIONAL GUARD UNIT SOUGHT FOR ATHENS

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 10.—Plans for organization here of a unit of the Georgia national guard are being pushed by the Athens Lions' Club. Upon motion of Valco Lyle, a member of the club, the organization endorsed the proposal that the adjutant general of Georgia be requested to locate here one of the coast guard or machine gun companies. Athens has a large number of reserve officers.

State Deaths and Funerals

J. O. MILLER.

WATKINSVILLE, Ga., Sept. 10.—J. O. Miller, 70, prominent citizen and church worker, died suddenly at his home here at noon Wednesday. He is survived by his wife and six children.

FUNERAL OF A. B. SHEFFIELD.

QUITMAN, Ga., Sept. 10.—Funeral services were held here Wednesday afternoon from the residence of the late Albert B. Sheffield, who died Monday morning. Mr. Sheffield was married about 1905 to Miss Elsie Pannoke, of Milwaukee, who survives him. He is survived by three brothers, Elmer Sheffield, of Quitman; M. Sheffield, Dallas, Texas; Edgar Sheffield, and two sisters, Miss Minnie Sheffield, and Mrs. Julian Heath.

He was one of the Battle of Gettysburg, of this place. A Confederate soldier. His mother was Miss Mary Hunt, of Richmond, Va., and the family was prominent on both sides of the house.

HUBERT T. MANLEY.

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 10.—Hubert T. Manley, 47, prominent citizen of Franklin county, died Wednesday morning at private hospital here. Mr. Manley's death in the prime of life came suddenly as the result of an attack of spinal meningitis which developed only two days ago.

Mr. Manley was born and reared in Franklin county and was widely known throughout that section of the state. He had been a resident of Athens nearly two years, having bought the Acworth hotel in 1928 and assuming management soon afterwards. He was a member of the Baptist church and an influential and substantial citizen. He is survived by his wife, one son, W. D. Manley, daughter, Mrs. S. S. Waldron; grandmother, Miss Louise Waldron; all of Acworth, two sisters and four brothers.

FUNERAL OF J. M. DAVIS.

ACWORTH, Ga., Sept. 10.—Funeral services for John H. Davis, proprietor of Hotel Acworth, who died at his home here Sunday, were held at 2 o'clock Wednesday at the home of his father, Mr. J. M. Davis, at 1000 North Main street. The services were conducted by Rev. J. C. Collins, pastor of the Acworth Baptist church, assisted by Rev. Barton, pastor of the Blue Ridge Baptist church.

Mr. Davis was born and reared in Blue Ridge, Ga., and was a resident of Acworth for many years. He had been a resident of Acworth nearly two years, having bought the Acworth hotel in 1928 and assuming management soon afterwards. He was a member of the Baptist church and an influential and substantial citizen. He is survived by his wife, one son, W. D. Davis, daughter, Mrs. S. S. Waldron; grandmother, Miss Louise Waldron; all of Acworth, two sisters and four brothers.

Arrived and Sailed.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 10.—(P)—Arrived: George H. Philadelphia; Selma City, Calcutta.

Sailed: Balgown, British, Bremen; George G. Henry, Baltimore; City of Chattanooga, Boston, via New York; Tashmoo, Norfolk.

Dr. Calhoun to Speak.

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 10.—Dr. Phinizy Calhoun, of Atlanta, president of the University of Georgia Alumni Society, will deliver the opening address at the University of Georgia September 17. Registration begins at the university Thursday morning with indications that the largest freshman class in its history will enroll.

Swainsboro Church Renovated.

SWAINSBORO, Ga., Sept. 10.—The Primitive Baptist church here are remodeling their church building here. It is understood that the contract calls for lowering the present church building and making an addition. The work is in charge of T. E. Coleman, Valdosta contractor.

Valdosta Hog Sale.

VALDOSTA, Ga., Sept. 10.—The first hog sale of the season will be held at Dasher's stock yards in Valdosta on Thursday of this week. These sales have proved the most profitable way of marketing hogs in the past.

Hardware Deal Consummated.

SPARTA, Ga., Sept. 10.—A deal has been consummated here whereby George L. Brown, local farm machinery dealer became owner of the stock and fixtures of the Hancock Hardware Company. The store had been closed for several weeks and Mr. Brown purchased the stock from M. G. Pound, who bought it in when sold.

Bridge Under Construction.

SPARTA, Ga., Sept. 10.—A crew of bridge builders are at work on the cement and steel bridge being erected over Whitten creek on the new Sparta and Greensboro road which forms the Hancock sector of the Detroit-Jacksonville highway by Greensboro and Athens. The workmen expect to complete the bridge in the next few weeks, if the weather is favorable.

Rains Help Truck Crops.

SPARTA, Ga., Sept. 10.—The late rains which have fallen this week will probably be of great benefit to the truck crops and the late corn and cotton in this county, unless there is too much moisture, which would injure the open cotton. The rain so far has brought here to improve the young corn and cotton now maturing.

Georgia News Told in Brief

Farmer Commits Suicide.
DONALSONVILLE, Ga., Sept. 10.—James Ivey, 62, prominent farmer, residing two miles from here, committed suicide Wednesday at his home with a shotgun.

Forget-Me-Not Sale.
WAYCROSS, Ga., Sept. 10.—How and H. Glenn, former state commander of the department of Georgia Disabled American Veterans of the World War, and W. R. Joiner, of Atlanta, national deputy chief of staff of the D. L. V., arrived here to arrange for the holding of a Forget-Me-Not sale drive in Waycross within the next few weeks.

Thomasville Crop.
THOMASVILLE, Ga., Sept. 10.—The board of commissioners of Thomas county met at the courthouse in Thomasville on Wednesday to fix the tax rate for the county for the year. The rate this year is to be 15 mills, which is the same as last year, and in fact the same it has averaged for several years. One year it went up to 15.12 mills, but the average was maintained when it dropped in another year to only 14.12 mills.

Record Cotton Crop.
THOMASVILLE, Ga., Sept. 10.—All indications continue to point to a record-breaking crop of cotton in Thomas county this season. County Commissioner Duncan Bickley, of the town of Meigs, in the northern section of the county, stated here that the cotton in his town alone now amounted to approximately 4,500 bales, and there will be several thousand more bales gained there before the season is over.

Highway Work.
THOMASVILLE, Ga., Sept. 10.—Laying concrete pavement out of here on the road of the highway leading to Tallahassee, Fla., got off with a big rush. More than 1,100 feet were put down on the first day of the work, and the concrete was laid by the company of St. Augustine, Fla., who have the contract, expect to average not less than 1,000 feet daily until the contract is completed. The Florida portion of this highway was paved and opened to traffic about two years ago.

Hog Sale Scheduled.
LOUISVILLE, Ga., Sept. 10.—The Jefferson county hog sale will be held here during the morning of September 18 under the direction of W. H. Horsch, the Jefferson county agent. Hogs are bringing a good price, it is understood, and Mr. Horsch advises that all who have hogs ready for sale bring them in to this sale.

Emory Junior To Open.
VALDOSTA, Ga., Sept. 10.—The grounds and buildings at Emory Junior college are receiving attention in preparation for the opening of the fall school. The year of the institution. The opening date is set for September 25, simultaneous with the opening of Emory University in Atlanta, the parent organization.

Ordinance Proposed For Testing Of Cows

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 10.—(P)—Dr. Peter F. Bahnsen, director of dairy production of the state department of agriculture, is expected here Thursday to attend a conference to consider a proposed ordinance to regulate the testing of cows for contagious abortion.

This is with a view to the prevention of undulant fever, Mayor Gordon Sausay will preside. Chatham county dairymen will attend, as well as members of the city health committee, under the auspices of which the conference is being held. Dr. Bahnsen said he thought an amicable settlement of differences could be arranged after he had secured additional information in Atlanta. The matter of cost has not cost largely into the situation, the dairymen complaining that it would be excessive to them.

Mississippi Tax Decision Delayed

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 10.—(P)—Collection of Mississippi's "special" gross sales tax on chain stores will be held up until a final determination of the legality of the tax is made in the United States supreme court.

A temporary injunction issued some time ago against collection of the tax by the state tax commission from the J. C. Penney Stores of Meridian, was followed yesterday with a federal injunction, issued by the federal court, which enjoined the state from collecting the tax.

The Penney stores contend that the extra tax sought levied against chain stores is a violation of the constitution of the United States in that it is an unjust and unlawful discrimination against certain forms of merchandise.

The attorney-general's office announced that the injunction would be contested by the state, either with a motion for dissolution or an appeal to the United States supreme court.

Bishop J. M. Moore To Speak in Macon

MACON, Ga., Sept. 10.—Bishop John M. Moore, of the Georgia and Florida Methodist conferences, will come here Sunday to preach at the Mulberry Street Methodist church. He was elected to the episcopacy in 1915 at the general conference in Atlanta, and since that time the greater part of his administration has been in the western states. His home has been in Dallas, but he will move to Atlanta this fall to devote his whole time to the churches of Georgia and Florida.

He has visited Macon many times, having preached and lectured for the pastors' schools of the South Georgia conference. While here he will visit Dr. and Mrs. Charles R. Jenkins.

The presiding elder of the South Georgia district will meet him at the Mulberry Street Methodist church September 17 to arrange for the South Georgia conference to be held in Thomasville November 19.

The third quarterly conference of the Mulberry Street Methodist church will be held Sunday, September 15, at 8 o'clock, with Rev. J. M. Outler, presiding elder, in charge.

MAYNARD AND HODGES RENAMED IN SUMTER

Ray and Carter Win Commission Posts; Other Results in State.

AMERICUS, Ga., Sept. 10.—Final compilations of results for local places in Wednesday's democratic primary show R. L. Maynard and A. F. Hodges renominated as representatives in the general assembly. For county commissioners, Neil A. Ray and Alton Carter were the successful candidates. Henry Clay was defeated for county commissioner and O. C. Johnson lost his race for representative.

Judge Malcolm Jones Renominated in Bibb.
MACON, Ga., Sept. 10.—(P)—Judge Malcolm D. Jones, of the Macon circuit, superior court, was renominated in Wednesday's primary over his opponent, Julian F. Urquhart, by more than a three-to-one vote.

Judge Jones carried Crawford, Peach, Houston and Bibb counties by about the same ratio. The vote in Bibb county was: Jones 2,563, Urquhart 794.

Judge Hugh Chambers of the municipal court also was returned to office, winning the nomination over his opponent, Harry E. Nottingham, by 2,053 to 1,301.

Judge Heery Wins Over Joseph C. Hester.
SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 10.—(P)—The only long contest in Chatham county was the race for associate judge of the municipal court in which Judge B. B. Heery, incumbent, was opposed by Joseph C. Hester, lawyer.

Heery's vote was a well-known man. Hester's vote was 2,039. Judge Heery has served eight years on the municipal court bench. He is also exalted ruler of the Savannah lodge of Elks.

Judge Davis Freeman, of the city court of Savannah, was unopposed for this office.

Wreck Is Fatal To Barwick Youth

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Sept. 10.—Wesley Austin Reddick, of the town of Barwick, on the eastern edge of this county, died Tuesday morning at the age of 19 years. He was in an automobile accident Sunday in which he suffered a fracture of the skull. He was brought here to the hospital for examination and for an operation. His condition was serious from the first, and he never rallied from his injuries. He was a well-known man in his section of the county, and has many relatives and friends who mourn his passing.

Milledgeville Youth Passes Air Exams

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Sept. 10.—News has been received here that Robert Hudson Taylor, who recently graduated with high honors from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, had passed the competitive air examinations at San Diego, Cal., 11 days ahead of the regular schedule.

He has been doing considerable flying, and his record at the airport has been most unusual since his arrival there. He will be stationed on the U. S. S. Oklahoma for staff practice from the decks this fall.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Taylor, of Milledgeville.

Athens Fire Chief Attends Convention

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 10.—Chief E. F. Lester, of the Athens fire department, has left for the international fire chiefs' convention at Winnipeg, Canada. Chief Lester also represents the Athens department at the state convention at Columbus and the southern fire chiefs' convention at Columbia, S. C. The latter organization will meet in Athens next year.

Injured in Accident.

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 10.—Ewell E. Yearwood, Athens contractor, was injured in an automobile accident. The car in which he was driving was damaged considerably. Mr. Yearwood was released from the hospital Wednesday.

Inferiority Complex May Lead to Crime

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 10.—Children who swear, fight and steal sometimes are making an effort to assert their manliness, and contradict any idea among their fellows that they are "sissies," in the opinion of Dr. A. S. Edwards, head of the department of psychology at the University of Georgia.

Dr. Edwards, in addressing the Clarke County Medical Society, declared that "the increasing burden and distaste of feeble-mindedness is forcing consideration not only of relieving conditions from generation to generation but of stopping the flow of defective heredity."

AMERICUS ROTARIANS SEEK PAVED ROUTE

AMERICUS, Ga., Sept. 10.—Americus Rotarians have taken up the task of obtaining a paved highway between Atlanta and Americus.

Route three is the highway the Rotarians want hard-surfaced, as this is the most traveled road between the two cities. The project of paving this highway has been discussed by the club members during some time past and this week the matter took concrete form.

A committee representing the club will appear before the highway commission on Friday in Atlanta to urge immediate work upon the paving of route three, and in this effort they will be supported by other civic organizations in Americus and numerous communities between Atlanta and Albany, all of whom are endeavoring to secure immediate action on the proposed paving project.

Teachers' College Opens at Statesboro

STATESBORO, Ga., Sept. 10.—The formal opening of the South Georgia Teachers' college took place in the college auditorium Wednesday.

The principal address was made by J. Randolph Anderson, of Savannah, who had in the early history of the institution been its loyal friend and chairman of the board of trustees. Anderson Hall was named for him.

More than 200 students have enrolled and a total enrollment of 300 is expected for the term.

Swainsboro High School.

SWAINSBORO, Ga., Sept. 10.—Superintendent Walter R. Morris has announced the opening of the Swainsboro High school Friday, September 12. The school has a full faculty and an enrollment of some 500 children is expected.

Peach County Schools.

FORT VALLEY, Ga., Sept. 10.—The Peach county consolidated schools of Fort Valley opened here this week with an enrollment of nearly 800.

J. F. Lambert, school superintendent and also superintendent of the county schools, is optimistic over the prospect of a fine school attendance in the county. C. E. Langston is principal of the high school of Fort Valley and there are a few changes in the personnel of the corps of teachers in both the city and county systems.

Injured in Accident.

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 10.—Ewell E. Yearwood, Athens contractor, was injured in an automobile accident. The car in which he was driving was damaged considerably. Mr. Yearwood was released from the hospital Wednesday.

Lucy Cobb College Will Open Monday

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 10.—Lucy Cobb junior college and institute will open next Monday, September 15. President James Brook announces that many improvements have been made, and additional facilities provided. He expects an increase in enrollment over that of last year.

In addition to extensive conditioning of dormitory rooms, bathrooms, dining hall, domestic science and commercial room and other classrooms, the large science hall has been completely renovated.

THE OFFICE OUTFITTERS

Ivan Allen-Marshall Co.

Successors to Fielder & Allen Co.

ATLANTA, GA.

Waterman Dealers in Atlanta

SCHOOLBOYS

off they trudge-happy and healthy—ready for plenty of work and plenty of play—and with

HUBIG'S

famous honey-fruit

PIES

in the lunch box

The food for growing girls, and boys

100% pure Fresh Daily at your grocer

at your grocer

Pick a school child's pen carefully—it's important to start him right

Good handwriting is a business and social asset. Start your child right

Raskob Postpones Address on Radio

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(UN)—The nationwide radio broadcast scheduled to be made Monday night by Chairman John J. Raskob, of the democratic committee, on "The Tariff From a Business Man's Viewpoint" has been postponed until some time in October or November.

The postponement was announced today by the National Broadcasting Company, which stated that Representative Joseph Byrns, Tennessee, chairman of the democratic committee, had been unable to get away from his home in time to make the broadcast.

sional campaign committee, would speak in his place in the weekly political series of broadcasts.

Coste Postpones Air Tour of U. S.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(AP)—A good-will flight around America by the French trans-Atlantic flier, Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellonte, was postponed today for at least a week because of a split propeller.

On the way to a polo match, Coste and Bellonte stopped at Curtiss airport today to see the aerial veteran in the plane which he had expected to begin their tour next Monday or Tuesday. They then discovered the defective propeller.

It is a wooden blade and as steel ones are used almost exclusively in this country for high-speed motors a spare had to be ordered from France. It can reach here September 17 at the earliest—so the tour is off until after that date.

Both fliers are anxious to get back to their own country but they said the damage would not mean abandonment of the tour, which is sponsored by a committee of 40, including Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd and Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow. Announcement of the itinerary was again deferred.

"Truly a Complete Service"

LIPSCOMB-WEYMAN-CHAPMAN CO.

Mortgage Loans—All Kinds of Insurance—Walnut 2162
Real Estate—Rentals

58 Marietta Street, N. W. (Marietta at Forsyth)

SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT for the six months ending June 30, 1930, of the LUMBERMEN'S INSURANCE COMPANY OF PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Organized under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania, made to the Governor of the State of Georgia in pursuance to the laws of said State.

Principal Office—430 Walnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.
Amount of Capital Stock $1,000,000.00
Total Assets of Company (Actual cash market value) $1,139,249.94
Total Liabilities $1,139,249.94
Total Income during the first six months of 1930 $82,013.32
Total Disbursements during the first six months of 1930 $82,013.32

A copy of the Act of Incorporation, duly certified, is in the office of the Insurance Commissioner.

STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA, COUNTY OF PHILADELPHIA.

Personally appeared before the undersigned, W. L. Hampton, who, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is Secretary of Lumbermen's Insurance Company, and that the foregoing statement is correct and true.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 28th day of August, 1930.

Commission expires end of next session Senate.

PROTECTION ESSENTIAL IN LITTLE ACCIDENTS

Constitution Offers Theater
Tickets With Insurance Policies.

So long as there has to be any such thing as an accident in the established order of events, little accidents will be in far greater favor than those classed under the head of big ones. But there's no way of telling that.

Roscoe Karns and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., in "The Little Accident," showing at Capitol theater.

An accident is going to be a little accident, so the only safe thing to do is to provide insurance protection, which is regarded as the best means so far devised to combat this great public menace.

Subscribers to The Atlanta Constitution are being offered a $10,000 travel and pedestrian accident insurance policy.

SUNDAY TRIPS

Tallahul Falls $1.50
Lakemont 1.75
Clayton 2.00
Mt. City 2.00
Franklin 2.25
Lv. Terminal Station 7:40 A. M.
Return to Atlanta 4:30 P. M.
Last trip September 14th

Southern Railway

ance policy at the exceptional low cost of $1 a year, and with each policy sold complimentary tickets are given to the theater party.

The offer provides for two tickets to the matinee or one ticket for the night performances. And with the first policy delivered each morning, The Constitution will give the purchaser a theater party ticket for the privilege of six seats.

Starting in the picture are Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Anita Page, two of the most popular of the younger screen actors. Among the featured players are Slim Summerville, of "All Quiet on the Western Front," Zasu Pitts, and Sally Blane, cash payments for permanent injuries, and from $10 to $20 weekly indemnity for disability resulting from specified accidents.

Detailed information as to the provisions of the policy appears elsewhere in this edition of The Constitution. Further information may be obtained at The Constitution's insurance booth in the Capitol theater or in the city circulation department of The Constitution.

The policy available to Constitution subscribers is issued by the North American Accident Insurance Company of Chicago, and the company has already paid more than $100,000 to Constitution policyholders.

Although it costs only $1 a year, the policy provides for payment of sums ranging downward from $10,000 in case of death resulting from certain accidents, to cash payments for permanent injuries, and from $10 to $20 weekly indemnity for disability resulting from specified accidents.

Detailed information as to the provisions of the policy appears elsewhere in this edition of The Constitution. Further information may be obtained at The Constitution's insurance booth in the Capitol theater or in the city circulation department of The Constitution.

Panama Canal Toll Showing Decrease

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Revenue traffic through the Panama Canal was said today by Colonel Harry Burgess, governor of the Canal Zone, to have fallen off sharply during the last three months as a result of the world-wide business depression.

The statement was made as he left the White House after a conference with President Hoover. Burgess added that the disturbed political situation in Panama had resulted from differences of opinion among members of the same party and said there was nothing about it.

Basing his estimate upon the revenues over the last three months, Burgess said he expected a decrease in canal revenues during the present fiscal year of about $1,000,000 of 1,200,000 tons as compared with the 1930 fiscal year. This would leave, however, he said, approximately $17,000,000 to be turned over to the government from operation of the canal.

Burgess discussed with the president, budget plans for next year.

Washington Informed Peru Frees American

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(AP)—The state department was informed officially today that Harold B. Grow, an American naval reserve aviator, who was imprisoned by the new Peruvian military junta, has been released.

Fred M. Dearing, American ambassador to Peru, cabled that Grow was expected to reach Lima tomorrow from Arequipa aboard the steamer Rihac. Grow, who headed the Peruvian air forces under former President Augusto B. Leguia, had been charged by the new government with intention of bombing the city of Arequipa.

Dearing also informed the department Charles Sutton, an American irrigation engineer employed by the former government, returned to his home yesterday. He said Harold B. Gildred, likewise held prisoner, also had been released.

2 Negroes Lynched By Mississippi Mob

SCOOBA, Miss., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Two negro prisoners were taken from two deputy sheriffs near here today by a mob and lynched. The two officers were tied to a tree by the mob.

The two negroes, accused of robbing Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCoy, on the Tennessee highway, were being transferred from DeKalb, Miss., to Scooba for preliminary trial on the robbery charge when the two officers said they were set upon by the mob and the prisoners taken away. After tying the two officers, Guy Byrd and J. J. Dotson, to a tree, the mob hanged the negroes to a nearby tree and departed.

The negroes were Pig Lockett and Holly White.

First reports from the scene of the lynching did not say how many persons were in the mob.

President Irigoyen Is Free of Fever

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 10.—(UN)—Former President Hipolito Irigoyen is fully convalescent, and wholly without fever, according to the official report of two eminent physicians who examined him today in behalf of the new Argentine government.

The physicians reported to Provisional President Jose Uriburu that Irigoyen is not ill, although he appears to be in a state of mental depression, and several times has expressed his desire to leave the country.

High's Basement Winks at Wholesale Costs Today in Wise Shopper's Day!

Clearance! Entire Stock Summer

Silk Frocks

50% off

Prices Already Drastically Cut!

Never before have dresses been offered at so low a price! Our entire stock of summer dresses is included. Every dress to go at absurdly low prices! In smart styles for every figure. Many of the dresses are suitable for early fall wear.

Now Priced $2.99 to $5

Sale Price 1/2 Off
These Low Prices

There is yet more hot weather to come in September and October! You'll need these dresses for the in-between season. In every beautiful color.

In becoming styles for Every Figure

Wise Shopper's
Bargains Thursday

"Second's" 39c Silk
Chiffon and Service Hose,
Pr. 19c

89c Handmade Gowns regular sizes 50c

59c Muslin and Broadcloth Slips.. 39c

59c Rayon Undies
Stepins,
Teds,
Bloomers ... 39c

29c 36x42
Pillow Cases,
Special! Ea.. 19c

29c Outing in Stripes,
Checks,
Solids. Yd. 19c

15c 36-in. Brown
Muslin.
Special! Yd. 9c

25c Gay Cretonnes, lovely new patterns. Yd. 15c

Now the Newest

Felts

Are "Perched" High on the Forehead

$1.88

Extra Values

The new hats have gone "way back" on the forehead. All our advanced collection have this lifted look, in off face, draped and brim styles.

MILLINERY DEPT.—BASEMENT

Women's 98c
House
Frocks, to Clear.... 39c

$1 to $1.98
Girdles and Corselettes . 25c

Girls' Rain
Caps, odds and ends... 5c

81-in. 39c
Brown Sheet-
ing. Yd. 25c

Boys' 69c Shirts-Blouses.
Sizes 6 to 15 years 49c

Men's 59c to 79c Athletic Union Suits. Slightly mussed.. 39c

$1 to $1.59
Sample Men's
Pajamas ... 88c

Boys' 98c
Wash Suits.
Sizes 3 to 8. 79c

Special Sale! Men's Fine NEW SHIRTS

Colors:
All White
Light Blue
Cool Green
Smart Tan

88c

Splendid quality shirts of fine broad-cloth and woven madras! Especially priced for Thursday selling! Well made and neatly finished. With collars attached.

In novelty prints and stripes also. Tailored for perfect fit.

BASEMENT

HIGH'S BARGAIN BASEMENT
The Economy Center of Atlanta

Honor To Brave Men— and A WARNING to their Attackers!

A series of bandit attacks upon operators of Atlanta street cars culminated Monday night in the murder of Operator J. B. McWhorter. Within a few hours and before day-break, two men had been captured, both wounded, with strong evidence pointing to them as the guilty parties. The Company takes this means of thanking publicly members of the police and detective departments and citizens of the neighborhood, both white and colored, who assisted in the speedy capture of the two suspects.

Mr. McWhorter died, defending not only his own life from cowardly attack but in defense also of the Company's property and money entrusted to him. Heroically, he stuck to his post and fought it out, driving off his attackers even though they had mortally wounded him.

We are proud of the men who operate Atlanta's street cars. Theirs is a heavy responsibility and they have measured up to it!

We honor these brave men, and we here and now serve warning on their attackers!

You Can't Get Away With It!

During the past 15 months, there have been 17 bandit attacks on street car operators.

In all but 2 of these attacks, the guilty parties have been brought to justice, with a speediness of arrest and trial far outstripping that in ordinary hold-up cases. One of the bandits is dead, shot down by the man he attacked, and 13 others are serving from one to 35 years. Five others have been indicted and are in jail awaiting trial.

As a promise to our men, and as a warning to robbers and other criminals, we make this statement:

The Georgia Power Company will pursue relentlessly each and every person guilty of an attack upon our men. As in the past, we will lend the assistance of our special investigators to the police in tracking down the criminals, slackening not in their pursuit until they have been captured. In every legal manner, we will aid the authorities in seeing that none of these attackers go unpunished.

The record so far made is proof of our seriousness of purpose. It is evidence of our determination to back our men to the limit. And it is a warning to any and all bandits—

You can't get away with it!

GEORGIA
POWER COMPANY

A CITIZEN WHEREVER WE SERVE

Commission Order Reduces Atlanta Natural Gas Rates

Cut To Become Effective With October Meter Readings, Public Service Ruling Announces.

Because earnings of the company since natural supplanted artificial gas show that a further revision of rates is necessary, the Georgia public service commission Wednesday issued an order reducing existing rates charged by the Atlanta Gas Light Company. The reduction is effective with meter readings for October.

An additional reason for the reduction, Chairman Perry explained, is to enable persons who desire to heat their homes with gas to do so without paying a higher rate than necessary. Representatives of the gas company said the new rates would affect all users of gas whose monthly bills were in excess of $4.15 and as a comparison of the cut pointed out that where a customer now pays $5.85 under the new rates he would pay only $5.45.

The net rates, old and new, follow:

	Old	New
Service charge6565
First 1,000 cubic feet of gas $1.30 $1.30
Next 2,000 cubic feet of gas 1.10x 1.10x
Next 2,000 cubic feet of gas85x85x
All over 5,000 cubic feet of gas65x65x
Next 17,000 cubic feet of gas65x65x
All over 20,000 cubic feet of gas6060

The gross rates, old and new, are:

	Old	New
Service charge6565
First 1,000 cubic feet of gas $1.40 $1.40
Next 2,000 cubic feet of gas 1.20x 1.20x
Next 2,000 cubic feet of gas85x85x
All over 5,000 cubic feet of gas7575
Next 17,000 cubic feet of gas7575
All over 20,000 cubic feet of gas7070

The order is as follows:

"In re: Gas rates in Atlanta and vicinity, including Marietta. Rule nisi before Georgia public service commission.

"On December 9, 1929, effective with the first meter readings after the delivery of natural gas in Atlanta and vicinity, including Marietta, Georgia, we prescribed rates for natural gas applicable in said territory. This order required the Atlanta Gas Light Company to file a statement of its earnings and expenses each month and these reports indicate a further revision of these rates is warranted at this time. It is, therefore,

"Ordered: That effective with meter readings of October, 1930, and until further order of the commission, the following schedule of rates shall be the maximum rate to be charged by the Atlanta Gas Light Company for natural gas service in Atlanta and vicinity, including Marietta, Georgia:

"Available to all domestic gas consumers using natural gas service for any purpose, in a residence only.

"Prompt payment discount, all bills paid within 10 days from presentation, are subject to a discount of 10 cents per 1,000 cu. feet on all gas used.

"Minimum charge, service charge.

"Contract period, one year.

"Ordered further: That if for any reason the Atlanta Gas Light Company desires a hearing in regard to the rates provided for in the foregoing order, opportunity will be given at meeting beginning at 10 o'clock a. m., Friday, September 19, next, at the offices of the commission, State Capitol, Atlanta, Ga.

"By order of Georgia public service commission.

"Robert N. Springfield, secretary, James A. Perry, chairman."

What the Southeastern fair means to Atlanta in dollars and cents will be told today by Lee Ashcraft, Atlanta broker and one of the organizers of the fair association, speaking at the luncheon meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Further plans for the Jaycees in their campaign to have a record-breaking attendance of 300,000 at the Lakewood exhibition this year were outlined Wednesday afternoon by the Junior Chamber committee in a meeting with the executive committee of the Southeastern Fair Association. They call for a series of spectacular exhibitions which have never been seen before in connection with the fair here, in addition to the usual agricultural, live stock, mechanical and industrial exhibits and midway and grandstand attractions of previous Southeastern fairs.

Good Dental Work Is An Investment

Set of Teeth $10

HECOLITE PLATES $35

Bridge Work $5

Pyrexia Successfully Treated

Dr. C. A. Constantine

193 Peachtree St., Cor. Decatur

DR. A. S. LIBBY TO OPEN NEW BUSINESS SCHOOL

Institution Will Begin Enrollment of Students September 22.

A new business school located in the heart of downtown Atlanta, and said to be the first in the south to offer training for business careers with the thoroughness hitherto reserved for professions such as law and medicine, will begin the enrollment of students September 22, according to Dr. Arthur S. Libby, president and founder of the school.

The purpose of the new school will be twofold, according to Dr. Libby—first, to provide for graduates of preparatory schools who wish to take up their business training immediately, by offering a full four-year collegiate course leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree, and, second, to provide for college graduates who wish to equip themselves for executive positions or for teaching in secondary commercial schools, by offering professional courses leading to more advanced degrees.

The faculty will include men trained at Harvard, Columbia, Chicago, Northwestern and other leading universities, according to Dr. Libby, and each member will be required to maintain active professional connection with at least one representative business organization, thus affording students the advantage of being trained by men actively in touch with business circles, and of making valuable contacts which may lead to useful employment after graduation.

"The rapidly growing industrial and commercial south is forging ahead of her educational facilities," Dr. Libby stated. "For many years graduates of our colleges have been compelled to seek elsewhere advanced business training. Having gone to other sections and completed this training they have accepted positions offered them there, and the south has thus lost many potential business leaders. For years we have thus been drained of many of the choicest of our younger generation."

Dr. Libby, who has opened an office at 503 Chamber of Commerce building, was the organizer of the Lowry School of Banking and Commerce, with which he served for eleven years as dean. He was director of the Southern Bureau of Industrial Research for nine years, and professor of economics for the American Institute of Banking for ten years.

Florida Jail Shows Low Feeding Costs

PENSACOLA, Fla., Sept. 10.—(AP) The high cost of living is a myth at Pensacola's city jail. The monthly report of the jail shows meals served prisoners cost exactly 8-1/2 cents each. The menu includes meat, vegetables, coffee and bread. No prisoner ever has kicked because he didn't get enough, the jailor said.

Women Voters Post Figures On Balloting

City-wide co-operation of league women in all wards in the city made it possible Wednesday for the Atlanta League of Women Voters to display on a mammoth sign-board at Five Points the number registered in each ward of Fulton county and the number actually voting each hour in the state democratic primary.

The sign was placed at this conspicuous point in the city by the League of Women Voters, with the consent of the mayor and general council, as a part of their "Get-Out-The-Vote" effort which is a regular part of the league's program of work. League members were stationed at the various polling places throughout the city for the purpose of securing hour by hour the number of votes cast and forwarding the totals to league headquarters in the Candler Annex, from which point a messenger was dispatched to change the figures on the sign-board.

The women who made the returns during the day were: Mrs. J. D. Swagerty, Mrs. T. M. Stubbs, Mrs. L. H. Williams, Miss Caroline Rosborough, Mrs. Shatzen, Mrs. W. E. Trenary, Mrs. J. E. Andrews, Mrs. J. Milton Wallace, Mrs. T. O. Hathcock, Mrs. R. C. Irwin, Mrs. Mary Rogers, Mrs. George Murray, Mrs. W. F. Caldwell, Mrs. J. C. Gore and others.

The league secured excellent co-operation from the election officials at the various precincts and others interested in helping to stimulate interest in voting, officials reported.

Epworth Leaguers Addressed by Paty

The Sunday school and Epworth League convention of the Atlanta district of the C. M. E. church, with Dr. G. L. Word presiding, opened here Wednesday in St. John's church. The convention has very large delegations from throughout north Georgia. Among the pastors and visitors are: Doctors J. A. Martin, editor, Sunday school periodicals; J. H. Wiggins, J. D. Hudson, F. L. Finch, E. J. Leach, N. L. McNair, J. E. Murray, M. F. McAllister, J. E. Bugg, J. H. N. Turner.

The features of the convention are addresses by Dr. R. R. Paty, professor of religious education, Emory University; Dr. Martin and others. Dr. Paty addressed the session Wednesday on the subject, "The Christ Filled Life As the Governing Principle of Our Lives," while Dr. Martin is conducting daily the Sunday School Institute Upon Organization and Administration.

The convention will continue through Saturday. Appearing upon the program today will be Dr. J. D. Hudson, with others. Dr. J. H. Wiggins preached last night to a very full house. Rev. J. E. Murray will preach tonight.

Third Quarter Federal Taxes Paid Promptly

Revenue officials at the federal building Wednesday were agreeably surprised when they discovered that third-quarter payments of 1929 taxes are coming in at a rate of 10 to 15 per cent faster and with a similar increase in totals than in 1929.

The surprise was even greater when they took into account the fact that the tax rate for 1929 was 1 per cent lower both for individuals and corporations. The increased number of payments and the hiking of total receipts for the quarter was divided about equally in returns from both corporations and individuals, officials of the bureau said.

While it is customary at this time of the year for many of the smaller taxpayers to combine the third and fourth-quarter payments, the number who are doing so this year is also larger than it was in 1929, it was pointed out. Moreover, quite a substantial minority of taxpayers in Georgia, who fell in the $800 bracket in 1928, only pay the government $20 this year because of the lower rate and the revised exemptions.

Opportunity School Adds New Classes

Entering its second week of the new fall term with an enrollment of more than 300 students, the Atlanta Opportunity School Wednesday announced that beginning next Monday night at 7 o'clock it will inaugurate a number of classes in vocational training in mechanical arts, with a thorough course in sheet metal drawing, layout work, shop mathematics and practical shop work available in its classrooms at 53-1-2 Baker street.

Any Atlanta borough resident engaged in the sheet metal business during daylight hours is eligible for this course, it was announced. Classes will be held from 5 to 7 p. m.

Last Excursion FLORIDA

Cuba—So. Georgia
Saturday, Sept. 20

Brunswick $ 6.00
Jacksonville 9.00
Tampa 16.50
Miami 19.00
Havana 43.75

And to many other points

Southern Railway
City Ticket Office, 57 Luckie St., N. W., Phone WALnut 1961

Believe Your Banker HE KNOWS!

Now is the Logical Time to Accomplish Things—Buy—Use Your Money—Let it Work for You and—

The following excerpts are from a recently published interview with Atlanta's leading bankers.

Mr. Young laid stress on what he termed the "state of mind" of business leaders, declaring that, in his opinion, this psychological state was, to a large degree, the cause, while the existing depression is a natural effect.

Employment Good.

"It is all a case of psychology, or state of mind," he said. "During 'boom' times, when everything is going along splendidly, a builder will decide that he wishes to erect a building on a certain downtown corner. He will not hesitate to pay a price that he knows to be twice the value of a site. Money is plentiful and he makes use of his credit at the bank. But let a slump come and he will not do that."

Mr. Maddox emphasized his belief in the stability of business, setting forth the fact that the period of depression from which it is believed an emergence is due caused executives of large industries and commercial concerns to look sharply to economic measures eliminating waste, with the result that the advent of general improvement will find them more advantageously situated and therefore in better position to maintain a high standard of efficiency in operation of their concerns.

Like Mr. Young, the First National favors the growers of cotton.

Mr. Clay's view of the general situation coincided almost exactly with those of Mr. Young and Mr. Maddox. He pointed to the generous yield of Georgia crops, seeing in their harvest a relief from money stringency, set forth the fact that banks here have ample money for business and real estate, and foresaw in the approaching fall season a better trend in business and industry generally. He would not venture an opinion on the situation beyond the final quarter period, and with Mr. Young's view.

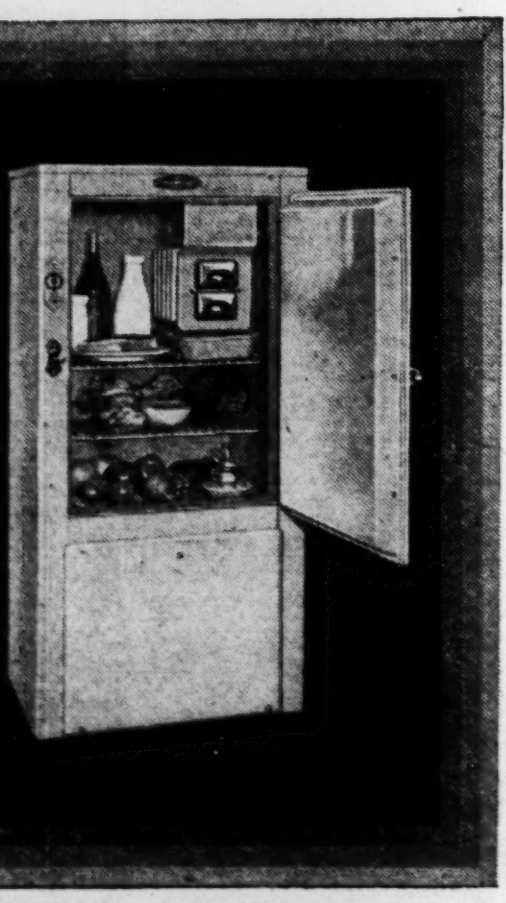

Read every advertisement in this issue of The Constitution. You'll not only find summer merchandise being offered at lowest close-out prices, but you'll discover new fall stocks announced and priced lower than in many years on merchandise of equal quality.

DON'T WAIT UNTIL LATER TO BUY—there's no use of it. Business conditions—prices—values and everything else that governs individual and collective welfare—says, ACT—PUT YOUR MONEY IN CIRCULATION.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

General Motors now offers this outstanding value!

Frigidaire in Porcelain-on-steel...inside and out only $157.50 CASH PRICE F.O.B. DAYTON

Porcelain! Lustrous, glacier-gray Porcelain-on-steel inside and out—easy to clean, beautiful, enduring. Yet the price is only $157.50 f. o. b. Dayton!

Think of it! Frigidaire at a price like this—a Frigidaire in Porcelain-on-steel. And a demonstration of the new G-3 Frigidaire makes this low price seem even more surprising. For here, enclosed in the bottom of the cabinet, is the extra-powerful time-proved Frigidaire mechanical unit. Here is the new, accessible, exterior "Cold Control"—the device which has made Frigidaire famous for faster freezing. Here are elevated shelves with 4 1/2 square feet of food storage space. Here are rounded corners and quality construction throughout.

In addition to the new G-3 Frigidaire, we also offer three larger models in glacier-gray Porcelain-on-steel—all priced proportionately low. Model G-4 with 6 square feet of food storage space, $167.50—Model G-5 with 8 square feet of food storage space, $185—Model G-6 with 9 square feet of food storage space, $210. All prices f. o. b. Dayton, Ohio.

See these latest achievements of Frigidaire and General Motors engineers. See for yourself the values you are offered at these revolutionary prices. Call at your first opportunity.

SPECIAL TERMS

Small down payment — a little each month

Frigidaire Sales Corp.

Atlanta Branch 252 Peachtree St. WAl. 0661

SON OF THE GODS

By REX BEACH

INSTALLMENT XXX.

In a voice that surprised her listeners, Alanna said: "Just a minute, I'd like to speak my piece. I'm awfully mad about the kittens. I never did— I love animals. I'd die before I'd hurt one. . . . The rest was true, except what you said about American girls. They're not all spoiled and selfish; you see only some like me. I know I was rotten. I came here to apologize to Sam. 'Oh, I say!' Bathurst exclaimed. 'I'm sorry I ran on as I did.'"

"That's all right. I've known the truth about myself for ages. I'm like a white and black cat. When you've had everything, it comes hard suddenly to find yourself without anything. Smash! Bang! All gone! I'm a fountain, because it makes people laugh. It's my principal accomplishment. This serves me right." There was a pause then the speaker inquired much. "Did I—hurt him much?" At Bathurst's answer, she flinched as if he had struck her. "I'll never forgive myself, of course. If I hadn't cared so terribly I couldn't have done it. But—he hurt me. I've never been hurt. Everything came to an end so swiftly—"

"Has it necessarily come to an end?"

"Oh, positively! There's no way out! You playwrights make absurd things happen on the stage, but in real life people have to be practical. They have to look facts in the face and live up to certain fixed rules of behavior, no matter how rebellious they may be."

"You're a good little sport," Bathurst asserted feelingly. "I apologize." "Thanks. That's about all I can take for the moment. Come, take me home, quick. I want to cry."

The New York newspapers devoted considerable space to the death of Lee Ying, Chinatown's richest and most influential citizen, and the stories were copied in San Francisco and elsewhere. Mott, Pell and Doyers street were in mourning and their residents prepared to pay the dead importer all the honors due to a person of high importance. His body, dressed in a splendid red lacquer coffin, lay in his princely home where hundreds of his countrymen came to view it before it was returned to China for burial in some carefully chosen spot. Religious ceremonies were under way, public rites and observances were to follow, for aside from his fabulous wealth, Lee Ying had gained a reputation for kindly deeds and his philanthropies were many.

The newspapers announced that Lee Ying's son, who had been traveling abroad, was en route home by the fastest ship, and was due to arrive in a day or so. This young man, Lee Sam, the sole heir to a royal fortune and the successor to a position of unique power in Chinese-American affairs, was a youth of university training and high culture. A delegation of his countrymen, local citizens of prominence, had arranged to meet him at Quarantine. This was the same Lee Sam who had figured in the news of the day some months before and again recently in dispatches from the French Riviera. Gosspid had linked his name with that of a prominent California society girl but their reported engagement had been vehemently denied.

Sam met none of his fellow passengers on his way home, for he remained in his stateroom and came on deck for a breath of air only at night when nobody could see the marks on his face and recognize him as the victim of that sensational affair at Paradise.

Hour after hour, he paced the floor of his cabin, or tossed and twisted on his berth, unable to erase from his mind the memory of his betrayal and his cruel humiliation. He tried to think only of his father, but thoughts of Alanna crowded in. When he visualized the image of Lee Ying it changed into hers, her figure jostled his. . . . Lee Ying was dying! He was calling for his son! The ship rolled and wallowed in one spot: Sam wanted to lash it onward. . . . Horse-whipped! Dishonored! Shamed! He could still see the expressions of those startled faces in the tea garden. . . . No taboos, she had said. No race prejudice. The liar! All women were liars, thieves, cheats, black-mailers. How useless to urge this ship onward, faster, faster when he could never run away from what pursued him.

It infuriated Sam to be so ceaselessly concerned with his own affairs when his thoughts should be centered wholly upon that beneficent old man who had given him being. Fiercely he strove to hold his mind upon that high home which looked down upon the roofs of Chinatown; in fancy he walked with his father through its peaceful rooms and its gardens with their whispering fountains. "I'm a Fountain! Fountains were chuckling in the gardens of Paradise; the cypresses were stirring up his head; his heart was choking him, for Alanna's arms were around his neck, her lips were damp with his kisses. . . . In God's name, what was this chasm that separated East from West? . . . It was the same old riddle. He gave it up.

In mid-ocean came a radiogram that left him numb. He stared at it in anguish and in disbelief. Lee Ying dead? Impossible! But so the message read. That morning at dawn, in the hour of the Tiger, he had gone on high. To the chanting of priests, the spirit of Sam's honorable father had set forth upon its perilous journey to the Nine Spheres.

It was a Chinese youth who met the delegation of yellow men which boarded the ship. A Quarantine and onlookers wondered who he might be. They assumed, by reason of the respect and the deference shown him, that he was some visiting potentate from the Flowery Kingdom and they remarked upon a fresh red scar that ran down his face. . . .

Lee Ying had left a letter to his son. He had dictated it, . . . to Eileen Cassidy shortly before his death and she handed it to Sam on the day after his arrival home. It was a long letter, through it ran a tender concern, a wistful yearning that moved the reader deeply. Even at the very last Lee Ying had thought of his boy, his one regret had been that he must die without Sam's arms about him and his farewell message voiced that poignant disappointment.

Sam read, very slowly, this deep, spontaneous outpouring of paternal love and sympathy and he recognized it as more than merely that. It was a feeble effort to comfort him, a troubled admonition to be what he was and to beware of rebellion against the manifest designs of providence. He wondered what had prompted its tone and he asked himself:

"Your letters about Miss Wagner worried him," the girl said. "He read more in them than I did and—he was right. That dispatch telling about your trouble with her was a terrible shock to him, coming so near the end."

"Then—it was published here?"

"Oh, yes! It seemed to drain out what life was left in him."

Sam received this intelligence with Oriental self-control; only a heightened pallor showed that he was moved. Eileen realized for the first time how greatly her childhood friend had changed. She had always declared that Sam did not look Chinese, but she could no longer say so.

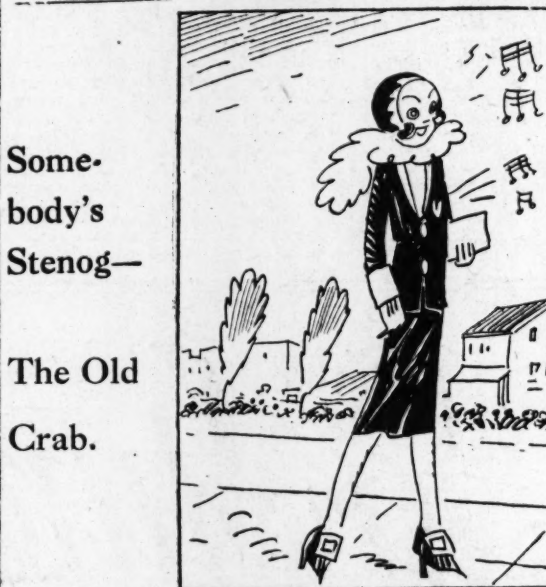

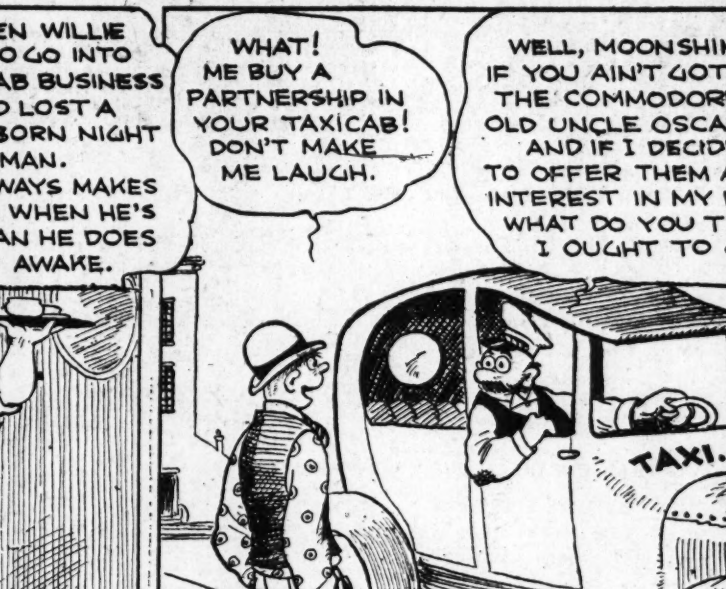

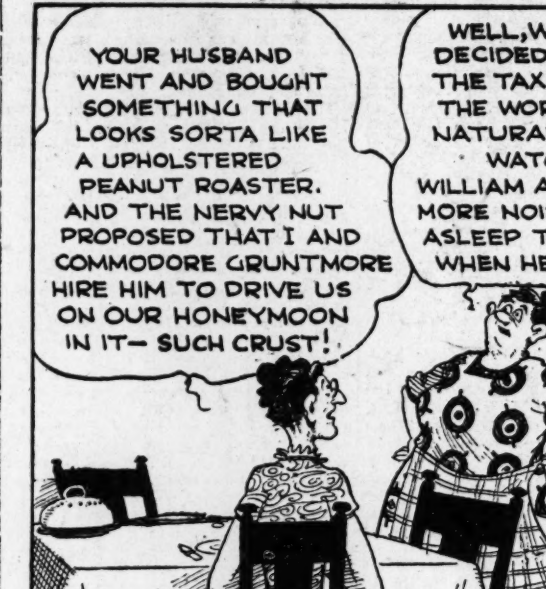

After a moment, she ventured to continue gently: "We're so sorry, Sam. Mother and father and Jim and I. We loved him. You're almost one of the family. You're badly broken up; won't you come and see us?" (Copyright, 1930, for The Constitution.)

Continued Tomorrow.

THE GUMPS—HAPPY IN LOVE

MOON MULLINS—THE TAXI DANCER

Today's Cross-Word Puzzle

Just to show you that there are easy ones, too!

ACROSS.	DOWN.
1 Light drab cloth.	10 Component parts.
2 Large snake.	11 Tardy.
3 Limited coll. like kind; abbr.	12 Like kind; abbr.
4 Evaluates.	13 Comfort.
5 Goddess of agriculture.	14 Metalliferous rock.
6 Goddess of peace.	15 Not prepared.
7 Place of worship.	16 Heavenly.
8 Antagonists.	17 Impulse.
9 Stage performer.	18 Imbecile.
10 Wary.	19 Dolt.
11 At no time.	20 Governed.
12 Poetic.	21 Constellation.
13 Enthusiasm.	22 Monumental stone slab.
14 Persian coin.	23 Down.
15 Healthy.	24 Persian coin.
16 Accompanying.	25 Healthy.
17 Esau's brother.	26 Wicker fishing basket.
18 Direction.	27 Instruct.
19 Terrestrial island.	28 Feasts sumptuously.
20 Writing implements.	29 Serpentine.
21 Pertaining to a foreign country.	30 On the ocean.
22 Bell.	31 Demolish.
23 Prepare for publication.	32 Japanese bream.
24 Solitary.	33 Cauldron.
25 An explosive.	34 Capable of being kind.
	35 Expatriated.
	36 Aromatic herb.
	37 Units.
	38 Large deer.
	39 Groove.

Little Orphan Annie.

Worse.

Aunt Het

(Copyright, 1930, for The Constitution.)

JUST NUTS.

AND IF YOU FORGET MY NAME JUST LOOK IT UP IN THE TELEPHONE DIRECTORY!

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: Passing the Buck

GASOLINE ALLEY—MERELY A PAUSE AT MAPLE RIPPLES

MCDONALD-LEE WEDDING PLANS ANNOUNCED TODAY

Saturday, Sept. 13 Is Date Set for Home Ceremony

The plans for the wedding of Miss Edna Louise McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Edward McDonald, to Roderic Brittain Lee, of Cleveland, Ohio, are of wide social interest. The marriage will be solemnized at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon, September 13, at the home of the bride-elect's parents on Myrtle street. The Rev. Ellis A. Fuller, pastor of the First Baptist church, will perform the ceremony in the presence of a gathering of relatives and friends.

Preceding the ceremony an appropriate program of nuptial music will be rendered by Miss Lucy Riley, aunt of the bride, who will play "At Dawning," "Oh, Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly." Mendelssohn's wedding march will be used as the processional for the bride party.

Miss McDonald has chosen as her matron and only attendant Mrs. James W. Bruce of Danville, Va. Roe Tinsley, of New York city, will act as the best man. The bride-to-be will be given in marriage by her father, William Edward McDonald.

The young couple will leave following the ceremony on a short wedding trip, after which they will make their home in Cleveland, Ohio. Among the out-of-town guests who will attend the wedding are Mrs. E. L. Massey and her sons, Emmett and Byron Massey, of Birmingham, Ala.

Miss McDonald has been entertained at a number of pre-nuptial parties. Mr. and Mrs. William Edward McDonald, parents of the future bride, will entertain the wedding party at an informal reception at their home on Myrtle street Friday evening, September 12, following the wedding rehearsal.

Miss Lundy Sharp Is Honor Guest.

Mrs. E. Rivers was hostess at a bridge-tee yesterday at the Piedmont Driving Club, complimenting Miss Lundy Sharp, who leaves at an early date for Guston Hall in Washington, D. C. The guests included Misses Sharp, Florence Bryan, Mary Bryan, Laura McGinty, Lillie Pace, Jane MacMillan, Lydia Hoke, Laura Hoke, Theresa Hanger, Emily Walker, Elizabeth Collier, Peggy Fuller, Susan Jones, Marjorie Carmichael, Caroline Crumley, Annie Scott Harmon, Barbara Wilkins, Mae Bernice Alston, Suzanne Knox, Aline Fraser, Edith Kendrick, Elizabeth Hunter, Anne Wynne Fleming, Frances Boykin, Louisa Candler, Mary Spalding Dean, Betsy Weyman, Frances Stiger, Caroline Schlen, Fort Scott Meader, Helen Alvis Howard, Harriette Anne Bagler, Cecelia Grove, Eldridge Grove, Helen Smith, Nancy Keeler, Eleanor Binford, May Latimer, Myra Boynton, Frances Burnett, Augusta Porter, Lillian Williams, Mary Dodd, Elizabeth Dodd, Jane Dillon, Virginia Dillon, Caroline Paulin, Frances Woolford and Charlotte McCrae.

Atlantans Visit Signal Mountain.

SIGNAL MOUNTAIN, Tenn., Sept. 10.—Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Southland, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mellett and son, Mr. and Mrs. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Mansfield, Mrs. and Miss Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Londerbach, Mrs. Lida B. Mell, Miss Lida Mell, H. B. Thackston, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Hasman, Miss Lee Roe, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Upshaw, Miss Louise Graybill, Mrs. Thomas L. Barber, Immanuel Knox, Thomas L. Baker, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John O. Crawley, Jess M. Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence States, Mrs. Frank States, Miss Frances K. States, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wilmot, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Estes, Miss Clara Mae Steinheimer, Miss Elizabeth Hall, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Brandon, Ivan Humphries and Mr. and Mrs. S. Y. Tupper, R. Y. Smith, Katherine Frazier, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Arnold, R. L. Miller, Mrs. Don Miller, R. E. House and party, Mrs. J. L. McMillin and son, Mr. L. D. P'Pool and Mrs. B. Brown, of Atlanta, Ga., spent the week-end at Signal Mountain Inn.

Agnes Lee U. D. C. Meets Tomorrow.

Agnes Lee chapter, U. D. C., meets Friday, September 12, at the chapter house on Myrtle street in Decatur. An interesting program has been arranged by the hostesses, Mrs. J. Lou Duckworth and Mrs. W. D. Paden.

Dr. W. I. Branham, father of Mrs. Harrie W. Dews, chairman of programs, will talk on "Personal Recollections of Famous Men Connected With the Confederate Government," and Mrs. John M. Cunningham will sing "One Flewling Hour."

Mrs. Cornelia Orme Is Honor Guest.

Mrs. Ronald Ransom was hostess at luncheon yesterday at her home on Eleventh street, complimenting her cousin, Miss Cornelia Jackson Orme, whose marriage to Oliver Healey will be a brilliant social event of this month. Covers were laid for Miss Orme, Mrs. William Healey, Jr., Mrs. William Huger, Mrs. Colquitt Carter, Miss Jaquelin Moore, Miss Elizabeth Spalding, Miss Julia Meador and Mrs. Ransom.

Miss Ethel Hunter Is Honor Guest.

Mrs. Francis Jones was hostess at tea yesterday at her home on Fourteenth street in compliment to Miss Ethel Hunter, a popular bride-elect. Assisting the hostess in entertaining were Mrs. Robert H. Jones, Sr., Mrs. Ross Hunter and Miss Susan Baker Jones. The guests included the members of Miss Hunter's bridal party and a few friends.

Miss Anna Morrison Is Luncheon Hostess.

Miss Anna Morrison entertained at luncheon at the Vanity Fair tea room yesterday, honoring her guest, Miss Martha Conley, of Frederick, Md. The guests included Misses Martha Conley, Morrison, Helen Smith, Laura Smith, Helen Bivings, Helen Alvis Howard, Ida Nix, Mary Cobb Hunsawett, Judy King, Clair McDonough, Peggy Underwood, Camilla Holland and Catherine Ginn.

Miss Adeline McNair Is Honor Guest.

Mrs. Howard Nash will be hostess at a bridge-tee today at her home on North Moreland avenue in honor of Miss Adeline McNair, who leaves next Monday for Tampa, Fla., to reside. Among others who have entertained in compliment to Miss McNair are Mrs. Frank Ragdale, Mrs. R. E. Edmondson, Miss Dorothy Hughes, Mrs. P. G. Baker, Miss Sadie Ransom, Mrs. J. Goodwin, Miss Katharine Hicks, Miss Grace Darnell, Miss Mary West, Miss Daisy Lovelace and Mrs. Frank Terrell.

College Belles To Be Honored At Tea Tomorrow

Miss Sarah Dobbs and Miss Margaret Cheshire will entertain 200 guests at tea Friday, September 12, at the home of Mrs. Willis Dobbs, of Oakdale road, in honor of Miss St. Julien Pringle, Miss Frances Ward and Miss Frances Eleazer, who leave at an early date for college. Miss Pringle enters Ashley Hall in Charleston S. C.; Miss Ward goes to Sophie Newcomb in New Orleans, La., while Miss Eleazer enters Wesleyan college in Macon.

Misses Jean Walker, Rebecca Young, Dorothy Brumby and Muriel Pierce will serve punch, and Miss

Miss Mary Best Weds Mr. Lewis.

ROME, Ga., Sept. 10.—Mrs. Watt Harris Best announces the marriage of her daughter, Mary, and William Lewis, formerly of Kingston, N. C., now of Asheville. The marriage was solemnized Saturday morning, September 6, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Harris Ellington, at 8 o'clock in the morning, Dr. E. R. Leyburn, pastor of First Presbyterian church, officiating with a ring marriage service. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis will make their home in Asheville, N. C., where Mr. Lewis is a member of the faculty of a boy's school.

Dobbs and Miss Cheshire will be assisted in entertaining by Misses Emily Winship, Delphine Jones, Dorothy Jean Alexander, Lonnie Hancock, Ellen Fleming, Sybilla Pringle, Edith Shepherd.

Costello-Patton Wedding Party Is Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Meng were hosts last evening at their home in Avondale Estates at a rehearsal buffet-supper party in compliment to their sister, Miss Dorothy Costello, and John Leland Patton, whose marriage takes place this evening. The guests included only members of the wedding party and a few close friends. The home was decorated with a profusion of summer flowers in pastel shades. The guests included Miss Costello, Mr. Patton, Mr. and Mrs. John Wood Stoner, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Amason.

Catholic Women To Serve Dinner.

Atlanta Club of Catholic Business and Professional Women meet Saturday, September 13, at the Atlanta Woman's Club, 1150 Peachtree street. Dinner will be served on the terrace at 6 o'clock. Privilege of the swimming pool is open to the members and their friends. Miss Mildred Serdell, feature writer of the Atlanta Georgian, will be the guest of honor. All members are urged to be present, bringing friends. Dinner is $1, and reservations may be made through Misses Callahan and Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Keith, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wise, Mr. R. H. Robinson, and little daughter, Ray Robinson, Miss Alice Garber, Miss Margaret Castles, Miss Ruth Meers, Edgar Patton and Mrs. Mary Butt Griffith Dobbs.

Mrs. Hugh Flake Is Honored By Mrs. Freeman, Jr.

Mrs. George Freeman, Jr., entertained at a bridge-tee yesterday at her home on South Gordon street, in West End park, complimenting her guest, Mrs. Hugh Flake, of New Orleans, La., and is also spending part of her time with her mother, Mrs. T. E. Winslow. Mrs. Freeman was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. C. F. Hays, and Mrs. George Freeman, Sr. Garden flowers, in artistic arrangement, were used in the decorations, a color motif of pink and green predominating. Invited to meet Mrs. Flake were Mesdames Still-Atlantans Visit Highlands Estates.

Recent arrivals at Highlands Estates Club among the Atlanta contingent are Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Freeman, T. J. Lyon, R. K. Rambo, C. H. Grant, Jr., Mrs. C. H. Black, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wardlaw, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Keeler, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Black, Mr. and Mrs. Y. F. Freeman, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Lott, Jackson F. Dick, Judge and Mrs. E. E. Fomey and Chip Robert.

well Robinson, W. S. Pollard, W. A. Garrett, George Rosser, D. W. White, C. W. Ivey, Thomas T. Duckett, William E. Muirhead, J. B. Cannon, W. M. Gilleland, Hobart Fulton, W. H. Cochran, Mrs. A. R. Murray and Miss Nell Murray, of St. Louis, Mo.

Rich's Thrift Thursday

A Southern Institution For 63 Years

Men's $1.50 Sox $1

—Men's silk plaited sox in novelty styles. Variety of colors to select from. Full-fashioned. Sizes 10 to 11½.

—RICH'S, STREET FLOOR

Children's $1 Rayon Bloomers 59c

—Children's rayon bloomers in novelty trimmed styles in pastel shades. Sizes 4 to 14 years.

—RICH'S, STREET FLOOR

$3.50 Gossard Girdles $2.98

—Step-in girdle of flesh crepe de chine combined with good elastic. Reinforced. With 2 prs. hose supporters. Sizes 26 to 32.

—RICH'S, THIRD FLOOR

10c to 15c Ribbons 5 Yds. for 5c

—Narrow velvet and satin ribbons for children's frocks, fancy work of all kinds and gift packages.

—RICH'S, STREET FLOOR

$1 Casseroles 79c

—Very useful! Green pottery baking dish in beautiful nickel finish frame. Specially priced.

—RICH'S, STREET FLOOR

$1.39 Crinkle Cotton Spreads $1

—Crinkle cotton spreads with colored stripes and scalloped edges. Full range of lovely colors. Size 81x105 in.

—RICH'S, SECOND FLOOR

50c Heavy Bath Towels 35c, 3 for $1

—Fluffy bath towels with high terry nap for greater absorption! White with colored borders. Size 22x44 in.

—RICH'S, SECOND FLOOR

$1.95 to $3.50 Novelty Tweeds $1 Yd.

—A fortunate special purchase of all-wool medium weight tweeds... beautifully patterned, in all the best fall colors! 54 in. wide.

—RICH'S, SECOND FLOOR

$1.95 Stamped Spreads $1

—Bedspreads stamped and stenciled on heavy unbleached domestic in blue and green. Size 81x105.

—RICH'S, SECOND FLOOR

49c Stamped Bridge Covers 29c

—Bridge covers stamped on cotton crash, in two designs. White with blue borders only. 34x34 inches.

59c Stamped Scarfs, 29c.

—RICH'S, SECOND FLOOR

Miss Junior Rayon Shorts 2 for $1

—Fine quality rayon shorts in pantie styles! Elastic top, sizes 8 to 16. In pink only!

MISS JUNIOR SHOP —RICH'S, THIRD FLOOR

$4.95 Chanel Pique Blouses $1.95

—You'll want more than one of these stunning pique blouses! Because they're perfect with fall suits and bolero frocks and because you save $3 on each! White, and lovely shades of tan, blue, and turquoise, trimmed with glass buttons. Sizes 34 to 40.

—RICH'S, STREET FLOOR

Your Best Friend at College! Printed Padded Robes $3.95

—Cozy, comfortable robes for chilly mornings in the "dorm"! Wee floral patterns in quilted cotton as quaint as Grandmother's quilt... lined with seaco and warmly interlined. Tuxedo collar, silk girdle. In blue, pink, lavender.

$9.95 Silk Kimonos, $6.95

—Reduced just in time to go back to college! Crepe de chine kimonos in pastel shades trimmed with wide lace bands; others in dark prints with circular flourishes.

—RICH'S, THIRD FLOOR

See What $1 Buys in Wash Fabrics

$1.48 Printed Bendoo Crepe, 1 Yd., $1.
58c Rayon Slip Satin, all colors, 2½ Yds., $1.
39c Hollywood Chintz, 3 Yds., $1.
39c Printed Soisette, 3 Yds., $1.
29c Printed Percales, 4 Yds., $1.
25c Printed Percales, 7 Yds., $1.
29c Printed Voiles, 7 Yds., $1.
69c Fairysun Chiffons, 3 Yds., $1.
29c Fast-colored Gingham, 5 Yds., $1.
39c Pillow Tubing, 4 Yds., $1.
15c Mercerized Longcloth, 10 Yds., $1.
19c Cloth of Gold Bleaching, 7 Yds., $1.
39c Printed English Foulard, 4 Yds., $1.

—RICH'S, SECOND FLOOR

Lingerie Specials for the Autumn Bride! $5.95 Silk Gowns $3.95

—Sheer, shimmering crepe de chine and satin gowns... some with deep lace yokes, others with applique and ribbon sashes, or with quaint Empire waistlines!

$2.98 Dancettes $1.98

—Cunning little dancettes with step-ins and brassiere to match! Of crepe de chine and satin combined with lovely laces. Satin ribbon straps. Pastel shades.

$2.98 Silk Step-ins, $1.98. —RICH'S, THIRD FLOOR

Men's $1 Union Suits 69c

—Athletic union suits of broadcloth and nainsook. Cut full, with elastic web back. Sizes 36 to 46.

MEN'S FURNISHINGS DEPT. —RICH'S, STREET FLOOR

Boys' $3.45 Raincoats $2.95

—Boys' black rubber raincoats and hats to match. Guaranteed waterproof with vulcanized seams. Sizes 6 to 18.

THE BOYS' SHOP —RICH'S, SECOND FLOOR

$1.98 Crisp Uniforms $1.74

—Blue chambray uniforms with white collar and cuffs! Others in striped seersucker and pin-stripe broadcloth in blue and green; still others of black pongette with white collars and cuffs. Sizes 14 to 46.

—RICH'S, SECOND FLOOR

$17.50 Fitted Overnight Cases $12.95

—Women's overnight cases with folding tray fitted with nine-piece pyralin set. 22 inches.

—RICH'S, FOURTH FLOOR

Electric Table Stove $1

—For quick, tasty breakfast! A convenient table stove that heats in a minute! Complete with cord.

HOUSEFURNISHINGS DEPT. —RICH'S, FOURTH FLOOR

$2.25 Garbage Can $1.49

—Large 21-gal. garbage can guaranteed not to rust! Bottom reinforced. Complete with close-fitting top.

HOUSEFURNISHINGS DEPT. —RICH'S, FOURTH FLOOR

$7.95 Electric Waffle Iron $5.95

—A special Thursday price on this splendid electric waffle iron! Fully guaranteed. Complete with cord.

HOUSEFURNISHINGS DEPT. —RICH'S, FOURTH FLOOR

$1.50 Old English Wax 2 lbs. $1.15

—Old English wax that makes floors as smooth and shiny as mirrors and preserves the wood! Paste or liquid. 1 lb. 59c.

HOUSEFURNISHINGS DEPT. —RICH'S, FOURTH FLOOR

Magazine Racks $1

—Decorated magazine racks... the size to fit in by your easy chair! Attractively finished in mahogany, green, or red.

HOUSEFURNISHINGS DEPT. —RICH'S, FOURTH FLOOR

Daily Calendar of Social Events

the Piedmont Driving Club. Covers will be placed for Mr. and Mrs. Jones, Dr. and Mrs. William Warren, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Richard Garlington, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Garlington, Mr. and

HGLE
102 W

Thrift Thursday Only!

You'd never guess that such an adorable D'Orsay could be bought for $1.59

$2 Value

Blue, Black, Red or Green Kid
Soft Sole MAIL SERVICE
STREET FLOOR

RICH'S

COTY

For information call the Registrar, DE. 0076.

Your grocer—newspaper—and your own eyes, when you go to market—will tell you that this is the year to put up fruit.

Plan now to put up some fruit for next winter's needs. Even though you only have a few jars stored away you will be well repaid when you enjoy their goodness. A bit of sweet makes the meal complete. The Sugar Institute.

Enter the National Canning Contest, Shenandoah, Iowa. Address it for information and free jar.

Engaged in a pre-season scrimmage of sandlot football Wednesday, Roy Clouts, 16, of 221 Oxford avenue, incurred a dislocated shoulder and became the first local casualty of the autumn sport on record this year. It was revealed at Grady hospital, where he was taken for treatment, that 'Young Clouts' injuries, however, were not serious, being confined to the shoulder dislocation.

ceived valuable instructions concerning Miss Arden's scientific method of skin treatment. This information will be gladly given you so that you may know how to give your skin a simple program of home care to keep it clear and lovely. Do come in and consult her. We want all of our customers to benefit by her training and knowledge.

who has just returned from York Salon of 'ELIZABETH received valuable instruction scientific method of skin treat be gladly given you so that your skin a simple program and lovely. Do come in and our customers to benefit by

That include all the features of this season's style successes... and have arrived in time, to travel back to school with you!

$9⁸⁵

Do you prefer . . . CANTON
CREPE . . . SATIN . . . VEL-
VET . . . TWEED . . . or JER-SEY? . . . All of these fabrics are in this group, in any style you could wish for, in any shades and sizes to 44. You will discover for yourself what values they are!

H. G. Lewis & Co
102 Whitehall

Daily Calendar of Women's Meetings

Hillside Cottages meets at 10:30 o'clock at McBurney Cottage.

Woman's auxiliary to Railway Mail Association meets today in Davison's tea room.

Druid Hills Garden Club meets at 10:30 o'clock with Mrs. Anne Bates Walsh at 1578 North Decatur road.

The Sheltering Arms Association meets at the Osgood Sanders Nursery at 10:30 o'clock.

Oakland City Garden Club meets at 10 o'clock with Mrs. Guy Bomar in Whiteoak street, Oakland City.

Atlanta Junior Music Club, junior division, meets at 3 o'clock at Phillips & Crew. Officers of the juvenile division meet at 4 o'clock in the same place.

The Mary Latimer McLendon W. C. T. U. meets at 3 o'clock in the Sunday school room of Trinity church.

The Thursday Morning Music Club meets at the Crowe's Nest, home of Mrs. Bonita Crowe. The members meet at 9:30 o'clock at the Grace Methodist church and go from there in cars.

Executive board of George W. Adair P. T. A. meets at 10 o'clock.

The Pryor Street Preschool Association meets at the school at 3 o'clock.

Fulton High School P. T. A. meets in the school auditorium at 2:30 o'clock.

Guardians' Association of the Atlanta Camp Fire Girls meets at 3 o'clock in the tea room of Davison-Paxon Company.

Kill Kare Club meets with Mrs. J. E. Biggs, 516 Hardendord avenue, at 2:30 o'clock.

SOCIAL ITEMS

Mrs. Thomas Willingham Tift, Mrs. Ben Noble, Mrs. Thomas Daniel, Tom Daniel, Jr., Ben Noble, Jr., and William Daniel have returned from a three-month trip to Europe. They made the return trip on the S. S. Aquitania.

Mrs. W. M. Perryman was the recent guest of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Lovelace at their home in Macon.

Mrs. Pearl Hyde is visiting in Bainbridge, as the guest of Mrs. R. Y. Howell.

Mrs. W. H. Branch, of Hahira, Ga., is spending the week in Atlanta as the guest of friends.

Mrs. Cleve Roberts has returned from Brownwood, Ga., where she has been the guest of relatives.

C. D. Lester, of Bartow, has arrived in Atlanta and will be enrolled as a student at Georgia Tech this year.

Mrs. Arnold Moore, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Carmichael in McDonough, has returned to Atlanta.

Martin Jarman, Jr., of Hazlehurst, Ga., will be among the students enrolled at Georgia Tech this year.

Mrs. Omar F. Elder and son were recent guests of Mrs. Betty Chapman in Brownwood, Ga.

Mrs. William G. Holman is the guest of Mrs. C. M. Munson and Miss Fannie Van Sant in Columbia, S. C.

Mrs. M. C. Willis has returned to her home in Valdosta after having been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. E. B. Branch, in Decatur.

Mrs. Clothilde Martin, of Allendale, S. C., associate editor of the Allendale County Citizen, was a recent guest in Atlanta.

Colonel and Mrs. W. W. Williams, of Indianapolis, Ind.; Miss Betty Williams, of Indianapolis, Ind.; M. K. Young, of Greensboro, N. C.; Dr. S. K. Simon and family, of New Orleans, La.; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. GarneSmith, of New York; E. K. Carley, of Richmond, Va.; and F. L. Sparkman, of Wilmington, Del., are at the Biltmore.

A charming picture of Mrs. Leigh Palmer and her daughter, Mrs. Howard Tucker, Jr., was published last Sunday in the Washington (D. C.)

SHERLOCK HOLMES—"Silver Blaze"

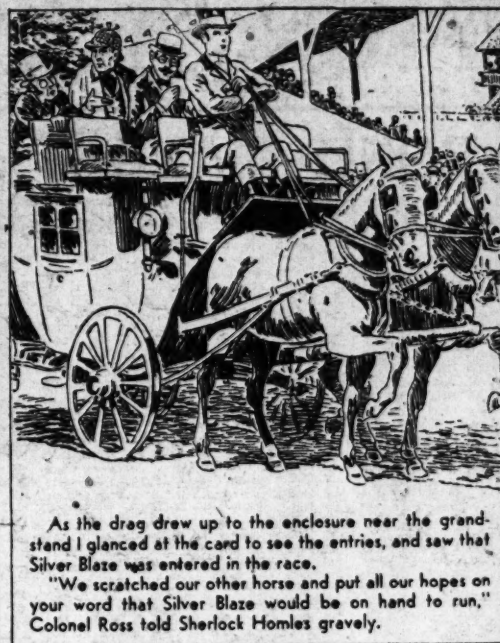

Four days later Holmes and I went to Winchester to see the race for the Wesssex Cup. Meanwhile Holmes had been silent about the case after telling me that Straker had led Silver Blaze from the stable for some sinister purpose. Who killed the trainer, if not Fitzroy Simpson, I had no idea. Colonel Ross met us at the station with his dog. His manner was cold in the extreme. "I have seen nothing of my horse," he said to Holmes.

"I suppose you would know your horse if you saw him," Holmes returned pleasantly. The Colonel was very angry. "A child would know Silver Blaze with his white forehead and mottled off-foreleg," he retorted, as we got aboard the drag to drive out to the race-course.

Silver Blaze the Favorite.

By SIR ARTHUR CONAN DOYLE

As the drag drew up to the enclosure near the grandstand I glanced at the card to see the entries, and saw that Silver Blaze was entered in the race. "We scratched our other horse and put all our hopes on your word that Silver Blaze would be on hand to run," Colonel Ross told Sherlock Holmes gravely.

"Five to four against Silver Blaze!" roared the betting ring. "Five to fifteen against Desborough!" "Five to four on the field!" It appeared that the betting had been setting strongly in favor of Silver Blaze overnight. "Somebody knows something," commented Holmes.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

The End of the Flight. BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Who puts his courage to the test. Thought he may lose, has done his best. —Impy the Chipmunk.

The lower chipmunk ran after him.

Over and over they rolled on the ground, biting, kicking, scratching; every once in a while one or the other would squeal.

Now, there was a reason why Impy fought so long and so hard. That reason was little Miss Frisky. She was watching that fight and Impy knew it. He was fighting for her. He would have quit long ago had it not been that she was looking on. But the stranger was fighting for her too. Yes, sir, he was so. You see, he had fallen in love with her just as Impy had. So both were fighting for her and each was sure that if he could win the fight he would win her.

Impy was growing short of wind. He was getting very, very tired. Still he fought on. Presently he knew he was beaten. He knew that the stranger was too strong for him. He knew that when he got the chance he would have to run away. He couldn't bear to think of doing such a thing with little Miss Frisky looking on. But when it was a case of his very life there was nothing else to do. He knew that if he kept on the stranger would kill him.

Presently the stranger paused for breath. He loosened his grip a little. It was Impy's chance. He made the most of it. He tore himself loose and was on his feet before you could wink an eye. Then Impy ran. Yes, sir, he ran. The other chipmunk ran after him. Looking over his shoulder Impy saw that the other chipmunk was gaining. Fear gave Impy speed. How his small legs did move! The next time he looked over his shoulder the stranger had stopped. Impy stopped then. He just had to. He needed a

Clinic Organizes New Department

Additional medical aid for women is being made available through organization of a new department by the Morris Hirsch clinic, 318 Capitol avenue, to supplement its present department for disease of women.

BE CAREFUL

Offensive body odors are an admission of carelessness in personal hygiene. Whatever may be the cause, they can be eliminated quickly, safely and surely with Mon Secret the dainty cream deodorant. It is easy and pleasant to use, effective and safe. Large, economy-sized sanitary tubes, 35c. Mon Secret is sold by all druggists on a money-back guarantee.

According to the announcement made Wednesday by Edward M. Kahn, executive director, the new clinic will serve women patients who cannot afford to be treated privately. It marks another phase of the Morris Hirsch clinic's recent extension of usefulness to the local community, the director pointed out. He called attention to the dental clinic that is

Allen's Presents the Millinery Successes of New York and Paris

Little bits of velvet, limp as a rag in the hand, become rakish and daring when properly perched on the head! Swaggering off-the-face felts acknowledge their Russian ancestry in their sweeping lines! Sleek soleils fit cockily on one side, and look very dashing! And all of them show one's hair, for that is the one binding rule of this season's millinery!

Lilly Dache

the sensation of New York; Hilda, Tappe, Milgrim and Bruck Weiss originals are in, at Allen's!

Copies and adaptations of Agnes, Reboux, Mado, Alphonsine, Descat, Le Monnier, and other famous Parisians!

And, of course, the Dobbs and Pinehurst hats, exclusively at Allen's, are ready!

J.P. ALLEN & CO. The Store All Women Know

Special Showing of Smart Hats

Copies of Imported Models

$4.95

Others in Stock $1.29 Up

BURCH Millinery Shop
130-132 Peachtree Arcade

I. MILLER
INSTITUTION INTERNATIONALE Beautiful Shoes

low heels

salute VELVETTA

suede

as leader of the autumn slipper parade

In the season's Fashion procession, this trim, black, 3-eyeclet oxford occupies a prominent place.

First, it's of Velvetta Suede... selected by I. Miller as the finest, most durable, suave Suede procurable.

Second, it has low heels... which are enjoying the enthusiastic acceptance of the younger set—especially for morning and street wear.

Third, it's trimmed with Java Lizard... just "different" enough, but with restraint.

Three excellent reasons for making this slipper your own!

I. MILLER SALON
REGENSTEIN'S PEACHTREE STORE

Girl, in Despondent Mood, Takes Poison

Because she had seen a boy friend with another girl, Marie Housley, 15, of 125 Estoria street, attempted to take her own life by swallowing poison late Wednesday afternoon, she is said to have told Patrolman Joe Wiley on duty at Grady hospital. She was admitted to the hospital for treatment and observation, but her condition was not considered serious.

Jury To Continue Grady Probe Today

The Fulton county grand jury will meet in a special session today to continue its probe of Grady hospital affairs. More than fifty witnesses have been summoned to appear before the jury during the day. The grand jury met Tuesday, but the hospital investigation was not taken up because of the press of routine business.

Allen's Sport Shop - - - - - Street Floor

The three-piece Boucle Suit is smart in black and white, purple, navy, green, wine, and new browns

The jacket and skirt are always of matching shades, and the lacy, lighter weight sleeveless sweater is sometimes in a lighter tone, with contrasting design. The model sketched here is in orange and brown, $49.50. Others from $39.50 to $59.50.

J.P. ALLEN & CO.
The Store All Women Know

J.P. ALLEN & CO. The Store All Women Know

ON STOCK EXCHANGE

EASY IN PAST WEEK

Feed grains markets weakened in sympathy with wheat which declined to a new low for the season during the week ending September 10. Feeds stuffs markets were also easy but hay prices were steady to stronger according to the grain, hay and feed market service of the United States bureau of agricultural economics.

Corn prices at principal markets were 1 to 3 cents below those for the previous week, influenced by the decline in wheat and a less urgent demand for feed grains as a result of some improvement in pasturage in areas where rains have relieved the drouth. Deterioration in the corn crop continued during August in many sections.

tions. Number 2 white corn was quoted at Atlanta in bulk at $1.24-1.25 and at Birmingham at $1.15 1-2 per bushel. Oats prices declined about a cent along with other grains during the week. Demand was fairly active, however, and current offerings were readily taken. Number 3 white oats was quoted September 9 at Chicago at 39 1-4-10c. at Kansas City

Feed markets were also depressed by declining grain prices, improvement in pastures over large areas and considerable feeding of local forage. Moderately heavy offerings of feedstuffs were generally in excess of the available demand.

Demand ruled dull for the moderate offerings of wheat feeds and prices declined with the lighter offer weaker than middlings and shorts. The continued downward trend in grain markets and reports of heavy farm feeding of home-grown feeds were curbing buying interest. Production of offals continues fairly heavy as indicated by flour production at the principal milling centers. Bran was quoted September 9 at Kansas City bagged, in carlots, eight draft basis at $21.50, at St. Louis at $24, at Atlanta at $31 and at Birmingham at $30 per ton. (Overhead)

Gray shorts was quoted at Kansas City at $27, at Atlanta at $36-37 and at Birmingham at $35 per ton. Hominy feed was quoted at Atlanta at $42, alfalfa meal at $34 and gluten feed at $46.25 per ton.

Prices of cottonseed meal averaged lower than a week ago with freer offerings and the easiness in grain prices. The official estimate of the cotton crop suggests that supplies of meal this season will be about the same as the 2,232,000 tons produced the past season. Ginning prior to the first of September was in excess of those for the corresponding period of recent years, implying that more than the usual amount of seed is available. Offerings of seed were moderate, and reactions relatively moderate and meeting a slow demand at Atlanta. Meal, however, was in good demand and 36 per cent was quoted September 9 at that market at $29.50 to $30, 41 per cent at $32-32.50; at Memphis at $33 and 43 per cent at Fort Worth at $31.75 per ton.

Hay markets were generally steady to stronger during the week with a good demand from all classes of trade for the light offerings of the medium and better grades. Low grade hay, however, was in excess of requirements at several points and moved only at considerable discount. Demand from all classes of trade was classed as good at practically all markets but the shipping outlet was somewhat restricted as interior ter-

Present central western alfalfa

prices are about on a level with those at the first of September last year but Pacific coast prices are still $5-10 below those for the corresponding period last year. Timothy and prairie prices advanced 50c-$2.50 at the leading markets during the past month and are now 50c-$7.50 per ton above prices a year ago with the greatest advance on timothy at $11.

Atlanta and on upland prairie at Kansas City. United States No. 1 alfalfa was quoted September 9 at Atlanta at $26-38.50 and at Birmingham at $33-34 per ton. United States No. 1 timothy was quoted at Birmingham at $27-28 and No. 2 timothy at Atlanta at $27.50 per ton. United States No. 1 Johnson grass was quoted at Atlanta at $21.50 and at Birmingham at $20-22 per ton.

New York Bank Statement.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Clearing house statement: Exchanges, $859,000,000; balances, $150,000,000.

Rice.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 10.—Rough rice nominal. Sales none. Receipts none. Clean rice quiet, sales none. Receipts 4,588.

EARNING

and PAYING

7%
Since 1924

Oldest and Largest
in Fulton County

Fulton County
First Mutual
Building & Loan Association

23 Auburn Ave., N. E.
Atlanta
Chamber of Commerce Bldg.

JACKSON & DAVIS
Accountants
 Co. Bldg. Atlanta, Ga.
 INSTITUTE OF ACCOUNTANTS

DAY IN FINANCE

By
R. L. BARNUM

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—For the first two hours the stock market marked time waiting for the August unfilled order statement of the Steel Corporation due at noon. When the tickers flashed the news that the decline was 441,000 tons or considerably larger than generally expected, Steel common dropped from 173 to 172 1/4 but quickly advanced to 173 3/4, the highest level touched since May or before the violent liquidation of that month and June in the stock market started. Only a few days ago Steel common sold ex-dividend making 173 3/4 equivalent to another 134 points. Steel common advanced on short covering with the remainder of the market looking on.

The total of unfilled orders on the books of the Steel Corporation at the end of August was 3,580,000 tons against 3,658,000 a year ago. It was the smallest since July of 1928 when the figure was 3,570,000. Last year the August decline was 429,000 tons. For this August the decline was the largest for any month since May of 1928. The decline in the common covered on the belief that the decline in unfilled orders for August reflected water that had run out of the dam.

Today's weekly review of the Iron Age gives production of the country's steel mills at 58 per cent of capacity. This is an increase of 3 per cent over a week ago. It is an increase of 11 1/2 per cent over the August average.

Recovery Is Slow.
Aside from this, however, the leading spokesman for the steel trade had little encouragement to offer. "Seasonal recovery in iron and steel" it was stated, "although confidently expected by the trade is slow in materializing. Demand for finished steel thus far this month has been moderately larger than for the corresponding part of August but nothing resembling a broad buying movement has set in and the persistence of discordant market tendencies continues to obscure the outlook."

Further curtailment of pig iron production is reported, four additional blast furnaces being blown out so far this month against five for the whole of August. Encouraging signs are appearing in the machine tool market but it is added that the improvement is mostly in the form of inquiries instead of orders.

Additional Issue
Further curtailment of pig iron production is reported, four additional blast furnaces being blown out so far this month against five for the whole of August. Encouraging signs are appearing in the machine tool market but it is added that the improvement is mostly in the form of inquiries instead of orders.

Steel Trade Spokesmen Say Expected Fall Recovery in Iron and Steel Is Slowly Materializing—Reliable Sources Tell Wall Street Retail Trade Showed an Improvement Last Two Weeks of August.

reflect postponed buying and seasonal purchases, such as school clothes, warmer clothing, etc. Informed Wall Street is expecting seasonal improvement in general trade to continue through October and into November, when usually there is slowing down before holiday activity starts. The best opinion here is that for some weeks to come the stock market will reflect seasonal improvement in general trade. What happens then in the stock market depends on whether general trade in late October or November flattens out more than it should, as was the case in the spring. Babson again goes on record with a bullish prediction. He says that consumption is now down 10 per cent; that production is down 20 per cent; that transportation is down 30 per cent; that this condition can only result in an increase in production and transportation. Babson says he is just as confident now that improvement in general trade is ahead as he was at this time last year that trouble was coming. He predicts that 1931 will be a normal year.

Third Week's Rise

For the third consecutive week freight car loadings show an increase compared with the previous week. Last year from the early spring until late autumn when the peak of the year's traffic is usually reached, the trend was upward, million car weeks beginning in April and continuing for the remainder of the year, with two exceptions holiday weeks. From April of this year the trend was downward until three weeks ago. The total of 984,000 for the week ending August 30 published today is 17,000 or 15 per cent below a year ago and 11 per cent under 1928. The total for the week of August 30, however, after three weeks of increases, is the largest for the year and compares with a decrease of 17 per cent three weeks ago compared with the corresponding period of 1929. The weekly freight car loading statements, reflecting the movement of all kinds of freight from all parts of the country are accepted as an accurate index of general trade. While the total is still far under this time in 1929, the third consecutive weekly gain compared with the previous week shows plainly that seasonal improvement in general trade is under way.

This conclusion is strengthened by the detailed statement. With grain being rushed to market the extent of creating congestion at terminal points it might be supposed that this class of freight accounts for the bulk of August. Encouraging signs are appearing in the machine tool market but it is added that the improvement is mostly in the form of inquiries instead of orders.

Further curtailment of pig iron production is reported, four additional blast furnaces being blown out so far this month against five for the whole of August. Encouraging signs are appearing in the machine tool market but it is added that the improvement is mostly in the form of inquiries instead of orders.

Weather Outlook for Cotton States

Louisiana: Partly cloudy in west, scattered thundershowers in east portion Thursday; Friday partly cloudy, scattered thundershowers in south-east portion.

Mississippi, Alabama and Extreme Northwest Florida: Mostly cloudy, scattered thundershowers Thursday, and Friday.

Arkansas: Scattered thundershowers Thursday; Friday generally fair, cloudy Thursday and Friday.

Oklahoma and Texas: Partly cloudy Thursday and Friday.

Virginia: Occasional showers Thursday and Friday; little change in temperature.

North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia: Occasional showers Thursday and Friday; moderate northeast and east winds.

Florida: Partly cloudy Thursday and Friday; probably scattered thundershowers.

Kentucky and Tennessee: Occasional showers Thursday and Friday; little change in temperature.

West Virginia: Increasing cloudiness followed by showers Thursday afternoon or night and on Friday; not much change in temperature.

Decreased Tobacco Production Forecast

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Decreased production prospects were said by the department of agriculture today in its September crop report to have dwindled somewhat in most districts, and materially in some, during August.

An average yield of 664 pounds per acre is indicated by the September 1 condition. That would be below the yield in any year since 1927. From an outlook of 1,474,758,000 pounds of tobacco on August 1 there has been a decrease in production of 1,420,947,000 as of September 1. Up to a month ago the effects of unfavorable weather conditions were mainly observable in a belt extending from Virginia westward to the Mississippi river, involving manufacturing types of tobacco. Since that time the Maryland, Pennsylvania, and New York types have been sharply reduced, and some reduction also has occurred in Wisconsin, Minnesota and New England.

In the Ohio valley and Tennessee local rains have benefited late-planted crops, but even so, a smaller production appears probably than was forecast a month ago.

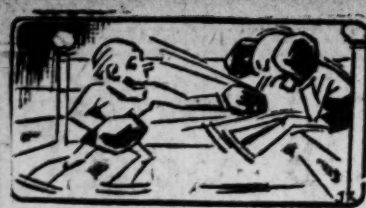

Live Stock

ATLANTA.
Live stock quotations below are furnished by J. J. Williams & Blackwell Co., 1030-1032 Marietta street.

105 pounds up basis.....$10.90
135 pounds to 165 pounds basis.....9.00
Rough hogs basis.....8.00

Canners, cows.....3.00
Butcher, cows.....4.00
Butcher, hogs.....4.00
Best top steers.....6.75
Butcher, fat steers.....6.00
Fat bulls.....5.00
Common bulls.....3.50
Top veal calves.....8.00
Common yearlings.....4.00

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—The cottonseed oil market was quiet today with traders inclined to await the government grain crop reports. The tone as a rule was fairly steady, reflecting the firmness of other markets. Trading as confined almost entirely to new March which was bought with the usual brokers' bid and contract closed unchanged to 3 points lower and new contracts unchanged to 3 points higher. Sales were 500 barrels in the old contract and 2,500 in the new. Prime crude was 25.75; middling 25.50; No. 2 25.25; No. 3 25.00; No. 4 24.75; No. 5 24.50; No. 6 24.25; No. 7 24.00; No. 8 23.75; No. 9 23.50; No. 10 23.25; No. 11 23.00; No. 12 22.75; No. 13 22.50; No. 14 22.25; No. 15 22.00; No. 16 21.75; No. 17 21.50; No. 18 21.25; No. 19 21.00; No. 20 20.75; No. 21 20.50; No. 22 20.25; No. 23 20.00; No. 24 19.75; No. 25 19.50; No. 26 19.25; No. 27 19.00; No. 28 18.75; No. 29 18.50; No. 30 18.25; No. 31 18.00; No. 32 17.75; No. 33 17.50; No. 34 17.25; No. 35 17.00; No. 36 16.75; No. 37 16.50; No. 38 16.25; No. 39 16.00; No. 40 15.75; No. 41 15.50; No. 42 15.25; No. 43 15.00; No. 44 14.75; No. 45 14.50; No. 46 14.25; No. 47 14.00; No. 48 13.75; No. 49 13.50; No. 50 13.25; No. 51 13.00; No. 52 12.75; No. 53 12.50; No. 54 12.25; No. 55 12.00; No. 56 11.75; No. 57 11.50; No. 58 11.25; No. 59 11.00; No. 60 10.75; No. 61 10.50; No. 62 10.25; No. 63 10.00; No. 64 9.75; No. 65 9.50; No. 66 9.25; No. 67 9.00; No. 68 8.75; No. 69 8.50; No. 70 8.25; No. 71 8.00; No. 72 7.75; No. 73 7.50; No. 74 7.25; No. 75 7.00; No. 76 6.75; No. 77 6.50; No. 78 6.25; No. 79 6.00; No. 80 5.75; No. 81 5.50; No. 82 5.25; No. 83 5.00; No. 84 4.75; No. 85 4.50; No. 86 4.25; No. 87 4.00; No. 88 3.75; No. 89 3.50; No. 90 3.25; No. 91 3.00; No. 92 2.75; No. 93 2.50; No. 94 2.25; No. 95 2.00; No. 96 1.75; No. 97 1.50; No. 98 1.25; No. 99 1.00; No. 100 0.75; No. 101 0.50; No. 102 0.25; No. 103 0.00; No. 104 0.00; No. 105 0.00; No. 106 0.00; No. 107 0.00; No. 108 0.00; No. 109 0.00; No. 110 0.00; No. 111 0.00; No. 112 0.00; No. 113 0.00; No. 114 0.00; No. 115 0.00; No. 116 0.00; No. 117 0.00; No. 118 0.00; No. 119 0.00; No. 120 0.00; No. 121 0.00; No. 122 0.00; No. 123 0.00; No. 124 0.00; No. 125 0.00; No. 126 0.00; No. 127 0.00; No. 128 0.00; No. 129 0.00; No. 130 0.00; No. 131 0.00; No. 132 0.00; No. 133 0.00; No. 134 0.00; No. 135 0.00; No. 136 0.00; No. 137 0.00; No. 138 0.00; No. 139 0.00; No. 140 0.00; No. 141 0.00; No. 142 0.00; No. 143 0.00; No. 144 0.00; No. 145 0.00; No. 146 0.00; No. 147 0.00; No. 148 0.00; No. 149 0.00; No. 150 0.00; No. 151 0.00; No. 152 0.00; No. 153 0.00; No. 154 0.00; No. 155 0.00; No. 156 0.00; No. 157 0.00; No. 158 0.00; No. 159 0.00; No. 160 0.00; No. 161 0.00; No. 162 0.00; No. 163 0.00; No. 164 0.00; No. 165 0.00; No. 166 0.00; No. 167 0.00; No. 168 0.00; No. 169 0.00; No. 170 0.00; No. 171 0.00; No. 172 0.00; No. 173 0.00; No. 174 0.00; No. 175 0.00; No. 176 0.00; No. 177 0.00; No. 178 0.00; No. 179 0.00; No. 180 0.00; No. 181 0.00; No. 182 0.00; No. 183 0.00; No. 184 0.00; No. 185 0.00; No. 186 0.00; No. 187 0.00; No. 188 0.00; No. 189 0.00; No. 190 0.00; No. 191 0.00; No. 192 0.00; No. 193 0.00; No. 194 0.00; No. 195 0.00; No. 196 0.00; No. 197 0.00; No. 198 0.00; No. 199 0.00; No. 200 0.00; No. 201 0.00; No. 202 0.00; No. 203 0.00; No. 204 0.00; No. 205 0.00; No. 206 0.00; No. 207 0.00; No. 208 0.00; No. 209 0.00; No. 210 0.00; No. 211 0.00; No. 212 0.00; No. 213 0.00; No. 214 0.00; No. 215 0.00; No. 216 0.00; No. 217 0.00; No. 218 0.00; No. 219 0.00; No. 220 0.00; No. 221 0.00; No. 222 0.00; No. 223 0.00; No. 224 0.00; No. 225 0.00; No. 226 0.00; No. 227 0.00; No. 228 0.00; No. 229 0.00; No. 230 0.00; No. 231 0.00; No. 232 0.00; No. 233 0.00; No. 234 0.00; No. 235 0.00; No. 236 0.00; No. 237 0.00; No. 238 0.00; No. 239 0.00; No. 240 0.00; No. 241 0.00; No. 242 0.00; No. 243 0.00; No. 244 0.00; No. 245 0.00; No. 246 0.00; No. 247 0.00; No. 248 0.00; No. 249 0.00; No. 250 0.00; No. 251 0.00; No. 252 0.00; No. 253 0.00; No. 254 0.00; No. 255 0.00; No. 256 0.00; No. 257 0.00; No. 258 0.00; No. 259 0.00; No. 260 0.00; No. 261 0.00; No. 262 0.00; No. 263 0.00; No. 264 0.00; No. 265 0.00; No. 266 0.00; No. 267 0.00; No. 268 0.00; No. 269 0.00; No. 270 0.00; No. 271 0.00; No. 272 0.00; No. 273 0.00; No. 274 0.00; No. 275 0.00; No. 276 0.00; No. 277 0.00; No. 278 0.00; No. 279 0.00; No. 280 0.00; No. 281 0.00; No. 282 0.00; No. 283 0.00; No. 284 0.00; No. 285 0.00; No. 286 0.00; No. 287 0.00; No. 288 0.00; No. 289 0.00; No. 290 0.00; No. 291 0.00; No. 292 0.00; No. 293 0.00; No. 294 0.00; No. 295 0.00; No. 296 0.00; No. 297 0.00; No. 298 0.00; No. 299 0.00; No. 300 0.00; No. 301 0.00; No. 302 0.00; No. 303 0.00; No. 304 0.00; No. 305 0.00; No. 306 0.00; No. 307 0.00; No. 308 0.00; No. 309 0.00; No. 310 0.00; No. 311 0.00; No. 312 0.00; No. 313 0.00; No. 314 0.00; No. 315 0.00; No. 316 0.00; No. 317 0.00; No. 318 0.00; No. 319 0.00; No. 320 0.00; No. 321 0.00; No. 322 0.00; No. 323 0.00; No. 324 0.00; No. 325 0.00; No. 326 0.00; No. 327 0.00; No. 328 0.00; No. 329 0.00; No. 330 0.00; No. 331 0.00; No. 332 0.00; No. 333 0.00; No. 334 0.00; No. 335 0.00; No. 336 0.00; No. 337 0.00; No. 338 0.00; No. 339 0.00; No. 340 0.00; No. 341 0.00; No. 342 0.00; No. 343 0.00; No. 344 0.00; No. 345 0.00; No. 346 0.00; No. 347 0.00; No. 348 0.00; No. 349 0.00; No. 350 0.00; No. 351 0.00; No. 352 0.00; No. 353 0.00; No. 354 0.00; No. 355 0.00; No. 356 0.00; No. 357 0.00; No. 358 0.00; No. 359 0.00; No. 360 0.00; No. 361 0.00; No. 362 0.00; No. 363 0.00; No. 364 0.00; No. 365 0.00; No. 366 0.00; No. 367 0.00; No. 368 0.00; No. 369 0.00; No. 370 0.00; No. 371 0.00; No. 372 0.00; No. 373 0.00; No. 374 0.00; No. 375 0.00; No. 376 0.00; No. 377 0.00; No. 378 0.00; No. 379 0.00; No. 380 0.00; No. 381 0.00; No. 382 0.00; No. 383 0.00; No. 384 0.00; No. 385 0.00; No. 386 0.00; No. 387 0.00; No. 388 0.00; No. 389 0.00; No. 390 0.00; No. 391 0.00; No. 392 0.00; No. 393 0.00; No. 394 0.00; No. 395 0.00; No. 396 0.00; No. 397 0.00; No. 398 0.00; No. 399 0.00; No. 400 0.00; No. 401 0.00; No. 402 0.00; No. 403 0.00; No. 404 0.00; No. 405 0.00; No. 406 0.00; No. 407 0.00; No. 408 0.00; No. 409 0.00; No. 410 0.00; No. 411 0.00; No. 412 0.00; No. 413 0.00; No. 414 0.00; No. 415 0.00; No. 416 0.00; No. 417 0.00; No. 418 0.00; No. 419 0.00; No. 420 0.00; No. 421 0.00; No. 422 0.00; No. 423 0.00; No. 424 0.00; No. 425 0.00; No. 426 0.00; No. 427 0.00; No. 428 0.00; No. 429 0.00; No. 430 0.00; No. 431 0.00; No. 432 0.00; No. 433 0.00; No. 434 0.00; No. 435 0.00; No. 436 0.00; No. 437 0.00; No. 438 0.00; No. 439 0.00; No. 440 0.00; No. 441 0.00; No. 442 0.00; No. 443 0.00; No. 444 0.00; No. 445 0.00; No. 446 0.00; No. 447 0.00; No. 448 0.00; No. 449 0.00; No. 450 0.00; No. 451 0.00; No. 452 0.00; No. 453 0.00; No. 454 0.00; No. 455 0.00; No. 456 0.00; No. 457 0.00; No. 458 0.00; No. 459 0.00; No. 460 0.00; No. 461 0.00; No. 462 0.00; No. 463 0.00; No. 464 0.00; No. 465 0.00; No. 466 0.00; No. 467 0.00; No. 468 0.00; No. 469 0.00; No. 470 0.00; No. 471 0.00; No. 472 0.00; No. 473 0.00; No. 474 0.00; No. 475 0.00; No. 476 0.00; No. 477 0.00; No. 478 0.00; No. 479 0.00; No. 480 0.00; No. 481 0.00; No. 482 0.00; No. 483 0.00; No. 484 0.00; No. 485 0.00; No. 486 0.00; No. 487 0.00; No. 488 0.00; No. 489 0.00; No. 490 0.00; No. 491 0.00; No. 492 0.00; No. 493 0.00; No. 494 0.00; No. 495 0.00; No. 496 0.00; No. 497 0.00; No. 498 0.00; No. 499 0.00; No. 500 0.00; No. 501 0.00; No. 502 0.00; No. 503 0.00; No. 504 0.00; No. 505 0.00; No. 506 0.00; No. 507 0.00; No. 508 0.00; No. 509 0.00; No. 510 0.00; No. 511 0.00; No. 512 0.00; No. 513 0.00; No. 514 0.00; No. 515 0.00; No. 516 0.00; No. 517 0.00; No. 518 0.00; No. 519 0.00; No. 520 0.00; No. 521 0.00; No. 522 0.00; No. 523 0.00; No. 524 0.00; No. 525 0.00; No. 526 0.00; No. 527 0.00; No. 528 0.00; No. 529 0.00; No. 530 0.00; No. 531 0.00; No. 532 0.00; No. 533 0.00; No. 534 0.00; No. 535 0.00; No. 536 0.00; No. 537 0.00; No. 538 0.00; No. 539 0.00; No. 540 0.00; No. 541 0.00; No. 542 0.00; No. 543 0.00; No. 544 0.00; No. 545 0.00; No. 546 0.00; No. 547 0.00; No. 548 0.00; No. 549 0.00; No. 550 0.00; No. 551 0.00; No. 552 0.00; No. 553 0.00; No. 554 0.00; No. 555 0.00; No. 556 0.00; No. 557 0.00; No. 558 0.00; No. 559 0.00; No. 560 0.00; No. 561 0.00; No. 562 0.00; No. 563 0.00; No. 564 0.00; No. 565 0.00; No. 566 0.00; No. 567 0.00; No. 568 0.00; No. 569 0.00; No. 570 0.00; No. 571 0.00; No. 572 0.00; No. 573 0.00; No. 574 0.00; No. 575 0.00; No. 576 0.00; No. 577 0.00; No. 578 0.00; No. 579 0.00; No. 580 0.00; No. 581 0.00; No. 582 0.00; No. 583 0.00; No. 584 0.00; No. 585 0.00; No. 586 0.00; No. 587 0.00; No. 588 0.00; No. 589 0.00; No. 590 0.00; No. 591 0.00; No. 592 0.00; No. 593 0.00; No. 594 0.00; No. 595 0.00; No. 596 0.00; No. 597 0.00; No. 598 0.00; No. 599 0.00; No. 600 0.00; No. 601 0.00; No. 602 0.00; No. 603 0.00; No. 604 0.00; No. 605 0.00; No. 606 0.00; No. 607 0.00; No. 608 0.00; No. 609 0.00; No. 610 0.00; No. 611 0.00; No. 612 0.00; No. 613 0.00; No. 614 0.00; No. 615 0.00; No. 616 0.00; No. 617 0.00; No. 618 0.00; No. 619 0.00; No. 620 0.00; No. 621 0.00; No. 622 0.00; No. 623 0.00; No. 624 0.00; No. 625 0.00; No. 626 0.00; No. 627 0.00; No. 628 0.00; No. 629 0.00; No. 630 0.00; No. 631 0.00; No. 632 0.00; No. 633 0.00; No. 634 0.00; No. 635 0.00; No. 636 0.00; No. 637 0.00; No. 638 0.00; No. 639 0.00; No. 640 0.00; No. 641 0.00; No. 642 0.00; No. 643 0.00; No. 644 0.00; No. 645 0.00; No. 646 0.00; No. 647 0.00; No. 648 0.00; No. 649 0.00; No. 650 0.00; No. 651 0.00; No. 652 0.00; No. 653 0.00; No. 654 0.00; No. 655 0.00; No. 656 0.00; No. 657 0.00; No. 658 0.00; No. 659 0.00; No. 660 0.00; No. 661 0.00; No. 662 0.00; No. 663 0.00; No. 664 0.00; No. 665 0.00; No. 666 0.00; No. 667 0.00; No. 668 0.00; No. 669 0.00; No. 670 0.00; No. 671 0.00; No. 672 0.00; No. 673 0.00; No. 674 0.00; No. 675 0.00; No. 676 0.00; No. 677 0.00; No. 678 0.00; No. 679 0.00; No. 680 0.00; No. 681 0.00; No. 682 0.00; No. 683 0.00; No. 684 0.00; No. 685 0.00; No. 686 0.00; No. 687 0.00; No. 688 0.00; No. 689 0.00; No. 690 0.00; No. 691 0.00; No. 692 0.00; No. 693 0.00; No. 694 0.00; No. 695 0.00; No. 696 0.00; No. 697 0.00; No. 698 0.00; No. 699 0.00; No. 700 0.00; No. 701 0.00; No. 702 0.00; No. 703 0.00; No. 704 0.00; No. 705 0.00; No. 706 0.00; No. 707 0.00; No. 708 0.00; No. 709 0.00; No. 710 0.00; No. 711 0.00; No. 712 0.00; No. 713 0.00; No. 714 0.00; No. 715 0.00; No. 716 0.00; No. 717 0.00; No. 718 0.00; No. 719 0.00; No. 720 0.00; No. 721 0.00; No. 722 0.00; No. 723 0.00; No. 724 0.00; No. 725 0.00; No. 726 0.00; No. 727 0.00; No. 728 0.00; No. 729 0.00; No. 730 0.00; No. 731 0.00; No. 732 0.00; No. 733 0.00; No. 734 0.00; No. 735 0.00; No. 736 0.00; No. 737 0.00; No. 738 0.00; No. 739 0.00; No. 740 0.00; No. 741 0.00; No. 742 0.00; No. 743 0.00; No. 744 0.00; No. 745 0.00; No. 746 0.00; No. 747 0.00; No. 748 0.00; No. 749 0.00; No. 750 0.00; No. 751 0.00; No. 752 0.00; No. 753 0.00; No. 754 0.00; No. 755 0.00; No. 756 0.00; No. 757 0.00; No. 758 0.00; No. 759 0.00; No. 760 0.00; No. 761 0.00; No. 762 0.00; No. 763 0.00; No. 764 0.00; No. 765 0.00; No. 766 0.00; No. 767 0.00; No. 768 0.00; No. 769 0.00; No. 770 0.00; No. 771 0.00; No. 772 0.00; No. 773 0.00; No. 774 0.00; No. 775 0.00; No. 776 0.00; No. 777 0.00; No. 778 0.00; No. 779 0.00; No. 780 0.00; No. 781 0.00; No. 782 0.00; No. 783 0.00; No. 784 0.00; No. 785 0.0

Second Place Clubs Draw Closer to Failing Cubs by Victories; Sullivan Injured in Bulldog Drill, Maddox Shifted to Center; Alexander Sends Jackets Through Hardest Workout of Season

BIRDS TROUNCE BRUINS, CARDS DEFEAT GIANTS

Brooklyn Blanks Leaders at 6-0; Cards Earn 5-3 Decision.

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(AP)—The second-place rivals in the torrid National League pennant race drew a game nearer to the league-leading Chicago Cubs today as Brooklyn trounced the league leaders, 6 to 0, while St. Louis turned the tables on New York, 5 to 3. The Robins and Cards remained in their virtual tie for second place, St. Louis leading by one point and both one and one-half games behind Chicago, while the Giants trailed the Cubs by three games.

Smashing Charley Root from the mound to score five runs in the first inning, the Brooklyn Robins again defeated the league-leading Chicago Cubs, 6 to 0, today. Adolfo Luque, veteran Cuban, repeated Ray Phelan's feat of shutting out the Cubs with five hits.

The victory left the Robins in third place, but only a game and one half behind Chicago.

Brooklyn ended Root's stay in the box before a man had been retired and scored five runs before Jess Petty managed to get the third man out. The first six Robins hit, Frederick and Gilbert led off with singles and Herman's double sent Frederick home with the first run. Wright's single accounted for two more tallies and a double by Hendrick, batting for Bresler, who hurt a finger catching a liner, drove in the last pair.

Luque and Petty waged an even duel through the second, third and fourth innings, each giving only one hit. Neither team got a man as far as second in these three frames. The Robins offered a threat in the fifth when Herman and Wright hit successive singles after two were out, but that was checked and the next two innings were scoreless and hitless as well.

Hornish, batting for Petty, made the fourth Chicago hit off Luque in the eighth. Lynn Nelson went to the mound for the Cubs and was the victim of the final Brooklyn run. Herman beat out a hit to the pitcher, went to third on Wright's single to left and scored while Bresnette was forcing Wright at second.

One more hit, a short single by Cuyler, was the limit for the Cubs in the final inning.

A four-run rally in the eighth inning, in which Jim Bottomley's home run with one on base was the deciding factor, enabled St. Louis Cardinals to defeat the Giants, 5 to 3, in the second game of their important series today.

The victory enabled the Cards to hold second place in the hectic National League race and cost the Giants a chance of moving out of fourth.

The Cubs scored in the first inning as Fritz singled on the first pitched and reached third on an infield out and Lindstrom's short single. He scored when Terry beat the Cardinals at second. Terry beat the Cardinals for a double play at first.

St. Louis tied the count in the third on two timely hits. The Cardinals walked a single and reached second when Fitzsimmons walked Doubtful. With two out, Frisch bounced a single into center field and drove in Gilbert with the tying run.

(Box Scores on Second Sport Page.)

SINGER QUOTED AT EVEN MONEY

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Hungry for glory and recognition as a genuine champion, Young Al Singer, baby ruler of the 135-pound division, will battle Jimmy McLarnin, toughest of the welterweights, in a ten-round main event tomorrow night in the Yankee stadium.

The fight, faithful, often fooled by "naturals" in the past that produced more yawns than action, warmed slightly today to the Irish better. Pleasant weather and the growing belief that the 20-year-old Singer had almost an even chance to win, brought lengthier lines to the Madison Square Garden ticket windows and the prospect of a $125,000 game.

Singer came to town from his training camp at Delmar, Del. War Gann, in splendid condition, weighing about 135 pounds, and supremely confident that he can whip the rugged Vancouver lad, Douglas McLarnin's knockout victories over Jackie Fields, Sammy Baker, Ruby Goldstein, Louis Kid Kaplan, Sid Terris, Singer sought the match with the Dublin dynamiter and can have no sliver of a fluster of leather explodes in his face tomorrow night. He believes that a convincing victory over McLarnin, coming on the heels of a quick knockout of Sammy Mandell, will prove once and for all his right to rank as a real champion.

McLarnin, campaigning in every division at one time or another from the flyweights to the welters and conqueror of half a dozen champions before and after they won their titles, has never at weight, has little idea that Singer will cause him trouble. McLarnin, for his size and inches, is the best two-handed hitter in the ring today. He thinks Singer will last three rounds at the most against him. McLarnin will weigh about 141 pounds.

Bicycle Association Elects Atlanta Man
Palmer Walhouse, an Atlanta man and brother of the great "Bobby" Walhouse of bicycle racing fame, was elected vice president of the National Association of Bicycle Jobbers at the national convention of the Cycle Trades of America in Atlantic City last week.

By Ed Sanford

When figuring this fall what your old school will do in a football way and, if you insist on being reckless, how many points to spot, the schedules assigned the lads must be kept in mind in computing the form sheet. Many a mediocre football team has sailed through a season with a brilliant record because it had to play but two or three real hard games. Other great teams have been dumped out of the race because they met too many strong opponents.

A football team can be kept at top form only for so long: when the let-down comes it is fortunate to have a weak sister to play—whether fortunate or due to the foresight of the schedule committee. If the let-down comes against a strong team it is just too bad.

Likewise it is great fun to have a flabby opponent carded just before a big game so that the team will not have to be keyed mentally and physically to win. With these points in mind it is interesting to note how many strong teams the leading elevens meet this season and how the tough games are spaced on the schedule.

THE ARMY'S "BIG NINE."

According to all advance reports the strongest teams in the conference are Vanderbilt, Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia, North Carolina, Florida, Tulane, Alabama and Georgia Tech.

I mean this seems to be the consensus of the army of experts and photographers now in the field looking them over.

For the purpose of this debate, those nine teams can be called hard ones to beat. (Author's note: By confining the list to nine a large field is left for the thirteen other conference teams to get hard and bring upsets into the headlines.)

BRAVEST OF THE BRAVE.

How many "hard games" does each of those nine favorites play? You did not ask. Then I'll ask myself and get going.

Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama and Georgia Tech play five hard games by that classification. Those are the brave boys this year.

Each of them meets five very strong conference teams, a loss to any one of which would wreck the chances for a perfect record. And in these days when some athletic boards like to take the easiest way to a championship a perfect record, almost, is necessary to lay claim to a championship.

In addition to those five tough conference games, Georgia and Tech play two intersectional games in which losses of power are bound to occur.

Yet if any one of those four teams were to win them all the chapter would be awarded without hesitation. By the same sign, one should hesitate to envision one of those four finishing unscathed. The odds are long against them.

TAPERING OFF.

Florida, of that original group of nine favorites, tackles four hard ones and has an intersectional game thrown in. Florida has no easy route to travel.

Vanderbilt and North Carolina have it a bit easier. They play three apiece—three real tough games. Vanderbilt has an intersectional game thrown in to make it harder.

Kentucky and Tulane have it pretty soft. They play only two hard games. Tulane has two intersectional games added which complicates the problem a bit.

WILDCATS, GREENIES LOOK SAFEST.

One would be safe in guessing that Kentucky and Tulane have a great chance of winning them all. Kentucky's two tough games are with Alabama and Tennessee and are spaced far apart. Tulane's two hard ones are with Tech and Georgia and are likewise widely separated on the schedule.

The coaches' problem of steaming up the teams for those games will not be so difficult.

Vanderbilt's three hard games are not so handily spaced. The Commodores have a chance to get all set for Alabama, but two weeks later Tech and Tennessee come on successive Saturdays.

North Carolina has an awkward sequence of Georgia, Tennessee and Georgia Tech which will take a great cut to successfully pass.

Florida has Georgia and Alabama in succession in mid-season, but Tech and Tennessee, the last two games, are separated by the generous interval between Thanksgiving and December 6.

NO CHANCE TO TAKE IT EASY.

Beginning the third week in October, Alabama catches them one after another with no chance to take it easy.

Georgia's schedule would be well spaced as to hard conference games were it not for Yale and New York University intervening at the wrong times.

Tech has a rough row in Tulane, North Carolina and Vanderbilt.

Tennessee has the best of it in this group with Alabama and North Carolina in a row, but a nice rest before the big game with Vanderbilt by playing Carson-Newman.

Of those playing five hard games it looks like Tennessee has the best chance to get away with something.

If you can figure anything else out of this summary, you're welcome to it.

Shields Upsets Allison In National Net Play

By Ted Vosburgh.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Frank Shields, the New York boy with the build and strokes of a champion, provided the big thrill of the fourth day of the national tennis championship by upsetting Wilmer Allison in a great five-set match decided by scores of 6-4, 4-6, 6-2, 1-6, 6-3.

For two or three years now the fans and the players have been hailing Shields as the boy who could be king if he would make the effort, and this afternoon the stalwart Shields hit the peak of his brilliant game to eliminate the player who was seeded second only to big Bill Tilden on the list of leading contenders.

It was a big day for the younger generation of American tennis players.

SULLIVAN HURT, MADDOX MOVED IN ATHENS DRILL

Red-Headed Guard To Be Tried at Center by Mehre.

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 10.—Willie Sullivan, star sophomore quarterback and one of the big punting and kicking hopes of the Georgia Bulldogs, suffered a slightly dislocated shoulder this afternoon during the heaviest practice session of the season.

Sullivan, along with the seventeen other members of the Georgia backfield, was practicing falling on fumbles when he slipped in the mud left by the heavy rain that fell during the earlier part of the afternoon, falling heavily on his right shoulder. He was taken to the university infirmary, where it was announced that he would be out of commission for a week.

Red Maddox, half of Georgia's million dollar guard combination, will begin work as a candidate for the center post tomorrow. Coach Mehre announced this afternoon. Maddox, who played fullback at Douglas A. and M. and who originally began as a center candidate for the varsity, has had experience at the pivot post and it is expected that he will play his position well.

"I believe," said Head Coach Harry Mehre in commenting on his changing Maddox to the middle of the line, "that we need Maddox more at center than we do at guard. He has had experience at that position and should aid us materially especially in view of the fact that Tassoulas is the only other man who has played center on the varsity."

OTHERS GOOD.

Leathers, Tiger Bennett and Jimmy Patterson seem to be going good this year and Coach Mehre seems to feel that there is no use keeping good men on the bench when he can change around and use them all.

Today's practice session was pronounced the heaviest and best workout of the season by Coach Mehre. The boys worked for more than an hour and a half this afternoon, and, as yesterday, ended the day's work by practicing punt formations for a quarter of an hour.

After the preliminaries, the heavy work began with a punt chasing session. The short yardage drill followed, and then the line went down to one end of the field and started pushing the bucking board around the field, while the backs had another session of tackling each other.

DUMMY OUT.

The old reliable tackling dummy was put into action for the first time this year to help the tacklers as Harry Mehre had his thirty-two line men take turns. "Pretty good work," was Mehre's comment after a short, scrappy session.

The backfield men practiced tackling out ends again and after that fell on fumbles for a time.

The line men again lined up against each other and charging through, a tackle and a guard being on the defensive, while a guard had the job of fighting through. Short signal drill up and down the field, and then fifteen minutes of dummy punt formations followed.

The Georgia varsity squad this year will be limited to thirty-three men or three full teams, Mehre announced today. The teams will be divided Monday. The men not on the varsity squad will form the "Red Devils," and will work against the varsity in scrimmages.

Conyers Downs Livingston for Title

Ola, Sept. 10.—Conyers nosed out Livingston for the last half pennant of the Tri-County League Tuesday afternoon by a score of 2 to 1 on the diamond at Ola. It was one of the closest and best games of the season, with both teams fighting hard for the championship.

Ola, winner of the first half, ties up with Conyers in a three-game series, the first game of which will be played Saturday on the former's ball lot.

Conyers 100 100 010—2 9 1
Livingston 100 000 000—1 2 0
G. Stowers and J. Stewart; Childs and J. Lloyd.

Independence Wins Pennant Playoff

INDEPENDENCE, Kansas, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Independence won the 1930 pennant of the Western Association by defeating Joplin here tonight, 10 to 5, in the ninth and final game of the play-off series.

Independence won two games today, taking the afternoon contest, 10 to 4, to gain the five games necessary to claim the championship.

Luke Breaks In With White Sox

Luke McLuke (The Apple Of Your Eye) Appling, who doffed his Cracker uniform last Saturday to break into the big time parade with the White Sox, made his first appearance under Chicago colors Wednesday afternoon and, according to reports, did a right good job of playing baseball.

Luke got one of the six hits allowed by MacFayden in a 6-2 Boston victory and handled five chances afield without an error.

Atlanta Bulldog Speeds Away

Armin Waugh, former Tech High football player and a star reserve halfback at Georgia, is shown in action in a workout at Athens. Waugh was one of the stars in 1929, coming into prominence in the Furman game.

CRACKERS DROP CLOSE ONE, 3-2

Dobbsmen Rally in Last Frame But Fail and Bow to Vols.

By Ralph McGill.

Failing to hit in the early innings, the Atlanta Crackers succumbed to the pitching of Nashville's Lefty Willis Wednesday afternoon at Spiller field, going down in a 3-to-2 defeat.

It was a ninth-inning rally that gave the Crackers their two tallies. Previous opportunities had been neglected, eight Cracker base-runners perishing on the base paths while waiting for transportation home.

Johnny Dobbs' club outbait the visitors 10 hits to 9, but they couldn't hit a home run or a single. Ordinarily the base hits must come something like asparagus to bring in the base-runners.

It was a desultory sort of conflict, with about 300 paying guests snarling at the Vols. They berated Sunny Jim Poole soundly, asking why he did not hit a home run over the right-field fence. The league's leading home-run hitter was good for a couple of singles, but they didn't hurt.

Had it not been for Blackie Carter, the Vols' left fielder, the game might have gone scoreless. The Vols weren't excited about the game. Like as not they would have laid down and played dead, as in their worst, had it not been for Blackie Carter. He hasn't read the papers yet and doesn't know the thing is all settled.

The Vols got over another in the seventh when the busy Blackie Carter singled and scored on Jay Partridge's double.

Two singles and an infield out put over the third hostile run in the ninth. Bob Lamotte's double, Polvogt's single and another single by Sam Langford gave the Crackers their two runs.

The game saw Amos hat for Andy in the seventh. Amos Martin batted for Andy Messenger, and singled. He finished the game at third, handling his one chance, a pop foul, with ease.

NASHVILLE. AB. R. H. PO. A. E.
Adams, lf 4 0 0 1 0 0 0
Carter, cf 4 0 0 1 0 0 0
Partridge, 2b 4 0 0 1 0 0 0
Banks, 3b 4 0 0 1 0 0 0
Gleason, 1b 4 0 0 1 0 0 0
Anderson, rf 4 0 0 1 0 0 0
Polvogt, c 4 0 0 1 0 0 0
Langford, p 4 0 0 1 0 0 0
Messinger, p 4 0 0 1 0 0 0
Martinez, p 4 0 0 1 0 0 0
Wright, p 4 0 0 1 0 0 0
Totals 34 0 0 27 15 0

ATLANTA. AB. R. H. PO. A. E.
Langford, p 4 0 0 1 0 0 0
Banks, 3b 4 0 0 1 0 0 0
Shirley, 1b 4 0 0 1 0 0 0
Zaitz, lf 4 0 0 1 0 0 0
Johnson, cf 4 0 0 1 0 0 0
Lamotte, 2b 4 0 0 1 0 0 0
Partridge, 2b 4 0 0 1 0 0 0
Messinger, p 4 0 0 1 0 0 0
Howard, p 4 0 0 1 0 0 0
Martinez, p 4 0 0 1 0 0 0
X 4 0 0 1 0 0 0
Totals 37 0 0 27 15 0

Runs batted in: Willis, Partridge, Poole, Martin, Langford; two-base hits, Partridge, Lamotte; sacrifices, Partridge, Banks; errors, Gleason, Anderson; double play, Campbell and Johnson. Time of game, 2:00.

The eleven heaviest men would average but 187 pounds. Yet Harmon and Scull, the new coaches, are going forward with determination. They are building for next season.

Football at Sewanee has been at a low ebb for several years, largely due to inefficient coaching methods and an attitude on the part of the alumni which would meet with the full approval of the Carnegie Foundation.

The Tiger will come back. There isn't much doubt of that. It will take time but the will to go on is still to be found on the mountain.

Their tradition is a fine one. And one of their teams still holds the endurance record. Even Maryland's heroic schedule will not dim its luster.

PASSING GAME AND TACKLING ON DAY'S MENU

Squad Tackles and Blocks Well; Aerial Drill Shows Up Good.

By Herb Clark.

Coach "Ellick" Alexander and his crew of 33 varsity gridders pulled themselves one day nearer the long-awaited first scrimmage Wednesday afternoon, holding the hardest practice session of the season on the Rose Bowl field.

Tackling dummies, which have been virtual strangers to date, were made bosom friends. Squad mates—who had been foundering against training dummies as bodies hurtled through the air to send other bodies crashing after.

The session opened as though there was nothing of importance to be done, as though the process of sneaking slowly up on that scrimmage, which has been in force thus far, would be continued. The calisthenic drill went off smoothly, and then the truck drove up to the gate and unloaded a pair of nice, new, shiny canvas-and-leather dummies.

That was the start. When the finish signal was raised those same dummies were fit for almost anyone's junk heap. They wouldn't even have bothered to be particular. They were in that bad a shape.

MASSACRE LOOMS.

On the basis of that session with the sawdust men, the first Tech scrimmage will be something in the nature of a massacre, a free-for-all, or a battle royal.

The Jackets tackled and blocked and did either or both with a decision and a viciousness which made even "Warrior" Fincher, that commander-in-chief of the murder brigade, smack his lips.

"Wild Willie" was thinking that if the boys could do the same thing against the foes who are to train kick-offs with the Jackets this fall, those foes would not get very far and would play for a full hour against a bunch of lads who gave, and liked to give, POOR DUMMIES!

Then, when the dummies had been ripped up the legs and down the back so that they bled sawdust in a cascade and "Major" Smith, the man who wields the needle for the Jacket equipment, began to think that the job of surgeon he faced would require nothing less than a mile of waxed cord and an acre of canvas for the grafting of skin, "Wild Willie" was given a chance to smile even more.

For Coach "Ellick" took his ends and backs and Hobby Law to do the snapping back and set out in a commensurate manner on passes, started successfully Monday but collapsing with a dull thud Tuesday. Alternation seemed to be the order.

The Jackets did a real job of work Wednesday. The offensive squad was clicking smoothly and getting the tosses off nicely; the defense was hawking the ball.

CRASHES LOUD.

There were fights for the ball which would have done credit to a Tech-Georgia fray. Once Tom Cain, reaching up to complete a pass, collided with Roy McArthur, striving to knock the ball down, with a crash which could have been heard for enough miles to make it important. They brushed off, took their positions and started off again, bearing down harder all the time.

The same fighting work was done by all the rest of the squad, so that November—even December—was in the air. And scrimmage was not far off. Just how far off "Ellick" opted even he didn't know. Only that it would be "pretty soon, now."

The Wednesday session came to a close in a snappy signal drill which sent two teams driving over the turf in good form. And another by the Grey Devils, drilling for their first venture against the varsity.

Faculty To Rule On Players Today

Today is the big "I" day in the pre-season history of Georgia Tech's Yellow Jackets.

Those members of the Jacket squad who have been so unfortunate (they say), as to be forced to attend summer school in a last-minute drive for eligibility, lay their all before the faculty today as exams start.

Ke Farmer and Frank Speer, heavy favorites to take varsity berths as center and tackle, respectively, will lead the attack of the gridders on the questions.

SPOUNDERS TAKE FIRST OF SERIES

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Sept. 10.—(UN)—The Wichita Falls Spuders, winners of the first-half season of the Texas League, won the first game of the playoff series, 6 to 5, from Fort Worth, winner of the second half, today.

Hal Wiltsie, Wichita Falls pitcher, held Fort Worth to nine scoreless innings while his mates got to Dick McCabe and Dan Roberts for 13.

The score by innings:
Fort Worth 100 100 000—2 9 0
Wichita Falls 100 000 100—6 13 0
McCabe, Roberts and Myers; O'Connell, Wiltsie and Cronch.

SINGAPORE WINNER.
DONCASTER, England, Sept. 10.—(P)—The famous St. Leger Stakes were won today by Singapore.

Singapore is by Gainsborough out of Tetbury, 6 to 1, from Fort Worth, winner of the second half, today.

The St. Leger Stakes is over a course of one mile six furlongs and 132 yards.

BASEBALL Summary

Southern League.

CLUB—	W. L. Pct.	CLUB—	W. L. Pct.
Memphis	95 55 .632	Rock	80 70 .533
N. Orl.	88 60 .593	Chatt'ga	83 84 .496
St. Louis	85 81 .511	Nashville	84 88 .488
ATLANTA	81 94 .461	Mobile	40 109 .263

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Nashville 3, Atlanta 2.
Little Rock 3, New Orleans 2.
Chattanooga-Birmingham (postponed; wet grounds).

Memphis 10-4, Mobile 2-5. (Second game 7 innings, transferred).

TODAY'S GAMES.

Nashville at ATLANTA.
Chattanooga at Birmingham.
Little Rock at New Orleans.
Mobile at Memphis.

American League.

CLUB—	W. L. Pct.	CLUB—	W. L. Pct.
Pitts.	84 47 .641	Detroit	87 72 .542
Wash.	88 52 .628	St. Louis	83 78 .514
New York	79 69 .532	Chicago	58 80 .421
Cle.	75 67 .526	Boston	64 88 .420

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Washington 2, St. Louis 3.
Philadelphia 6, Detroit 4.
New York 7, Cleveland 2.

TODAY'S GAMES.

Washington at St. Louis.
New York at Cleveland.
(Only games scheduled).

National League.

CLUB—	W. L. Pct.	CLUB—	W. L. Pct.
Pittsburgh	80 58 .580	Pittsburgh	71 68 .518
St. Louis	78 59 .569	Boston	63 78 .446
Brooklyn	79 69 .532	Cincinnati	58 80 .421
New York	77 81 .488	Phila.	62 97 .393

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Pittsburgh 6, Boston 5.
Chicago 6, Brooklyn 4.
St. Louis 3, New York 2.
Cincinnati at Philadelphia.

TODAY'S GAMES.

Pittsburgh at Boston.
Chicago at Brooklyn.
Cincinnati at Philadelphia.

Association.

CLUB—	W. L. Pct.	CLUB—	W. L. Pct.
Fort Worth	100 101 100—3 9 0	Wichita Falls	100 000 100—6 13 0
St. Paul	85 58 .594	Columbus	83 80 .441
Toledo	80 63 .560	Milwaukee	69 84 .413
Minneapolis	72 71 .503	Ind'apolis	65 87 .387

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Open date.
Columbus at Indianapolis.
St. Paul at Milwaukee.
(Only games scheduled).

Continued on Second Sport Page.

Final Rites Held For Slain Motorman

Rites for John Bryce McWhorter, 45, street car motorman, who was slain in his car by negro bandits Monday night, were conducted at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning from the St. Paul Methodist church, with the Rev. Felton Williams officiating. Interment was at Whitesburg. Wednesday night the two negroes held in connection with the shooting, Willie Lee Cox and Robert Glaze, were under heavy guard at Fulton tower.

Signed statements from the two prisoners were taken by detectives Wednesday night. Each still maintains the other shot McWhorter.

for DOMESTIC use

During our 45 years as fuel merchants we have not discovered a bituminous (soft) coal so well adapted for domestic use as Montevallo.

We have customers who buy it regularly year after year and would not consider any other.

Because it is a trifle higher per ton cost has kept many from buying Montevallo, but, as a matter of fact, considered from all angles, Montevallo is really a very economical fuel.

We recommend it especially for use in heaters and grates. Many prefer it for furnace use also.

Any one not thoroughly satisfied with the coal they are now using ought to try Montevallo as an experiment.

Walnut 4714

FUEL MERCHANTS FOR 45 YEARS
RANDALL BROTHERS

Final Tribute Paid To Capt. Donaldson

America's fourth ranking ace of the World War was recorded last tribute here at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning when the body of Captain John O. Donaldson was laid to rest in West View cemetery following services at Spring Hill chapel officiated over by the Rev. M. Ashby Jones and the Rev. L. C. Claitor.

Captain Donaldson was killed in an airplane crash at Philadelphia last Sunday during American Legion races. The body arrived here Wednesday morning from Philadelphia, where members of the legion accompanied it to the railroad station while wreaths were dropped on the train from airplanes.

Captain Donaldson was the husband of the former Miss Harriett McCullough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McCullough, 102 West Wesley road, who survives him.

Byrd Party Member Guilty of Desertion

READING, Pa., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Clair A. Dietrich, alias Clair D. Alexander, a member of the Byrd anti-expedition, pleaded guilty to a charge of malicious desertion today. County Judge J. N. Seneff, suspended sentence and directed the defendant to pay $10,000 a week for the support of his two children, Robert, 8, and Rita, 7. He also was directed to enter bond of $1,000 to assure payment of the support order.

Dietrich was arrested in New York after his wife, Mrs. Bertha Dietrich, had recognized his picture in the rostrum section of a New York newspaper as a member of the Byrd party.

The shape of your head, the contour of your face, the way in which your vision is perfectly blended in the type of glasses we make up for you. Modern methods.

Dr. Geo. S. Kahn
Registered Optometrist
Jacobs Pharmacy Co.
MAIN STORE
48 Broad St., N. W. Cor. Walton Grant Bldg.

BANKRUPT SALE.
Pursuant to order of Honorable Harry D. Dore, Referee in Bankruptcy, there will be sold at ten o'clock A. M., September 12, 1930, at the office of the Referee, 325 Grant Building, Atlanta, Georgia, the assets of C. & S. Chevrolet Company. Said assets consist of eight second-hand automobiles. Further details and information may be secured from the undersigned.

AUSTRALIA
The Well-Equipped Royal Mail Steamers
"AORANGI" ... Sept. 17, Nov. 12, Jan. 7
"NIAARA" ... Oct. 15, Dec. 10, Feb. 4
For fares, etc., apply Can. Pac. Railway, Suite 1017, Healey Bldg., cor. Forsyth and Walton Sts., or to the Canadian Australasia Line, 200 West Easting Street, Vancouver, B. C.

The Seaside Hotel
ATLANTIC CITY
Facing Ocean and Boardwalk
Distinguished. Modern. Fireproof. Nude sun baths under care of experienced attendant. Bathing direct from guest rooms. Garage on premises. Send for our descriptive portfolio.

POOL & SONS CORPORATION

Fickle Weather Tolling Death Knell to Straws

While there is no indication that top coats will be needed for several days, the temperature today is slated to remain in the low eighties and, as a result, straw hats are being consigned daily to the scrap heap. Continued cooler weather today will be accompanied by occasional showers, the weather man announced.

Call, phone or write for a copy of our Renting List of Apartments, Houses and Duplexes.

ADAIR REALTY & LOAN COMPANY
WA. 0100 Realtors Healey Bldg.

Printers—Lithographers—Engravers Office Furniture and Supplies
FOOTE & DAVIES CO.
"Five Seconds from Five Points" Walnut 4600

MONEY
At lowest interest rates on Improved North Side and new South Side properties.
HAAS & HOWELL
HAAS-ROWE BUILDING WALNUT 3111

SOUTHERN LAW SCHOOL ATHENS, GEORGIA
Opens October 1st. A two-year law course, conferring LL.B. degree. Diploma admits to Georgia bar without examination. Entrance requirements—High School education. Students have opportunity of taking some special academic courses in State University. Write for bulletin.

When you think of Foot Correction think of
Dr. PARKER'S HEALTH SHOES
116 ARCADE - JACKSON 4697

NIGHT SCHOOL Announcement
The Evening School of Applied Science of Georgia Tech announces the beginning of the Fall Term
SEPTEMBER 15
Registration Begins Sept. 8th

Georgia School of Technology
Aeronautics
Applied Electricity
Architecture
Auto Engineering
Bricklaying
Building Construction
Civil Engineering
Chemistry
Combustion of Fuels
Commercial Art
Electrical Engineering
Furnace Engineering
Heating and Ventilation
R. S. HOWELL, Director
AC-9-11-30

GEORGIA SCHOOL OF TECHNOLOGY

Edward Conner Named Leader of 'Red Men'

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Edward O. Connor, of Spokane, Wash., has been chosen great Inco of the Improved Order of Red Men at the annual convention here. He succeeds Harry Outhrie, Portsmouth, Va., who now becomes great prophet.

Connor's post of great senior Sagamore was taken by William P. Wachter, Hagerstown, Md., who advanced from great junior Sagamore, Arthur Ruland, of Bingham, N. Y., was elected to the latter post. Herbert F. Steiner, Camden, N. J., great chief of records, and William P. Lightholder, St. Louis, great keeper of wampum, were re-elected.

Admiral Huguet Dies.

PARIS, Sept. 10.—(AP)—Admiral Albert Huguet, attached to the French cabinet during the term of President Emile Loubet, committed suicide today. Neurasthenia was blamed for his action. Huguet was born in Paris in 1855. He was educated as a manufacturer engineer, and was formerly president of the Seine Tribunal of Commerce. He was an officer of the legion of honor.

'Business Good,' Buttons Tell Gotham

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(AP)—A blue button bearing the slogan "Business Is Good" has appeared in Wall Street by the thousands. Bulls have greeted it with cheers and bears with jeers.

On the floor of the stock exchange bulls enjoy turtling attaching them to the coat-tails of bears. One member appeared with a paper disk pasted over his, saying "Business Is Lousy With Me." One bear consented to wear one with the remark, "The color is right, whatever it says."

The button is the concept of an advertising man who hopes it will improve business sentiment.

Air Fatality.

RIVERSIDE, Cal., Sept. 10.—(AP)—Second Lieutenant W. E. Casey, of Rockwell field, San Diego, was killed in an airplane mishap near March field today. Casey, flying with two other planes, lost control when the wing of his ship and another collided. He jumped at 600 feet, but his parachute failed to open.

MORTUARY
BENJAMIN H. SHEFFIELD.
Services for Benjamin Harvey Sheffield, 61, who died Tuesday night at his residence in Egan Park, will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from the residence, with the Rev. J. C. Alverson officiating. Interment will be in Mt. Zion cemetery.

MRS. FLORENCE ONEDA WATERS.
Mrs. Florence Oneda Waters, 72, wife of J. N. Waters, died late Tuesday at her residence, 1465 West Peachtree St. W., after a prolonged illness. Services will be held at 11 o'clock this morning from the First Methodist church, near Gainesville. Interment will be in the churchyard.

Lodge Notices

Called meeting of the Co-ordinate Bodies of the Ancient, Free and Accepted Scottish Rite this (Thursday) evening at 8 o'clock. Business meeting. Bidding upon petitions. All qualified brethren urged to attend. Visiting brethren especially welcome.

E. P. KING, Gen. Sec.
The regular convocation of Deacons Chapter No. 119, R. A. M., will be held in Masonic Temple, Decatur, Ga., this (Thursday) evening, September 11, 1930, at 8 o'clock. Plans for balance of year and other important business. All qualified companions are cordially and fraternally invited to attend.

V. O. KIMSEY, Sec.
A regular convocation of Mt. Hermon Chapter No. 110, R. A. M., will be held in Masonic Temple, Decatur, Ga., this (Thursday) evening at 7:30 o'clock, at our Campbell Chapel, Morrow, Ga., at 8 o'clock at Buckhead. All duly qualified companions cordially invited to meet and confer with us. By order of HENRY A. OWEN, H. P.

RALPH G. SIMS, Sec.
Grant Park Lodge No. 604, F. & A. M., will hold a regular communication this (Thursday) evening, September 11, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The Fellowship degree will be conferred. By order of GEORGE B. COLE, W. M.

J. C. LITTLE, Sec.
The regular communication of Capital City Lodge No. 640, F. & A. M., will be held this (Thursday) evening, September 11, 1930, at 7:30 o'clock in Capital View Masonic Temple, corner Stewart and Dill avenues. The Entered Apprentice degree will be conferred. All duly qualified brethren are cordially invited to attend. By order of W. J. LANEY, W. M.

A. J. JANSSEN, Sec.
The Fellowship Club of Battle Hill Lodge No. 523, F. & A. M., will meet in its lodge room this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Election of officers. All members are urged to attend.

C. G. BERRY, Pres.
The regular communication of Atlanta Lodge No. 50, F. & A. M., will be held in its temple, corner Peachtree and Cain streets, this (Thursday) evening, September 11, 1930, at 7:30 o'clock. All duly qualified brethren are cordially invited to attend.

O. D. WHITE, W. M.
The regular communication of John R. Wilkinson Lodge No. 432, F. & A. M., will be held in its temple, corner Peachtree and Ashby street, this (Thursday) evening, September 11, 1930, at 8 o'clock. Visiting brethren are cordially and fraternally invited to attend. By order of H. C. McCALL, W. M.

R. C. DUNN, Sec.
The regular communication of Center Hill Lodge No. 680, F. & A. M., will be held in its temple, Center Hill, this (Thursday) evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Fellowship degree will be conferred. All duly qualified brethren are cordially invited to attend. By order of J. T. SESSIONS, Sec.

EMMETT L. QUINN, Pres.
Lodge No. 1, International Association of Machinists, meets every Thursday at 7:30 p. m., Labor Temple. All duly qualified brethren are cordially invited to attend. Fraternally yours, PAUL CHIPMAN, R. S.

REGULAR SESSION
Regular convention of Capital City Lodge No. 640, F. & A. M., will be held in its temple, 105 Luckie street, N. W., this (Thursday) evening, September 11, 1930, at 8 o'clock. Visiting brethren cordially invited. By order of H. D. PARS, G. C.

B. F. DARDEN, Sec.
A regular meeting of Atlanta Lodge No. 78, E. O. Elks, will be held on (Thursday) evening at 8 o'clock at the Elks Home, 728 Peachtree street, N. E. Matters of the greatest importance will be discussed. Visiting brethren are cordially invited to meet with us. Sincerely and fraternally yours, LEWIS J. BAILEY, E. R.

R. E. LEE REYNOLDS, Sec.
NOTICE.
After this date I will not be responsible for debts contracted by R. E. HINER.

BIDS WANTED.
Contracts for furnishing the Milledgeville State Hospital with supplies for the last quarter 1930 will be awarded Wednesday, September 17. Printed list of supplies needed may be had upon application to the undersigned.

HOMER BIVINS, Steward.
PRIVATE LOANS
On Diamonds, Watches and Jewelry
W. M. LEWIS & CO.
424 FLOOR PETERS BLDG.

H-4214
LET US ARRANGE YOUR MESSAGE
PROFESSIONAL CARDS
Albert Heyman Herman Heyman
Mark Bolding W. F. Bloodworth
HOWELL, HEYMAN & BOLDING
Lawyers
308 to 320 Connally Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

Kid Quits Tree After 1,039 Hours

NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—(AP)—There weren't any flashlight explosions when Gus Finklestein, 17, climbed down out of a tree in Brooklyn tonight, but the neighbors were on hand to show him they appreciate talent.

Finklestein had been aloft since July 29, and meantime the tree-sitting vogue had petered out because most of the other kids had to descend to prepare for school.

Finklestein came down only because he felt his record of 1,039 hours was safe for the winter at least. The neighbors carried him off to be guest of honor at a dance party.

Funeral Notices

DOBKINS—Remains of Mr. William C. Dobkins, 52 years of age, who died Saturday at a local hospital, were carried this (Thursday) morning to Abilene, Kansas, for funeral and interment. Awtry & Lowndes.

PAUSE—Mrs. Robert Pause passed away at the residence, 1985 Goshen street, S. W., Wednesday, September 10. Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Awtry & Lowndes.

CROWE—The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Crowe passed away at a private sanitarium Wednesday afternoon. Funeral services will be held this (Thursday) morning at 9 o'clock at the graveside in Baker cemetery, near Loganville, Ga. Harry G. Poole, funeral director.

WATERS—Funeral services for Mrs. Florence Waters will be held this (Thursday) morning at 11 o'clock at the South Bend M. E. church, near Gainesville, Ga. The remains will leave this morning via South-bound train at 7:30. Barclay & Brandon.

CAMP—Mrs. Lon Camp passed away at the residence, 1985 Goshen street, S. W., Wednesday, September 10. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

SMITH—John Herman Smith, Jr., the four-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Smith, passed away at a private sanitarium Wednesday night. Funeral services will be held this (Thursday) afternoon at the graveside at 3 o'clock at the McKendry churchyard. The funeral party will leave the residence, No. 28 Chapel road, at 2 o'clock. Harry G. Poole, funeral director.

PHILLIPS—The friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Cash, all of Rex, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Golden, of Egan, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Campbell, of Morrow, Ga., are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. J. H. Phillips this (Thursday) afternoon, September 11, at 3 o'clock from the Rose Baptist church, Rev. Wilson Walker officiating. Interment, churchyard, Bauknight, Clark & Keen, Jonesboro, Ga.

BARBER—Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Bates Barber, of Palmetto, Fla.; Mrs. Elba R. Johnson, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Nona B. Whitaker, of Winston-Salem, N. C.; Miss Jessie Lou Barber, of Palmetto, Fla.; Mr. Rayner V. Barber, of Palmetto, Fla.; Sally Louise Walker and family, of Monroe, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. Barber and family of Tampa, Fla., are invited to attend the funeral services of Mr. Foster Bates Barber, Friday, September 12, at 2 o'clock from the Olive Springs church, Rev. George Crow officiating. Interment will be in Maloney Springs cemetery. Black Under-taking Company, Marietta, Ga.

SHEFFIELD—The friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Harvey Sheffield, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sheffield, Mr. and Mrs. Duffie Sheffield, of Egan, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Vester Sheffield, of Atlanta, Ga.; Miss May Sheffield, of Egan, Ga.; Mrs. Ethel Stone, of Swannee, Ga.; Mrs. Della Jones, of Rockmart, Ga.; and Mrs. Lulu Wilkes, of Shelby, North Carolina, are invited to attend the funeral of Mrs. Benjamin Harvey Sheffield this (Thursday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the residence in Egan, Ga. The Rev. W. A. Alsop officiating. Interment in Mount Zion cemetery. The gentlemen selected as pallbearers will please meet at the residence at 2 o'clock. Brandon & Williams, funeral directors, in charge.

Ed Bond & Condon Co.

Funeral Directors
Ambulance Lady Attendant
125 Ivy Street, N. E. Walnut 1768

AWTRY & LOWNDES
LADY ATTENDANT
424 FLOOR PETERS BLDG.

(COLORED)
BROGLIN—The funeral of Mr. Charlie Broglin will be announced later. David T. Howard & Co.

SHELTON—The funeral of Mrs. Minnie Shelton will be announced later. David T. Howard & Co.

HOLDEN—The remains of Mr. Horace Holden, of 218 Tanners alley, will be sent this (Thursday) morning to Crawfordville, Ga., for funeral and interment. Hanley Co.

BAKER—Mrs. Ernestine Baker, of Bladensburg, died at a local sanitarium September 10, 1930. Funeral arrangements will be announced later. Cox Bros., funeral directors.

WELCH—The funeral of Mr. Robert Welch will be held this morning at 11 o'clock from Howard's chapel. Interment, South View cemetery. David T. Howard & Co.

THOMAS—The friends and relatives of Mr. Moses Thomas are invited to attend the funeral this (Thursday) afternoon at 1 o'clock from Cosmopolitan A. M. E. church, Rev. A. R. Cooper will officiate. Interment, South View cemetery. Dunn Bros.

REDDING—The funeral of little Elmer Redding will be held at the residence, 1061 Fern avenue, this (Thursday) afternoon, September 11, 1930, at 1 o'clock. Rev. L. M. Sparks officiating. Interment in Chestnut Hill cemetery. Cox Bros., funeral directors.

In Memoriam.
(COLORED)
In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Mr. Charles Lamar, who departed this life September 11, 1929. Our hearts still ache with sadness. Our eyes shed many a tear. God only knows how we miss you, dear. At the end of this sad and lonely year, MRS. C. H. LAMAR AND CHILDREN.

ZABAN STORAGE CO.
Storage, Moving, Packing, Household Goods. W. A. 2701.

Back In, 1884 IN HORSE AND BUGGY DAYS

Campbell's Coal Business Was Started

Our equipment was one small yard and one mule-cart—but we sold the best coal we could find—as we do today.

Atlanta has grown into a great city, and Campbell's has kept pace. Thirty trunk telephone lines reach our ten widely separated yards through our central switchboard. A large fleet of trucks and wagons speed deliveries.

When Atlanta thinks of coal it thinks of "Campbell's."

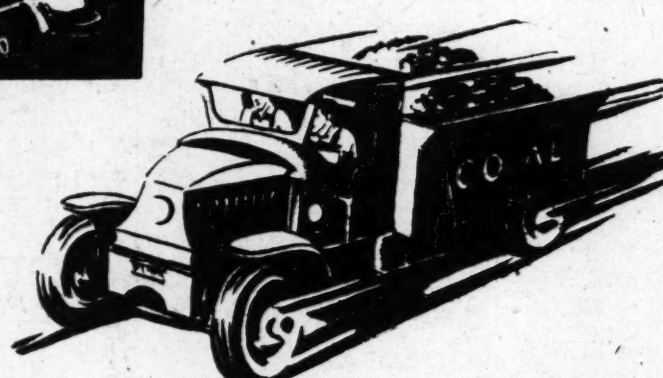

Campbell customers of "horse and buggy days" are still using Campbell coal—and thousands of new ones. Because—

IT WAS GOOD COAL THEN
IT IS GOOD COAL NOW.

CAMPBELL COAL CO.
JA. 5000 240 Marietta St

Phone For Your Coal TODAY!

WE HAVE NOT ADVANCED TO WINTER PRICES

Jellico Coal Co., Inc.

NEW LOCATION

217 Ten Pryor St. Bldg.
CORNER EDGEWOOD AVE. AND PRYOR STREET

SAME PHONE NUMBER

JA. 2057

SUPPLYING ATLANTA QUALITY
COAL FOR OVER 25 YEARS

Prompt and Efficient Service